At Sunday Services Goes Reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln and Tells of War-Time Experiences.

The regular eleven o'clock service in the Hoover Club auditorium yesterday morning was addressed by Major-General W. H. Howland, Commissioner of the Eleventh Army Corps of the Union forces during the Civil War. General Howland told a story of his reminiscence through the years of the war. He has been known officially as a lecturer, author, and as founder of Lincoln Memorial University, an institution shining the name of Tennessee, in whose interests General Howland has spent the best part of his life since the war.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. Martin F. Haggard, Provost of the Pedagogic in the University. General Howland's address was in the form of a series of personal reminiscences of Abraham Lincoln. He said in part:

"When I first met Mr. Lincoln he had come out to watch my regiment parade. In his brilliant presence I was reviewing the troops of all parts of the country. I was struck by his search of knowledge, and, in his visits among the troops he distributed encouragement broadcast. Mr. Lincoln was the epitome of brotherly kindness. He greeted his friends with both hands outstretched, and he always had a kind word for a man, even at times when defeated."

"The President was kind, but he was also a firm believer in discipline. He was temperate in his speech at the battle of Bull Run. The afternoon in the field. Lincoln displayed courage from his youth, he never failed to exercise courage. In his humor he was rugged and lusty. He has been and shall be always a big surprise. A large number of his friends he has been sent to the football squad, and his performance of the very high favor into which Pennsylvania is growing all over the world, and the University has not made him, any more strenuous efforts during the last twenty or three years, but it made this year. As to the spirit of the Pennsylvanians and of Pennsylvania institutions in prompting more and more young men every year to select her affairs, the Pennsylvania Is growing all over the country and the University are extremely bright, and the tendency among the many reported. One of the number of his friends, and making up the large audiences that we have, the members more fully occupy their correct place."

"We have, in great measure, assisted by the enthusiasm and loyalty of the undergraduates, who, it seems, have been sparing no effort to convince our friends that Pennsylvania is growing all over the country and the University are extremely bright, and the tendency among the many reported. One of the number of his friends, and making up the large audiences that we have, the members more fully occupy their correct place."

nail, Samuel Ellis.

Song Night and Smoker.

There will be a song night and smoker in the auditorium of Houson Hall to-morrow evening. Dr. Smith will show his "Picture Book" and give a talk.

It is especially desired that the new men come out and learn the songs.
Later in the year periodical song meetings will be held by the club, as last year, and a competition for new songs
similar to that of last year will probably be held.

Third Year Medical Nominations.

Nominations for officers of the third-year class of the Medical Department have been made and the election will be held early this week. The nominates are: President—William G. Ken
non. Archibald R. Olipp. Vice-president—Jay D. Whidham, Michael A.

Bi-Monthly Swimming Races.

On Thursday evening, October 18th, will be held the first of the semi-monthly swimming meets in the gymnasium pool, for which prizes are awarded at the end of the year.
Among other events there will be a one-length race, open to novices.
Freshmen and all others who are new to the tank are especially invited to compete.

New Franklin Field Flag.

During the intermission of Saturday's football game a new Red and Blue flag was unfurled from the pole
at the southwest end of Franklin Field. The "Red and Blue" and "Hall Pennsylvania," were sung by the students during the ceremony.

have violated the laws of good taste,
he is at least entitled to the credit of having the right idea, that Freshmen

The Reading Hour

It is always more pleasant in cheerful surroundings and with good light. There is no light that shines so soft or so intense a glow, and at the same time taxes the eyes so little, as the Electric Lamp in combination with the proper shade. An Electric Portable is a necessity on a study table. We invite your inspection of the various electrical lamps in our show room.

Intercollegiate Cross-Country Races. Pennsylvania will continue the cross-country races that have been such a feature of the fall season in this city, the first direct result of which was seen in the magnificent running of M. Sheppard, who started in these races, and this year they promise to be even more popular than they were last year. Schools and academies are just beginning to recognize the great importance of cross-country work. The races that have been planned by Pennsylvania will be as follows:

October 27th—Intercollegiate handicap. Entries close October 26th. Six prizes.
November 5th—Intercollegiate handicap. Entries close October 27th. Six prizes.
November 17th—Intercollegiate Freshman and novice handicap team and individual race. Entries close November 24th. Trophy to winning team; five individual prizes and prizes for the first two teams.

November 29th, Thanksgiving Day—Team and individual Intercollegiate cross-country championship of America. Entries close November 23rd. Prizes as in the November 17th race. All of these races will be given by the Athletic Association of this University, but there will be other events for the schoolboys. The Amateur Athletic Mark will give an open handicap run, in which the boys may enter. The interscholastic championship race is scheduled for November 24th, while the Philadelphia Intercollegiate will also probably hold their race some time late in November.

Four Crews Out on the River.

Meetings of Camera Club Committees.

The following committees of the Camera Club will meet this week:

News of the College World.

—Coach Yost, of Michigan, was a spectator at the game on Saturday.

—Chicago University has formed a "success" team. About twenty-five men reported.

—The fall track meet at Princeton was a great success. The time made in all events was good. In the 120 yards hurdles Causer won in the final time of 16.4.5 seconds.
