ADDRESS BY DR. J. C. M CRACKEN

SPEAKS ON NEW UNIVERSITY MEDICAL SCHOOL IN CHINA.

At Houston Club Service S. M. Zew. 23rd Ave., F. P. Y. L. Approve of Speaker's Plan.

Dr. J. C. M. Cracken, in his address at yesterday's meeting of the Houston Club, said:

"Dr. J. C. M. Cracken, 81

University is doing in Canton, China, where it is establishing a Chinese Medical School. In speaking of China and his missionary work there, Dr. Cracken said:

"The disciples of Christ, as soon as they could, even at the cost of their foreign missions; so must we. Many great work-builders in the Church today do not spend fifteen minutes a day in prayer or reading His word. In college the students take up basket ball and other athletic activities. The Freshman football team is therefore stronger this year than previously. The games with Pennsylvania, Princeton, and Stanford, are the most important this season. Owing to the new Freshman eligibility rule the first five games will take place in the spring when a large proportion of the representative men of both classes could not be kept out of the fight by reason of their other activities. Last spring, for instance, all the cross country and track and Field events were kept out by their respective men. It is for this reason that class rivalry is more keen and spontaneous in the fall than in the spring and for this reason a better "scrap" should result."
The Architectural Society on Friday evening gave the largest smoker in the history of the society, about one hundred and twenty-five men being present. Boyd, 1907, welcomed the new men, and addresses were made by Professor Laird, Director of the Department, and Professor Osborne, who holds the chair of Archeology. A Dutch supper was served about ten o’clock, and the remainder of the evening pleasantly passed.

COLLEGE LETTERS.
Today we print the first of a series of letters from colleges and universities throughout the country, and we hope by this new feature to familiarize our readers with the latest developments and activities at our sister institutions of learning.

COMMENTS.
The Pennsylvaniaian from time to time receives letters from graduates, students and others on current topics, and it heartily encourages such criticisms, endorsements or other sentiments as may be submitted, but not for publication except where so intended, and merely to show the true intentions of the writer.

Architects Give Smoker.
The Architectural Society on Friday evening gave the largest smoker in the history of the society, about one hundred and twenty-five men being present. The right kind of goods at fair college business is probably the Heeds' and their College Men's Wear and OUTFITTINGS. Nothing is gained without individual and group work. The new University will use the apparatus this year in the investigation of the minute structure of the lower organisms. The ultra-violet raya have the shortest wave length, and give an object when magnified to twice its size, a distinctness equal to that given by daylight. This greatly increases the practical magnification of an object. The apparatus, which is installed in the dark room of the Biological Laboratory, is in the immediate charge of H. G. Cribbs, a research student in that department. The light used is furnished by an electric spark, magnesium and cadmium electrodes being used. The light from these sparks is separated by two prisms into several cones of uniform wave length. Any of these cones can be used in connection with a microscope to take pictures of a high degree of magnification combined with distinctness. The violet and ultra-violet cones, which are the most useful, are entirely invisible. The ultra-violet rays have the shortest wave length, and give an object when magnified to twice its size, a distinctness equal to that given by daylight. This greatly increases the practical magnification of an object. The apparatus is the invention of Dr. Kohler.

Dean Penniman's Chapel Speech.

After the regular chapel exercises Friday Dean Penniman spoke of the work of Provost Harrison in building up the University, and mentioned in no uncertain terms the part he played in securing for the College the new Engineering building. "There can be no more lasting monument to the memory of our beloved Provost's name," he said, "than such a building as this. The new building represents not only the best—it is that—but the noblest and finest that could be procured for Pennsylvania students. It is a great contribution to the civilizing influences that direct the progress of the world, and marks a forward step in the history of civilization. Although the development of the world's resources is dependent upon the engineer, his work is not entirely material, for it is guided by the same spirit of progress that advances all other lines of human activity."

Zeis Elects New Members.

Despite the inclement weather Friday evening the Zeisophie Society held an enthusiastic meeting. Five new members were elected—C. E. Paxson, '99 C.; P. C. Visscher, '19 C.; D. C. Schermornon, '10 C.; T. C. Carey, '19 C., and W. G. Schermornon, '99 L. Chester G. Bandman, '97 C., was elected vice-president, to take the place of G.udson Barker, resigned. Several more new members were proposed for membership. W. R. Murphy gave a humorous talk on economics. M. H. Wilkeson read an amusing essay. W. B. Watson read an amusing essay from the archives of the society, written about 1840. After the meeting three new members were initiated.

'99 L. Elects Officers.

On Friday '99 L. elected the following officers: President, J. B. Lichtening-borger; vice-president, Carmichael; secretary, D. Alexander; treasurer, E. Biddle.

An Enterprising Man. Mr. Tony Ming Swin of Angola's most distinguished theatrical artist, began his career at this University four years ago in that well known University Club.

With barely enough work to keep himself together at that time, he realized that there was a large field for ultimate success.

He pays close attention to details in management, cleanliness and quality of work, he attracted the admiration of both students and faculty.

The Pennsylvania Shop, at 21st and Broad, avenue, of which Mr. Marcus is proprietor, has been newly reconditioned, and is now the loss of speed and maneuvering. The editor in West Philadelphia, Breden, in this week has the article "The first time in the East the Fromkin House service which requires all our barbers to work alike—fine materials and greater expense.

"The Rollicking Girl" is one of the newest musicals that not only sell a lot to a general audience, but is so unusual in interest, that it is well put together, costumed and staged that it will live and improve with the years. Like old fashioned Nanceville, is winning this property from Mr. James W. Freistadt, also took over many of the original cast that made the success of the play in New York, in combination with all the scenery, costumes and effects, which are far from ordinary in a musical production. "The Rollicking Girl" is the attraction that has been secured by Manager Nirdlinger for the Park this week.

The usual Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees will be given.

Waltz — "The Clansman."

"The Clansman" will be the attraction at the Walnut Street Theatre for this week. This production created much comment during its first visit to this city, and did comes as much in the original story, which is the original one of the picture and the vigorous methods for a contribution of political power which so triumphantly put into force in south Carolina in the reconstruction days. The Klu Klauee, course, lend an unusually picturesque background to the work.

Garrick — "Brigadier Gerard."

"Brigadier Gerard," with Katie Belcher in the title role, will continue as the bill at the Garrick Theatre for the current week, being the final one of its engagement here. The piece is Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's dramatization of his stories of the Casumpurg, which brings the trusted emissary of Napoleon. His loyalty to the great general is one of the most winning attributes in a personality which it would not otherwise well to take seriously. Katie Belcher is well suited to the part, and is supported by a company of whom its production and Henry Harmon are conspicuous.
