NEW VETERINARY BUILDING IS IN COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION

PHENOMENAL GROWTH SINCE FOUNDING OF SCHOOL IN 1884.

State Legislature Appropriates One Hundred Thousand Dollars—Large Clinic Rooms and Laboratories.

The Veterinary School, though one of the smallest departments in the University, is contributing its share to the growth of Pennsylvania, which is now attracting such wide attention. With the largest freshman class in the history of the school, and a building in progress of erection which will be one of the largest and best equipped school in the United States for veterinary medicine.

The hospital work, Dean Leonard Pearson, looks back with satisfaction on years of hard work and unremitting labor and forward with hope of years of usefulness for the school.

The new Veterinary building at the corner of Thirty-ninth street and Woodland avenue has been made possible by an appropriation of $100,000 by the State Legislature. It is on the site of the old department as now occupied. The building will be in the north portion of the school property. When completed, the new school will comprise a full block.

The building also contains laboratories for teaching and for research work, a lecture room, library, office, clinics, operating rooms and part of the hospital equipment planned for both large and small animals. With enlarged capacity, the Veterinary Hospital expects to do more work.

More than $100,000 has been invested in the construction of that of the recent additions to Pennsylvania's equipment or as Dr. Pearson puts it, "the prosperity of the school is directly responsible for the fact that the building is a reality."

The architects are Messrs. Cope & Stewardson. Among the departments, the Medical laboratories, the Engineering building, and other buildings in the neighborhood of the veterinary school, is to be of the English collegiate style of architecture, popular in the eighteenth century. The main entrance has been put on Thirty-ninth street, owing to the probability that an elevated railroad will be built on Woodland avenue.

The ensuing class in the Veterinary Department numbers over fifty, and includes representatives of twice as large a number of foreign countries, among them Porto Rico, on the West Indies, Buenos Aires, Argentina and Roumania.

The establishment of a Department of Veterinary medicine is in common with the University was first suggested by Dr. Benjamin Rush in 1816. It was not founded, however, until 1884, when it was located at what was then Thirty-sixth and Pine streets, now Hamilton Walk, where the new Medical school now stands.

The Veterinary Department and Hospital moved into a temporary building at the southwest corner of Woodland and Thirty-ninth avenue. These quarters have been entirely inadequate, and greatly hampering the effectiveness of the department.

Students' Physician.

The students' physician for the University of Pennsylvania is Dr. Rufus B. Scarlett, who has his offices at 4406 Chestnut street.

SATURDAY FOOTBALL MATCHES

Review of Indian Game—"Soccer" and Rugby Teams Were Victorious.

The defeat of Pennsylvania on Saturday was the result of the complete mastery of the new style of play by the Indians. The new rules seem to be the direct cause of the total downfall of the Indians made. Pittsburgh's tendency to adopt the new style of play was apparent, for in the first half the Indians showed a forward pass signal. It is a question whether the conformance to the new style of play against a fast team playing the open game will prove successful. The Indian team, was able to hit the ball field and make a running pass, but the team's movements were not so effective as in the past. The Indians were slow to the ball, at least in the first half.

The game of "soccer" was played on the Thirty-ninth street grounds.

The members of the women's basketball team will be present at the table this evening for the preliminary trials held this evening.

Masks and Wigs Preliminary Trials Held This Evening

SPLENDID CHANCES FOR MEN OF TALENT WILLING TO WORK.

All Aspirants for Easter Production Should Take This First Step—Prize Play Week Before Christmas.

Stage Director Morgan, Jr., of the Mask and Wig Club, has issued the annual call for candidates, and announces the preliminary trials this evening.

The Mask and Wig Club will inaugurate the plays of 1906 and 1907 with the trial of prospective candidates this evening. At eight o'clock, at the Mask and Wig club house, 250 Quince street, the casts of the Mask and Wig productions are the results of continuous rehearsals, the first night of practice having been the preliminary trial, and the underclassmen of all departments who have been called upon by their professors to take part are called upon.

The main attraction is the weakness of our quarter-back, and in the game of 1902, our team fell before the onslaught of the Indians. The game was not the most important of the season, but as the best game played in the stadium, it was a splendid game. The Indians were quick and aggressive, and the Indians were able to hit the ball field and make a running pass, but the team's movements were not so effective as in the past. The Indians were slow to the ball, at least in the first half.

The game of "soccer" was played on the Thirty-ninth street grounds.

The members of the women's basketball team will be present at the table this evening for the preliminary trials held this evening.

HOUOTON CLUB SUNDAY SERVICE

Rev. C. C. Albertson, of Rochester, N. Y., Addressed the Undergraduates.

Dr. C. C. Albertson's subject at Houston Hall yesterday morning was "The Witness and the Testimony." It was based upon words from Acts 1: 8: "Ye shall be witnesses unto me." The speaker said that the four things in Christ's last words which impress us most are His confidence, His consciousness as the object of faith, His clear conception of the method by which faith is to be developed, and the extreme simplicity of the method.

Speaking of the plan by which Christ's faith is to be developed, Dr. Albertson declared that the first call of the Master to His disciples is to know Christ, by interior experience, and the second is to tell us what we know, the third is to recognize the world as the context in which we are expected to testify in the case of unfaith versus faith, and the fourth is to be prepared to vindicate our testimony.

The address consisted of many historical illustrations. Doubtless many students appreciated the reference to the late Henry Ward Beecher, who was a frequent speaker at Houston Hall.

The address was delivered in the Christian Association rooms at Houston Hall yesterday morning, at eight o'clock, for conference with any student who may care to talk with him.

Discussion on Religion.

Dr. John T. Young, the head of the Wartburg School faculty, has arranged a series of discussions concerning labor problems of the present day as related to the doctrines of Jesus Christ. For this purpose meetings will be held in rooms of the Christian Association, on the second floor of Houston Hall, at 7:15 o'clock Thursday evening, November 1st, 5th, 16th and 22nd, to which all students are invited.

The first meeting, on next Thursday evening, will be given up to a discussion of unionism, the platform adopted, the leaders chosen, and methods employed to accomplish the ends desired. Dr. Young will speak particularly of the union as a radical and as a conservative force.

At the second meeting, November 8th, the conditions existing in factories will be considered, with special reference to sweat shops and the employment of women and children. The social effects of the factory system as a whole, and the teaching of Jesus as they apply to the system, will be emphasized.

The evening of November 15th will be given up to the social significance of the hours of labor, teaching upon wages and the weapons of conflict—strikes, lockouts, boycotts, and the black list, and how the sermons of Christ may be taken as a guide in solving the problems presented.

At the last meeting, November 22d, Dr. Young will speak upon the point of view, contrasting emotional sympathy and the enlightened spirit of love, benevolent charity and justice, the disappearance of the industrial, and rise of the group, justice between groups, the rise of normal respect.

These discussions are to be informal, and it is hoped that all men interested in labor and social questions will attend. In order to aid in solving problems arising in the minds of different men, Dr. Young requests that questions be brought up in the meetings, which he will try to answer.

was made by M. Tilden toward the end of the first half. Although Penn- silvania missed many chances through lack of cool recklessness, there was no more scoring during the second half. Just as the whistle blew

The University team was made up largely of former Country Club players. Bricker played with Belmoni, Ewing, Wood, and Montgomery with Merton, and Pleasants with Haverford College. Of our Morris played a brilliant game, and was hard pressed for honors by Captain Keating, Montgomery, Shoemaker, Weiss, Piper, and Wildows. Although handicapped by the absence of Captain Philip Le Roy through illness, the Cricket Club played a good game. Tilden, Barker, and Cartwright excelling. The Pennsylvania line up:

Bricker, goal; Ewing, right full-

On Saturday afternoon, at Thirty- nine street and Midvale avenue, the University Rugby football team, composed of English students at the College, won their initial game from the Falls of Schuylkill team by the score of ten points to zero, or two goals to zero.

In view of the small amount of practice that the team has had and the strength of their opponents, the University team played a surprisingly strong game, and the passing on the part of the three-quarters was especially commendable.

The University team lost the toss, and in the first half was compelled to play against a strong wind. Hunter obtained the first try, from which Pope kicked a difficult goal. In the second half Bull earned an attempt and Pope again scored. The Pennsylvania line up:

F. Furnsworth, full-back; H. H.

Hunter, T. T. Barber, C. Roney, D.

Duscher, three-quarters; F. O. Popo, half-back; F. F. Brown, E. V. Nicho-son (captain), E. Llewellyn, R. Black,

P. C. Tilha, F. Watson, R. A. Ball, J.

Duthupole, G. K. Butcher, forwards.

The Freshmen were defeated by Haverford School $4, owing to the unsuspected strength of the visitors and the general spirit of the Freshmen before Thursday's hard game with Swarthmore.

George Barr McCutcheon's "Brewster's Millions" will be offered this week at the Garrick Theatre by Managers Thompson and Bundy, promoters and builders of the New York Hippodrome and owners and operators of Luna Park. One of the features is a ship scene, devised by Thompson, and said to be a marvel of stagecraft.

The dramatization of the novel was done by Winchell Smith and Byron Orsly. Edward Abbe is the leading man of the company, which includes such well-known actors as George

Peabody, Joseph Woodward, William

Hawe, Nestor Lemon, Gaston Bell,

bert Backett, George Ridgell, George

Clare, Misses Mary Ryan, Olive Murray, Emily Lyons, Credle Maher and

An Entertaining Man. Mr. Tony Moscato, one of America's most distinguished theatrical artists, began his career at this University four years ago in the Houston Club. Though barely enough work to keep him busy on the stage, he really realized that there was a large field for ultimate success. Always paying close attention to details in management, co-ordination and quality of work, he attracted the attention of both students and faculty.

The Pennsylvania Shop, at 2643 Woodland avenue, of which Mr. Moscato is proprietor, has been newly reconstructed and will be new both on the inside and outside. It will be one of the most well equipped theatrical and ministering establishments in the city. Opening this week he will introduce for the first time in the East the Frankenstein House service of Milwaukee, Wis, a service which requires all the backing in work which finer materials and greater expense.
