ENTHUSIASTIC MASS MEETING HELD IN THE TRIANGLE
CHEERING OF THE ROUSING SORT AND NEW SONGS PRACTICED.

Largest Crowd of the Year Gathered in the Dormitory Enclosure—Students to Meet the Team.

The most enthusiastic mass meeting of the year was held last night in the dormitory triangle, the students completely filling the upper half of the enclosure. Lloyd P. Jones and John Brown, as news was crowded for the various choirs, the students responding with the greatest amount of spirit and enthusiasm, each cheer being given with snap and force. Before choir songs Bong Leader E. P. DeVan led the students in the singing of the latest parodies and also some of the old ones. There were several Michigan men present, and the new cheer was given for them with a will.

During an intermission in the cheering Choir Leader L. P. Jones said: "Last Saturday there was some mistake in the removal of hats during the songs. The only time that hats are to be removed is during the singing of "Half Pennsylvanian," and during the chorus of "Tie Red and Blue," and then they are to be waved." Jones strongly urged upon the undergraduates the fact that an extremely poor effect results where a cheer or song is discontinuined during an exciting play.

The program for to-day is as follows: The undergraduates will meet in the triangle this morning at 10:30, and then under the leadership of Zorn Brown, will go to meet the team as it returns from Window Junction Saturday night, and give it a rousing reception. The men in turn will accompany the team to the training house, 226 West street, where a mass meeting will be held. At 12:30 McKee will address the gathering, asking them to be in the cheering sections, and the remainder of the day before the game will be spent in cheering and dressing up.

The team will arrive at the training house at 1:30 this morning.

Junior Class Meets.

The Junior Class meeting, held yesterday in Room 205, College Hall, was devoted largely to a discussion of the Junior week celebration, which commences a week from Monday. Frank A. Paul, chairman of the sub-committee on benefit theatre party, reported on the plans for the Pennsylvania night. The Cheesman, November 26th, and was able to announce that the tickets, which are in the hands of a group of Juniors, were selling rapidly. Paul R. Hillman, the general chairman, outlined the program of the week, which has no less than twice as many functions this year as ever before, Lloyd T. Emerson, chairman of the Dance Committee, reported that arrangements are being made for a very successful Junior Ball in the gymnasium this year, and will be held the night of November 26th. Students, who has no less than twice as many functions this year as ever before, Lloyd T. SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1908.

Coaches and undergraduates share a confidence that Pennsylvania will win today. Let everyone of us help the team from the moment it arrives until time is called this afternoon.

The most important contest of the season the University football team meets the Michigan eleven on Franklin Field today. Both sides appear to be in the same form and are right on edge for the fray. To the Michigan players and supporters we extend a most cordial welcome on behalf of the authorities and undergraduates.

For the first time since the University of Michigan has been acknowledged the champion of Western football, an opportunity will be given today to compare her prowess with that of the East. Today’s game, however, is not the first that the Wolverines have played on Franklin Field, for in former times her team came East annually to play Princeton, Harvard, the Indians, Lafayette and others. Only game here was close, the University winning by the narrow margin of one point and a score of 11 to 10. This memorable game took place on Franklin Field, Saturday, November 11, 1899. The University had suffered and defeat the week before at the hands of Harvard and previous to that by the Indians and Lafayette. On the morning of the battle The Pennsylvania predicted: “Michigan is noted for her great staying qualities, but the least angular of Penn- sylvania’s supporters cannot fail to feel that the tide will turn today, or that we will, at least, tie any score of our opposite.” The Michigan team had been champions of the West the year before. Our captain was the famous Hare. Toon, McCracken and Coome were particular stars for the University. Overfield completely outplayed at centre Cunningham, of Michi- gain, who had displaced him as the All-Missouri selection for the position.

The University’s “unquilted individual players” won by depending upon team work. Her second touchdown and goal were made in the last five minutes of play.

In the same year Michigan defeated the University in baseball by the score of 4-1 and in the heat by 52. In 1902 we had played baseball with the Wolverines and beaten them 5-2, Roy Thomas, “W. C” Coogan and George McFadden playing on our team. For all of these meetings the Westerlies have traveled to Franklin Field. Our teams never yet have been West.

It is unfortunate that at the present meeting neither Michigan nor the University are at their best so far as the past records of this season are concerned. Compared to other Western University teams Michigan is without a peer, but at the same time her position has not been as unassailable as for several years past. The University has not the championship record of 1904 and 1905, having been defeated by Swarthmore and the Indians and tied by Lafayette. It is probable that Michigan today is superior to any other eleven in the West, while it is certain that the University in her present form could easily defeat any team she has played in the present excellence of both teams. Therefore, lies the chief interest of to- day’s game, and not in the season’s records.

The tide is not very remote when Eastern and Western colleges would be absolutely separated that they had little but their Americanism in common. There was no intercommunication between the institutions east and west of the Alleghenies; there were no dual track meets, no intercollegiate games or races. The tendency of even one decade ago is amply illustrated by the mere existence of such widely accepted designation as the “Big Four” in the East and the “Big Nine” in the West. The cardinal idea in the expression “Big Four” is that the four big Eastern universities have segregated themselves into a sort of separate brotherhood, sanctioned, of course, by popular approval.

All this localism is rapidly disappearing. It has been said that the railroad made Boston and San Francisco next-door neighbors. The facilities of transportation and communication have made it possible for colleges East and West to be brought together in close relationships, and the liberal “American” spirit of the undergraduates at the institutions has done the rest. The Western colleges, such as Michigan, Northwestern, Wisconsin, Chicago and others of equal rank are sending teams and crews East and West and to be brought together in close relationships, and the liberal “American” spirit of the undergraduates at the institutions has done the rest. PENN AND MICHIGAN SCORES

Visitors' Season Limited by Faculty Resume of This Year's Games.

In the first game of the season, Michigan easily defeated Case Scientific School, of Cleveland, Ohio, October 30th, with a score of 25-0. The game was played on a field that was in excellent condition.

On October 13th a well-contested game resulted in a defeat at the hands of the University of Pennsylvania. The team played well, but was scored on the second half by P.ST.s.

In spite of this defeat a reaction seemed to have set in, followed by victories over Brown and Medico Chi, which were very encouraging to the team's supporters.

All hope for improvement, however, seemed blighted by the game with the Californians. In this contest the team went to pieces, playing very poorly. After a two weeks' rest, the most hopeful game of the year was played. Lafayette was much heavier, but Pennsylvanians by most excellent team work and good form played her adversary to a standstill.

In the opening game with Lehigh the playing of the team was very satisfactory for the beginning of the season. Considerable surprise and disappointment was felt at the outcome of the contest with Gettysburg. Lack of team work was responsible for the tie.

A return to form was felt in the games with the University of North Carolina and Franklin and Marshall. Both games were well played, and showed an excellent improvement in team work and knowledge of the new game.
TEAM TRIES PRINCETON COURSE

Cross-Country Runners Left To-day to Practice Over the New Route.

In order to become familiar with the new intercollegiate cross-country course Captain Root took Jones, Haskins, Beck, Ivy, Morris and Stanton to Princeton, N. J., to-day. The men will take a slow practice run over the course on which the intercollegiate championship will be decided on November 28th. The old course on Travers’ Island has been permanently abandoned in favor of the New Jersey route.

George Orton, coach of the team, was very much disappointed at the poor weather conditions on Thursday, when the trial race was held. He believes, however, that with a nucleus of Root, Haskins, Jones and Beck from last year’s team to work with, Pennsylvania should win the championship this year.

Dr. Van Dyke at Sunday Services.

Henry Van Dyke, L. D. D., Litt. D., of Princeton University, who spoke in the auditorium of the Houston Club last Sunday, will again be the speaker at the same place to-morrow. Dr. Van Dyke addressed the largest audience of the season last week in spite of the bad weather, and owing to this fact, only the Faculty and students of the University will be allowed to attend to-morrow’s services, which will commence at eleven o’clock.

Dr. Van Dyke is known throughout the United States as a most forceful and prominent speaker and author. He was the creator of University Day last February.

BOWL FIGHT DATE UNCHANGED

Undergraduate Committee Answers Recent Criticism of Its Decision.

At the October meeting of the Undergraduate Committee it was decided to hold the bowl fight about Thanksgiving—the date will probably be the Monday or Tuesday following. This change was made after full deliberation and discussion among the upper classes and with the unanimous approval of the Senior, Junior and Sophomore representatives on the committee; the Freshman member was not present, although notified of the meeting.

The reasons which influenced the committee to make this change were many, most important among which were the following: In the spring the members of the baseball, track, crew and Mask and Wig would be prevented from entering the fight; the bowl fight should mark the close of the passing period, and the undying rivalry is very much more keen in the fall; no custom requires the holding of the fight at Easter, as it was originally held during February, and gradually became later and later on account of the inability to secure available dates.

The only argument advanced in opposition to these is the possibility of inclement weather and the supposed necessity of fighting in April conditions. For these reasons the Undergraduate Committee is unwilling to change the date decided upon. Signed: Edward Hoptkinson, Jr., president of the Undergraduate Committee.

Tournament Postponed Until Spring.

Owing to the poor condition of the tennis courts the unfinished matches will not be played until April. The drawings will be kept until the tournament is resumed.

PHILOMATEHAN SOCIETY MEETS

All Arrangements Have Been Completed to Debate with Haverford.

The Philomatehan Society held their regular meeting last evening after attending the mass meeting in full force. The main debate in the serics held by the society during this term was upon the subject, "Resolved, That the present administration is spending too much money on the Navy." The affirmative—C. G. Franzen, '98, P. Strauss, '90, and A. W. Smith, 99—won. It was a close debate. T. W. Brown, '98, W. R. White, '98, and H. Goossen, '99, opposed the negative. Frank A. Paul, '98, presided over the literary exercises, and Mark J. Ingle, '97, read the current events. The Debate Committee reported the arrangements of a debate with Haverford, to be held at Philadelphia in April.

C. F. Kichhardt, '98, E. A. Kichhardt, '98, and Harold Whitesides, '19, were initiated.

Architectural Prize Awarded.

Penn's New Training House.

Early last spring work on the new training house at Thirty-third and Marion streets was necessarily dis- continued on account of the lack of required funds which then amounted to $12,746. Now, though the building is going up slowly, it seems that finances in that quarter are in a somewhat better condition than they were last spring. The house, which when completed will fit well into the architectural scheme of Franklin Field, was designed by Mr. Horace Field, a graduate of Pennsylvania. It will contain bed rooms and a study on the second and third floors to accommodate twenty-four athletes. The first floor, with its lounging room and dining hall, will furnish facilities for at least sixty athletes and will also have rooms for the coaches. The basement, high and well lighted, will be so arranged as to afford an excellent kitchen, pantry, engine room and servants' quarters.

Medical Hall.

The American Medical Society met last night and listened to members of the society on interesting medical subjects.

Grand.—"Me, Him and I." A perfectly captivating piece of real, unshuffled fun and delightful melody is provided in "Me, Him and I" for those who enjoy performances in the Grand Opera House during this season. The three principal comedians impersonate the remains of a "beaten" Indian medicine show, and arrive at Seattle on a handcart. A wealthy Westerner is taking a party on his yacht to the Northwest to inspect mining property, and the three stranded showmen force their company on the unexpected party and arrive at Dallas City, where they have a pretty lively time with the ladies of the Western Charlie, principal stock company of the Future Dog Slaughter.

Of course the travesty on the comical Italian band leader, Creature, is one of the great hits of the comedy, and the most amusingly impersonated by Billy W. Watson, while the composition of Eleven halls added greatly to the gaiety of the novelty.

Albert J. Peterson, Student Tailor, Albert J. Peterson, tailor and importer, 501 Walnut street. We have for the past fifteen years almost exclusively catered to the student trade, and have given the best of satisfaction.

At the meeting of the year we have bought largely of foreign and domestic fabrics, including the most nobly styled that we could secure, and would appreciate your coming in and looking over our stock before selecting elsewhere. The usual 10 per cent. off.

W. H. Embick & Sons.

The 10 per cent. student reduction, announced in your Houston City Bank Misc. on Embick's Chart, is a reduction in prices $1 to $10 less per suit than their prices of last season. We have selected looking over coming in a week's time with kinder prices $5 to $10 less per suit than their prices of last season. Selecting fabrics, including those meet nobby imported largely of foreign and domestic, we can offer a splendid regular stock.

CORNFELL LETTER.

Ibaca, N. Y., November 10th.—Two more games remain to be played on the schedule of the University foot ball teams—Swarthmore here tomorrow and the University of Pennsylvania on Thanksgiving Day. These two games are undoubtedly among the few important contests this season, and both teams are working in preparation for them. Last Saturday the team defeated Holy Cross by a score of 16 to 6 through a splendid rally in the second half when the score stood 6 to 5 against them. This was one of the finest examples of re- covery ever seen in football history. The ball game on Percy Field will pull a victory out of defeat. The team is well composed this year, although a number of players are on the sick list from a severe illness. The entire squad will be in uniform for the Swarthmore game.

The college's University Marathon race which was held here last Saturday was undoubtedly the most important track event of the fall. The finish of the race surpassed all expectations for fun. Clarence Glinp, of the cross-country team, crossed the line in a thirsty manner and was followed with a fraction of a second by three other runners. The University, exhaustive year, is slowly getting into form for the intercollegiate league at the end of this month.

The Student football team defeated the Junior team last week and the Freshman team was defeated by the Sophomores. The Senior and the Sophomore teams will therefore play this week for the Interclass championship.

A new athletic song, entitled "The Cornell and Yale," by Bert Doff, 97, and Kenneth Roberts, 98, will be published this week. It promises to surpass the popular song, "The Big Red Team," in popularity. The song will be sung for the first time at the Pennsylvania game. The same composers are writing the music for this year's Masque play, "Pantaloon," which will be staged during Junior week.

Kiliman Appointed to Committee.

Provost Harrison yesterday ap- pointed Paul R. Kiliman, 98 C., as the representative of the student body on the provost's advisory committee, to fill the vacancy caused by the graduation of Byron A. Miller, 96. This completes the roll of the committee, the hold-over mem- bers being Frank F. Walls, 98 Arts; Roy A. Helton, 98 Arts; Charles E. H. Bickham, 98 Arts, and Martin H. Bidwell, 98 Arts. Kiliman is the third Wharton School student who has received the coveted Provost's appointment since debating was placed in the hands of an under- graduate committee in 1904. He is chairman of the Junior Committee of the SPSA (Spalding's Student Press Association), an officer of the Wharton Association, and a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

Freeman Pin Committee.

The 1910 Pin Committee held a meeting yesterday in Houston Hall 115. Designs were submitted and the men urged to have all the designs in before the next meeting, which will be held next week.
