The spectacle of several raw undergraduates—most of them no doubt Freshmen—accompanied by an equal number of hoodlums and small boys, making noise and yells at the street intervals. These songs which are or should be snaped to the camps and its environments, parading the streets of a large city, holding up street cars, making noisy vocal assaults upon hotels and clubs, annoying pedestrians, and preventing the free effort make up the performances for which they have paid. It is a question indefinitely. It is Wrong from every point of view, and most regrettable of all, it is a very false story of the good name of our University.

We are fighting towards as those give to the graduates of other universities living in Philadelphia the opportunity they seem so eager of—of seeing our our manners, our methods, and our unenlightened spirit. The members of the Senior Classes in the University should see to it that this marching in the streets shall cease; it should be a matter of pride with you to create the matter of a kind before the University authorities take a hand.

"Sophomore Day: Bowl Fight.

There was a large attendance at the customary Bowl Fight meeting yesterday, to ascertain the feeling regarding the holding of the Bowl Fight this fall.

F. L. Ballard, chairman of the Bowl Fight Committee, brought out the advantage which could be obtained if the contest came off the day after the Sophomore-Freshman football game when class feeling was still high. He also pointed out the advantage of Philadelphia College buildings if you must—we will try to rebuild them—but for the sake of economy we have turned over our mansions, our methods, and our unenlightened spirit. The members of the Senior Classes in the University should see to it that this marching in the streets shall cease; it should be a matter of pride with you to create the matter of a kind before the University authorities take a hand.

"Freshman Class Meeting Today.

There will be a meeting of the Freshman Class in the Harrison Laboratory at 11:15 today. Signed: A. W. Smith, president.
University Debate Committee. The University Debate Committee at its meeting yesterday morning devoted to propose the graduated income tax as the subject for the triangular debate between Pennsylvania, Columbia and Cornell this year. It is proposed to discuss the question on both constitutional and economic grounds, though the exact wording has not been decided on. Each of the three universities must propose a question by December 7th, when they will select one of the three questions by lot.

The committee also authorized R. Otisberg, chairman of the Freshman Debate Committee, to use the name, “Freshman Class of the University of Pennsylvania” in negotiating with the Freshman Class of Princeton or any other college provided he does so with the advice and consent of the chairman and secretary of the University Debate Committee.

Paul R. Killam, Jr., was elected treasurer and Frank A. Paul, '08 Arts, secretary of the University Debate Committee.

Line Up Of Tickets.

Two hundred men were lined up on figure street yesterday morning when the ticket office opened for the exchange of coupons for the Cornell game. This is the largest number of men that has lined up for reserved seats in the healing sections since the Harvard game last year. The first in line took their places the night before at nine o'clock. A big five in the street made it comfortable for the watchers doing their turn at relating. The exchange of coupons for the Cornell game will continue up to the same.

The cheering section has been exended one section further west, and seats were assigned yesterday morning in P.

The public sale starts next Monday. No coupons will be exchanged for the Army and Navy game after Sat-day.

Dental Bowlers Win Match.

Yesterday’s bowling tournament between ’09 L. and ’09 D. teams at Houston Club alleys resulted in a victory for the ’09 L. bowlers. The scores and totals follow:

’09 L.—J. C. O’Callaghan, 112 127 189; J. B. Melton, 315 144 112; M. Chrismian, 158 155 149; T. Marks, 100 102 127; H. A. Moore, 114 122 155. Totals, 596 620 585.

Lunch for the team will be at 11:15 at the training house, 5:28 Walnut street. Provo’s Reception Tonight.

In the Museum of Science and Art at eight o’clock this evening the Pro-voct and Mrs. Harrison will receive all members of the Freshman Classes and other men in the University for the first year. Professors Edgar F. Smith will present the students to Provost and Mrs. Harrison. There will be no formal addresses, but refreshments will be served during the reception.

Flanders Lecture Postponed.

Owing to the ceremonies attending the rebiefal of James Wilson, founder of the Pennsylvania Law School, the second of the present series of Flanders Lectures, which was to have been given yesterday in Prize Hall, has been postponed until Thursday, Deember 6th.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1906.

Now that the boardwalks through the campu.

s have been arranged in their places a word in regard to the Freshman regulations should be announced. Sometime ago the Undergraduate Committee undertook the task of regulating the rights and de-ties of the members of the entering class. Among other rules formulated and announced at that time was one in regard to the boardwalks, which is indeed worthy of repetition at this time: “All Freshmen shall step to one side of the boardwalk and off, if necessary, to allow the passage of upperclassmen.”

We are very much pleased to see that the “black cap” regulation is bening complied with, and we sincerely ask the cooperation of all undergraduates in enforcing the other rules of the committee, of which the “board walks” one is the most important.

Tonight the annual reception is the members of the first-year class in each department of the University will be given in the Museum of Science and Art, on figure street. The Provoct and Mrs. Harrison succeed each year in setting aside their many engagements and spending at least one evening with the men who are just beginning their career at Pennsylvania.

Aside from the fact that the reception is the last function of the kind for the members of the Class of 1910, it behooves every member of the entering classes to attend this evening.

It gives everyone a chance to personally meet and converse with one of the most prominent men in the educational circles of the country—a man who has done more for the University than any other man, and whose shares with him a deep interest of our alma mater.

Freshman Pin Committee.

There will be an important meeting of the Freshman Pin Committee on Monday, at 3:30, in Room 3, third floor of Houston Club. All members arrange to attend. Signed: Fitzgerald, chairman.

Mask and Wig Plans.

All arrangements for the football smoker and Christmas play at the Mask and Wig Club have now been made. The casts have been chosen and the work of rehearsing is progressing rapidly. On December 5th the football smoker will take place, when graduate members of the club will give a performance at the Christmas prize play, "Going Back to College," written by T. B. Donaldson. The cast will be as follows: "Heidi," Mr. T. B. Donaldson; "Walt," Mr. R. J. O'Neal; "Jack," Mr. A. R. Lastow; "Bob," Mr. C. S. Morgan, Jr.; "Mary," Mr. L. A. Melton.

The football smoker plans are as follows: Of the two casts of candidates now selected, all will have a dress rehearsal on December 13th and give their performance on December 15th. The other cast will have its performance on December 21st. From these two casts Mr. Charles Snyder Morgan, Jr., will pick a cast for the final performance on Saturday, December 24th.

Cross Country Trials Today.

Owing to the fact that the new stand—built for the Army and Navy games—extends over the track, the cross-country trials for today will be held at the National Park. The team will leave for Fairmount Park about three o'clock and proceed from there in the track.

The alumni, in order to encourage the cross-country runners, have given three gold medals to the winners of today's contest. The first men who lead in the races will be taken to Princeton on November 26th to compete in the intercollegiate races to be held on that date.

The principal contestants in the races today are Captain Root, Hackman, Jones, Morris, Ivy, Beck, White, Laine, O'Neal, Willis, and Blanton.

Fencing Tournament Plans.

The fencing tournament will be held on Monday, November 26th, in the fencing room of the gymnasium. At eight o'clock, in order to trade new fencers. M. Terone, the instructor, and L. Fincher, captain of the team, need morematerial if they are to turn out a winning team. An entrance fee of twenty-five cents to club members and fifty cents to others will be charged contestants, in order to purchase a suitable trophy for the winner. All entries must be in before next Thursday and fees handed to R. G. Park, manager.

Class Football Practice.

Despite Captain D. H. Hawley's specific announcement of Senior Class football practice, but three men reported yesterday afternoon, and the outlook for a good team is very un promising unless more men report for practice.

Twelve or thirteen men reported for the Junior team, and Captains Bickham put them through a fast signal practice until dark.

F ootball Ushers Report.

Ushers for the Cornell and Army and Navy games will sign their names and departments to roll in Athletic Association offices beginning Monday, November 26th, and ending Wednesday, November 28th, at five o'clock. The men will report at the gate on the day of the games at 11:15. Signed: J. M. Thibault, assistant.

West Stand Seats Completed.

The seats in the new west stand are now completed, and will accommodate 4,000 people. This stand is not to be solely occupied by Pennsylvania men during the Army and Navy game, as it was originally thought, but as some of the students will be in the east stand.

In the production of "Rufus Rastus," which will be seen at the Grand Opera House during this week, the song of "snow-bag" has been reached. No funnier room-mate player than H. F. A. Young ever appeared before the footlights. Hogan, who is generally termed the "unplanned," after a typical Philadelphia association of both genders, has just landed a seven months' run on Broadway, New York.

Hogan assumes the title role of "Hard Rust," and that of a typical Southern nose with a penchant for getting into ludicrous situations. He becomes stranded with an "Uncle Tom's Cabin" group at St. Augustine. The "Prince De Leon Hotel" and gardens are shown with great effect, as is also the Mississippi River levee and a big steamboat in operation. The final scene is Madison Square Garden, New York, during a gathering of rag-time artists.
