BASKETBALL SCHEDULE MADE

Several New Teams Added—Season Opens Saturday, December 15th.

The "Varsity" basketball team is rapidly rounding into shape, and promises to be in fine form for its opening engagements. A meeting with Princeton on December 16th will mark the start. They will play the Central High School and the George School teams next week in practice games, preparatory to the season.

Besides last year's full team, George Lawrence, W. T., captain of two years, is again out, and quite a lot of good new material has been developed.

Coach Smith says that the men are in good shape, and Pennsylvania's prospects are bright for the race for the Eastern championship.

This year's schedule is the heaviest ever arranged for a Pennsylvania basketball team. Several strong additions have been made, among which are Colegate, Dartmouth, Brown and Wesleyan.

Several changes have been made in the schedule since its first announcement. The program has been substituted for Harvard for January 17th, and Harvard's second date, February 17th. Negotiations now pending will fill all open dates within the season.

The final schedule for the season is as follows:

December 22nd—Johnstown A. C., at Johnstown.

January 12th—Swarthmore, at Philadelphia.

January 17th—Dartmouth, at Hanover, N. H.

February 10th—Brown, at Providence, R. I.

January 22nd—Swarthmore, at Swarthmore.

January 30th—Open.

February 2d—Wesleyan, at Philadelphia.

February 6th—Syracuse, at Syracuse.

February 7th—Kernochan, at Ithaca, N. Y.

February 8th—Colegate, at Hamilton, N. Y.

February 9th—Rochester, at Rochester, N. Y.

February 13th—State, at Philadelphia.

February 16th—Cornell, at Philadelphia.

February 19th—Second Signal Corps, at Brooklyn, N. Y.

February 21st—Columbia, at New York.

February 25d—Open.

February 27th—Leland, at Philadelphia.

March 1st—Yale, at New Haven, Conn.

March 2d—Open.

March 8th—Columbia, at Philadelphia.

An attractive schedule has been arranged for the Freshman team under Manager Johnson. The Freshman team promises to be strong.

Junior Ball Committee Meets to-day.

The regular monthly meeting of the Senior Class (College) will be held to-morrow (Wednesday) in Room 250, College Hall.

BOWLING CLUB TO BEGIN WORK

Has Secured a New Instructor, Who Will Commence This Week.

The Department of Physical Education, in conjunction with a well-known instructor to take charge of teams in the various classes, will open the season by holding a men's bowling club this winter. A new group of men will be formed, and a new instructor will be secured to take charge of the society.

The annual Bowl Fight between the Sophomore and Freshman Classes will be held to-morrow (Wednesday), at 3:30, on Franklin Field.

The Sophomores will dress in the south wing of the gymnasium and will line up in front of the west goal, while the Freshmen will use the north wing and be placed at the eastern end of the field.

The contest will, as usual, be fought in two halves, each consisting of ten minutes with a five-minute intermission between them.

In the first half the object is for the Freshmen to get their bowl through the Sophomore line and down the brick walk at the west end of the field, the Sophomore center to touch him with the bowl. When one of these objects is accomplished the first half is declared won by the class.

The second half consists in each class trying to have the most hands on the bowl when time is called. The classes as before line up at opposite ends of the field, and the bowl is placed directly in front of the Sophomore surround by several of their number, as act as guards, the rest of the class in stations a slight distance behind them. At a given signal the freshmen rush upon them and endeavor to drag them from the bowl and to take their places themselves. In the end of the half all false starts and fouls and the hands are counted, the class having the most on the bowl being declared the winner.

In former years this fight has always been held on the old Athletic Field, behind the dormitories, but on account of the large increase of the classes and the diminution of the field, caused by the building of dressing houses, it is now impossible to hold it there, and Franklin Field has been chosen as the best place for the contest.

The spectators will be required to sit in the stands and to enforce the rule a number of police officers will be stationed on the grounds. The members of the University will be admitted upon presentation of their Class Or. and an admission fee of ten cents will be charged to others.

Additional Course for Law Men.

An additional hour in the course in law will be offered next year, and third-year law students will be given to-morrow afternoon, from three to four o'clock, and discontinuing on April 6th.

"Punch Bowl" to Meet to-morrow (Thursday) at 1:30 P. M., in the "Punch Bowl" office, Law School building.

Student Injuries at Hospital.

J. C. Maloney, '99 C.; G. L. Brown, '99 C., and E. E. Hays, '99 C., while going down the hall toward the Students' Ward at the University Hospital yesterday, were struck by a truck against a prop supporting the heavy glass door trunnions, and the door falling, severely cut Maloney's head, which had to be given surgical attention. Jack Brown and Way escaped unhurt.

Arts Smoker Committee Meets to-day.

The final meeting of the Arts Associ-
The football season of 1906 closed on Saturday with one of the best exhibitions of the new rules seen in Franklin Field this year. We most firmly believe that the innovations and changes made by the Rules Committee have improved the game from both a spectator’s and players’ standpoint. The report but September that it would take two or three years to materially change the old style contest has been disproved. The forward pass has opened up the play considerably and the abolishment of mass play has decreased the ability of heavy men and placed a premium on light and speedy players. With a season of experimenting we find the game far from an unstable condition and will but several points under discussion.

The principal objection is caused by the large number of the games played this season. The kicking game has been entirely too prevalent in front of the centers, caused by the rule requiring a ten yard gain in three downs. The proposal to allow four attempts to cover the required distance should meet with favor, for although a game may mean spectacular football, we do not believe that the game should be degraded to conflict with either the association of Rugby contests.

Another objection advanced during the first few games has not proved true, that is in regard to the strengtneess of the new game. It was reported that two sets of ends and halfbacks would be needed in each big contest. The condition of the players was exceptionally good all season and substitutions were unnecessary. The list of injured compared with those of 1905 speaks volumes of praise for the new conditions of play.

One very good suggestion has been advanced—the lifting of more power to the head linesman. He should be allowed to clear the sides of all those annoying special players. Frequently either the empire or referee refer to the head linesman for decisions, when his business has been to keep the lines and the time.

The lengthening of the halves appears the most necessary rule to be required. The actual time the ball is in motion, as computed in the Army-Navy game, should be doubled, and this end can be reached by increasing the length of the halves to thirty-five or even forty minutes.

We are perfectly satisfied that the new rules have been satisfactory, and with another season they will establish their permanency. If the Rules Committee seem fit to make certain innovations, we believe they will be for the best, for the season of 1906 has demonstrated what is needed and exactly what can be accomplished.

Interclass Football Practice.

In spite of the cold weather yesterday many men turned out for the interclass football practice. The Sophomores were very strong, about fifteen regulars. The practice consisted only in running off signals, as the ground was frozen too hard for scrimmage work. The Juniors and Seniors were also well represented on the field. The weather is growing colder every day, and if the games are not started immediately, the championship games cannot be played. The Juniors and Seniors have finally agreed to play off their game tomorrow at 3:30 o’clock.

Junior Week Committee Meets To-day.

The regular meeting of the Camera Club will be held this evening in the new club room. President M. T. Fleisher will give a demonstration of a new and simplified variety of camera paper. A report will be heard from the Dance Committee and other important business transacted.

Boys' Freshman Football Game.

The Sophomore-Freshman game, which was scheduled for today, had to be postponed for the present being called off. The captains of the teams, after an argument lasting half an hour, were unable to reach an agreement as to a date.

Sophomore-Freshman Debate Team Chosen.

A meeting of the Freshman Club was held yesterday in the Hurson Laboratory, Edward Hopkinson, Jr., president of the Board of Class, gave a number of instructions for the Bowl Fight. He also urged the Freshmen to come out for basketball, swimming and water polo in the spring, since these sports have been included by the Undergraduate Committee in the competition for the Donus's trophy.

Bowling Match Postponed.

On account of the absence of two of the members of the teams, the match was postponed to be bowled between '96 C. and '97 C. in the interclass bowling tournament. The Sophomore-Freshman game will be held the following week.

Camera Club Meeting To-night.

The regular meeting of the Camera Club will be held this evening in the new club room. President M. T. Fleisher will give a demonstration of a new and simplified variety of camera paper. A report will be heard from the Dance Committee and other important business transacted.

Grand—"The Girl from Broadway."
The attraction at the Grand Opera House for this week is the musical comedy, "The Girl from Broadway."
The story is a consistent one, and not confined exclusively upon which to hang a plot of specialties and musical numbers. There are three acts and any number of scenes.
The story opens at the "Down East," a summer resort hotel where a pair of gentleman artists from the city have engaged rooms for the hot months, and who have scarcely been settled before they are launched into a mesh of plots and counterplots, wherein are mixed greed and designing old aunts that the heroine is enjoying rightfully belongs to her niece, who was stolen when a baby by gypsies. The rightful owner of the money discovered in the guise of a circus queen, and as the chief attraction of that enterprise she is at the opening of the story ensuing much trouble to the owner, an ex-pawpawboy, by having decamped without the customary two weeks' notice. In her endeavor to elude the horde of circus followers who are seeking her capture she appeals to her hero, Jack Bowers, an artist, and he ends by falling in love with the charming equestrian. The man, failing to control the girl's money, enters into an intrigue with a villainous lawyer, and attempts to substitute another girl for Miss Venus, and a rival of the heroine is chosen—whom, after a stormy period of three acts and a host of musical numbers, repeats, parties on her employer, and assists in restoring the girl's money and position.
