The question for the debate of the Triangular Intercollegiate League, to be held on March 8th, will be one of the following:

Resolved, That a national income tax is desirable; "Reversed, That further restriction in immigration by an illiteracy test is undesirable; "Resolved, That immigration should be further restricted by bringing about a national rational test." The question will be determined upon soon after the opening of the holidays. It will immediately be handed to the committees at the desk of the University Librarian for printing and mailed to all candidates for the positions who send an addressed postal card to Professor Clarence G. Hoag, chairman of the University Debate Committee, Room 201, College Hall. The preliminary trials will be held on Thursday, January 17th. They are open to all students of the University and first-year graduate students and graduate students who receive a stipend or hold a fellowship or scholarship at these trials. There will be allowed eight minutes for a speech on whichever side of the question he prefers. The semifinals will be held on Thursday, January 23rd, and the finals on Friday, January 25th.

The debate will be opened by Dr. Arnesen. He was a member of the team which won the Philadelphia Intercollegiate Debate League championship in 1906. He was likewise a speaker at commencement and on the school magazine staff.

The third member of the team is a member of the Central High School, and was their debater for his side. He also prepared for his side at Central High School and was on their 1906 debating team. He was a member of the debate club and was the alternate for his side. He also prepared at Central High School, and was on their 1906 debating team. "Red and Blue" Out To-Day.

The Christmas "Red and Blue," out today, is one of the best holiday numbers ever presented by this publication. There are two feature articles, the first by Edwin O. Lewis, '09, permanent secretary and counsel of the Alumni Association, on "College Men in Philadelphia Politics," from a City Party point of view. This is a very interesting discussion of phases of the last campaign, with the influence of college men in Philadelphian politics, and Pennsylvanians in particular. The other feature is an article on Cornell, by W. T. Taylor, Cornell, '97, president of the Senior Class and editor-in-chief of the "Cornell Era." This is a return article for one which appeared in the last issue of the "Cornell Era" on Pennsylvania. By J. Addison Abrams, '97, editor-in-chief of the "Red and Blue." There is also a short history of the Medical Club, by R. L. Holman, an Easton, '98, graduate president. T. F. Howch, '97, writes a Christmas story entitled "On Christmas Eve," and J. H. Walford, '99, a short story hitherto of student life at headelphia University. An All-American football team is shown, as usual in this number, by P. A. Paul, '98. There is also a poem by J. C. Brindley Hall, '97, and the "University Life" department editorial by J. Addison Abrams, '97.

C. H. S. Club Smoker.

All students who prepared at Central High School are requested to meet in Houston Hall today at 1:15, to discuss plans for the smoker to be held January 11th. Several prominent high school men are expected to attend the smoker, among them, R. L. Holman, '98, president of the Episcopal Academy Club. The officers of the Club with everyone to exert themselves to make a success of the affair and raise the Central High School Club to the place it should hold among the students. The subject of the smoker will be discussed, and the treasurer, W. S. Groves, '99, C. E., will appoint several recording secretaries to help him collect the money. The other officers of the Club are Thomas S. Martin, '97, president; and Donald Hendric, '98, vice-president. Frank A. Paul, '98, is corresponding secretary. A recording secretary and an executive committee will be elected at today's meeting.

French Play Selected.

Dr. Florian Varga, after going over some two hundred French plays which were suitable for the purposes of the members of the Cercle Francais, has finally decided upon "La Battaille des Pences." This play was one of the most interesting of last year's productions in Paris, and was always eagerly anticipated whenever given. Of last year's cast Miss M. Dundo alone was missed. He is at present pursuing his studies at the Sorbonne in Paris under the Ecumenical scholarship. The play has been set for the Monday preceding Lent, and the same in all probability will be followed by a dance. As regards the dance nothing at present has been decided on. The play is to be held at the New Century Drawing Room. Candidates will doubtless be called for in the near future, as a great amount of work must be accomplished before the time appointed.

Episcopal Academy Club.

At a meeting of the graduates of the Episcopal Academy held yesterday in the trophy room for the purpose of recognizing the school club at Pennsylvania, the following officers were elected: L. Wood, president; J. E. Lee, vice-president; J. S. Bradford, secretary and treasurer.

University Orchestra Rehearsal.

Orchestra rehearsal at the Houston Club this evening at 7:30, sharp. The orchestra concert at the University. Home, arranged for this evening, has been postponed until after Christmas vacation. Signed: R. L. Dryen, manager.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1906.

This Thursday is certainly to be congratulated upon the flourishing condition of its two modern language societies. The Deutscher Verein held an enthusiastic and well-attended meeting last evening in the library, while in another column of this issue we print a preliminary announcement of the play to be given this winter by the Circé Francaise. Both these organizations, wholly voluntary and comprising undergraduates almost entirely, meet at stated intervals to have literary discussions, hear plays on modern themes read, and converse in either German or French, as the case may be. Besides making for sociability among the German-speaking or French-speaking students of all departments, and besides enabling those whose native tongue is English to perfect themselves in the conversation idioms of some other modern language beside their own, these clubs have brought the University since January one hour by hour, the Verein since 1904. These clubs have done their members, as well as the institution at large, an immense amount of good. They have already won for themselves recognition in many quarters originally hostile, and in many ways they have set a pace which the other so-called minor student organizations will do well to emulate.

Varsity Basketball Practice.

The Varsity basketball squad held a praticing practice in the Gymnasium yesterday. Their work is becoming better each day. Keene was getting into form and should soon be in the best of condition. The next game will be with Princeton on Wednesday.

Lost—Silver Watch on Gold Chain.

Lost, on Tuesday evening, on Woodland Avenue between University and Thirty-third Street near the silver watch on gold chain. Reward to returners at 3137 Woodland Avenue, The Pennsylvania.
The regular meeting of the Camera Club was held last evening in Roman Hall. J. Allen Mason, '07 C., presented his resignation as vice-president. The vacancy thus created was filled by the election of Charles J. Cole, Jr., '09 C.

The Club decided to hold the annual membership election on January 14th. Each member will be allowed to exhibit ten prints of his work. Amendments to the constitution of the Intercollegiate Photographic Association were adopted, increasing the number of entries to two hundred and permitting for prints instead of cups as individual prizes. The members present were urged by the president to prepare for the Intercollegiate exhibition. The Dance Committee presented a report of the annual dance held in Junior week.

Christian Association News.

Christmas week at the University will be a busy one. The lady workers have planned an entertainment, to which all in connection with the House work will be invited. The schedule follows: December 22nd—Christmas entertainment for young men. December 23rd—Illustrated talk. December 24th—Basketball, Juniors vs. Calvary M. E. Church. December 25th—Basketball, boys. December 26th—Lecture, illustrated. December 27th—Christmas entertainment and concert for the lady workers. December 28th—Combined basketball tournament. December 29th—Basketball, young men. Besides the above events the new bowling alleys will be open each evening, as well as the library. The etiades in physical culture, swimming and cooking, as well as the night school for girls, will be held.

Coming Attractions at the Walnut.\n
Chaucer's Ghost is the holiday time play for the Walnut Street Theatre, and his management claim for him in Elion Asbare as the best play yet picked for this talented comedian and singer. His stay is but for two weeks commencing with Christmas week, and will be followed by Emma Carus in a masterful farce comedy by Glen McNish, entitled "Too Near Home," with music by Victor Herbert. It will be a daring production, filled with gorgeous costumes and pretty girls.

Freshman Aquatic Committee.

President Alvan J. Smith, of the Freshman Class, has appointed the following committee, which shall have charge of the sports of the class, for it has been announced that aquatic events shall constitute a point toward the Dean's trophy: W. B. Philier, chairman; Russell Van Gundy, Harold C. Whitney.

Fourth-Year Medical Class.

Arrangements have been made for those members of the fourth-year medical class who desire to visit the contagious disease wards at the Municipal Hospital. Those desiring to avail themselves of this opportunity will sign the book in the Dean's office at the earliest opportunity.

Germanic Association.

At the meeting of the Germanic Association in the German Seminar of the Library last evening a paper was read on "The German-American Literature," by Mr. Beck, of the Graduate Department.

Richard Mansfield in "Peer Gynt."

Richard Mansfield in the most magnificent production yet seen on the stage, "Peer Gynt," will shortly be in Philadelphia. At the Garrick Theatre.
