UNIVERSITY DEBATE TEAMS FOR COLUMBIA AND CORNELL

Haverford College Submits Subject for the Annual Debate with Philomathian Society, April 12.

Since the last issue of The Pennsylvaniaian, the Varsity debating teams have been selected. The two debates will be held simultaneously on the evening of Friday, March 6th, Cornell being at Drexel and Columbia in Histon Hall.

The team which will support the affirmative at Cornell is made up of Joseph A. Dolan, '08, A. W. Black, W. C. Frank, and Frank Paul, '09, with Daniel Alexander, '09 L., as the alternate, which team defeated the University of Pennsylvania in the Pennsylvania relay team. The team which will support the affirmative against Columbia is composed of M. H. Winkleman, W. C. Walter, G. J. Kingdon, '08 L., and Will H. Parks, '09 L., with D. Field, '09 L., as the alternate. Both of these eight men hold the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Two of the members have been on former teams. Both Mr. Black, and Mr. Paul, are graduates of the University of Pennsylvania. The team will be under the direction of Mr. Blackham, chairman.

通过

A Varsity basketball five had an easy victory over the Wesleyan team at the Gymnasium on Saturday afternoon by the score of 10-16. All the regular Pennsylvania players were in the game, and the whole team seemed to get back in its old game. The team is at present the Varsity Freshmen and Yale Freshmen met in the Gymnasium. The result was a victory for Pennsylvania by 16-9. The Pennsylvania quintette were three points behind their opponents at the end of the first half, the score being 4-7. In the second half the home team made a great drive.

The Pennsylvania swimming team defeated the Lawrenceville team at Lawrenceville on Saturday afternoon by the score of 23 points to 22. Pennsylvanila won the water-polo game by the score of 24-2 and won the hand and leg, swim, plunge for distance, fancy diving event and the 225-yard swim.

The Varsity wrestling team met the Central Y. M. C. A. in the Gymnasium Saturday afternoon. The meet was more of a tryout for both teams. Verger, Carter, Hurr, Freeman, and Joyce represented Pennsylvania.

THE CITY PARTY CLUB TO MEET

Two Penn Graduates, William Potter and F. S. Edmunds, Are Nominees.

On Wednesday afternoon, at four o'clock, the first of the student political meetings in the spring semester of the principal campaign will occur, when the graduating class of 1906 will hold a rally in Price Hall. This meeting will be the opening gun in what promises to be an exceedingly close and exciting election. Additional interest will attach to this winter's campaign because both the City candidates—William Potter, nominee for Mayor, and Frank Paul, nominee for Receiver of Taxes—are graduates of the University of Pennsylvania.

William Potter, a leading member of the political party, is known throughout the country because of his distinguished record as United States Ambassador to Italy. He is one of the most conspicuous and able politicians of the Pennsylvania varsity men now in the public eye. Edmunds is equally well known, though of a younger generation.

White in College he was president of his class and modern of the Philomathean Society, and since graduation he has kept in constant touch with the University and has made addresses on a number of occasions.

Both Mr. Potter and Mr. Edmunds have already convicted to the addresses at the Pennsylvania varsity, and there will be other speakers of equal prominence and popularity. Harry S. McDevitt, '99 L., is chairman of the undergraduate committee having the affair in charge.

Successful Musical Concerts.

The Combined Musical Clubs gave a concert and dances Friday night in Horticultural Hall for the benefit of the Southeastern Episcopalian and another concert Saturday night at the same time. Both performances were well attended.

The singing of the song, "Love Me and the World Is Mine," by C. A. Bonswick, was enthusiastically received by both the members of the audience. The Student Quartette also received great ovations at George-town, being compelled to repeat six times. The Freshman quartette furnished quite a little amusement for the audience by singing "How Green I Am" and "Silently Waiting Away."

intercollegiate bowling schedule.

The Combined Musical Clubs, representing the University in the intercollegiate League, has won all six of the games played on the home bases, having won from both Haverford and Lafayette. The schedule of games to follow in the coming weeks, which is the only one remaining to be played on the Houston ClubDirs, is: March 16th—Pennsylvania vs. Columbia, at Old Campus, New York, March 19—Pennsylvania vs. Lafayette, at Easton, Pa.

Junior Class News.

The balance of the Junior Class cards are ready for distribution today in the trophy room at 11.15 o'clock. All those who have not received their cards are requested to get them at this time.

PENNSYLVANIA TEAMS ALL WIN IN SATURDAY'S ATHLETICS

THE RELAY TEAM AT NEW YORK, BASKETBALL FIVE AT HOME.

Performance of J. B. Taylor at New York Track Meet—Freshmen Win from Yale—Swimmers Win.

At New York on Saturday in the athletic meet held in Madison Square Garden the Pennsylvania relay team won the two-mile intercollegiate relay event. Columbia and Cornell finished second and third respectively. In the basketball Taylor, the quarter-mile intercollegiate championship, ran the best time of the University, and, running third, was not out five yards behind0 of Columbia. This handicap Taylor soon overcame, and drawing away from his opponents, left for Haskins, Pennsylvania's last man, a lead of thirty yards. The latter forced ten yards ahead of Marsh, of Columbia. Taylor's remarkable half mile was made in the fast time of two minutes and two seconds.

The Varsity basketball five had an easy victory over the Wesleyan team at the Gymnasium on Saturday afternoon by the score of 10-16. All the regular Pennsylvania players were in the game, and the whole team seemed to get back in its old game. The same is holding the "Varsity Freshmen and Yale Freshmen met in the Gymnasium. The result was a victory for Pennsylvania by 16-9. The Pennsylvania quintette were three points behind their opponents at the end of the first half, the score being 4-7. In the second half the home team made a great drive.

The Pennsylvania swimming team defeated the Lawrenceville team at Lawrenceville on Saturday afternoon by the score of 23 points to 22. Pennsylvania won the water-polo game by the score of 24-2 and won the hand and leg, swim, plunge for distance, fancy diving event and the 225-yard swim.

The Varsity wrestling team met the Central Y. M. C. A. in the Gymnasium Saturday afternoon. The meet was more of a tryout for both teams. Verger, Carter, Hurr, Freeman, and Joyce represented Pennsylvania.

RECEPTION FOR DR. J. W. WHITE

Professor of Surgery to Be Warmly Welcomed—Hosted in Gymnasium.

A large reception is being planned for Dr. J. William White, Professor of Surgery to the University, and one of the most prominent surgeons in this country, on his return to the city on February 14th. Dr. White, who is well known to all Edward C. King, Dean of the medical school, will have recovered from the operation he underwent last autumn. On the hands of his many brothers, also famous for his success, he will be present.

It is most appropriate that Dr. White should be received in the Gymnasium, as that building is a monument of the University, and in behalf of Pennsylvania. Dr. White was first appointed to the staff of the University Physical Culture twenty-one years ago, and since then he has taken a prominent part in all the athletic affairs of the University.

The details of the reception have not been arranged as yet, but they will be announced as soon as they are arranged.

Zelo Holds Special Meeting.

At a special meeting of the Zelo-chesophic Society on Friday evening the report of the Committee on the University Debate was heard and the de-propose any amendment of the Constitution. The Congress will not suffice for us in the duty of considering the independence required of them. It is foolish, and by demonstrating our weakness, humiliate their wisdom and courage. In admiration of the fathers who made the Constitution need not and cannot be better understood; wholesome legislation and state, wise foundation; abuses would be more clearly understood; remedies would be more readily sought and easier found; groundless complaint would increase; useless, mischievous agitation would diminish; re-form movements would gain in practicability and promise, and the political atmosphere generally would be materially cleared.

Second Civil League Paper.

The second of the series of papers written for the use of members of the Intercollegiate Civil League is written by Hon. David A. Hall, member of Congress from Missouri, on "Admiring the Constitution." Is it desirable to amend the Constitution? Is it desirable even to consider the subject of amending the Constitution? A prerequisite to any amendment must be the opportunity to amend. There are two methods for amending, the one through the Initiative of the Congress, which may with the concurrence of two-thirds of each House, propose and pass a resolution other through the Initiative of two-thirds of the States, upon the call of whose Legislatures the Congress shall provide for a convention to propose amendments. No amendment can become a part of the Constitution unless ratified by three-fourths of the States.

No convention to propose amendments to the Constitution has ever assembled; all amendments heretofore ratified originated in Congress. Most of them are almost as old as the Constitution itself. One other amendment came as a result of the Jeopardy of the Constitution, and the Congress shall, for a convention to propose amendments. No amendment can become a part of the Constitution unless ratified by three-fourths of the States.

University Graduates for Office.

Among the graduates of the University who were recently nominated for municipal offices in Philadelphia are: William H. Potter, 74 C, who was the City Party candidate for Mayor; John E. Rayburn, '39 L, the Republican nominee for Mayor; Franklin S. Edmonds, '36 C, and '61 L, City Party nominee for Receiver of Taxes, and Edward Lewis, '22 L, City Party candidate for Common Councils in the Twenty-seventh Ward. Mr. Potter entered the University as a special student in 1870, but left during his Freshman year. Mr. Rayburn entered the University in 1857, and was graduated from the Law School as the head of his class; Mr. Edmonds entered the Junior Class of the College in 1881, at the University he was a member of the Philo-

The Southern Club
The following letter has been received by Dean Penman, which is self-explanatory:
"Dean, University of Pennsylvania,
"Dear Sir,—The Board of Governors of The Southern Club, of Phildelphia, will appreciate it if you will contact your Southern students. To the fact that special invitation has been made for membership in the Club of students over twenty-year-olds from all attending courses in recognized institutions of learning in Philadelphia Club, who have successfully completed their first year. Such students of Southern birth, descent, or residence, may become non-resident members upon the payment of merely nominal dues, amounting to $12.50 per year, without entrance fee.
"You are probably aware of the existence of The Southern Club, which was organized for the purpose of affecting Southern men a common place of meeting, and an opportunity of becoming better acquainted. The Club house is conveniently situated at 1810 Chesnut street, and affords all the usual facilities of a social club. Dr.
Wharton Sinyor is president of the Club. William A. Glasgow, Jr., is vice-president, and among the members of the Board of Governors are Dr. William L. Rodman, Dr. Edmund J. Lee
and Dr. J. Mathias Taylor.
"Under separate cover I am sending you a copy of our Year Book, containing the bylaws and a list of the members, and if any of your students are further interested in the subject, I will be glad to give them any particular information they may wish.

"His Honor The Mayor.
"On February 26th the Alfred E.
Arono Musical Comedy Company will place its annual Mudlark engagement at the Wallace Street Theatre. This season instead of presenting a new offering, this popular organization will be seen in "His Honor The Mayor," a musical comedy that ran the greatest part of last season in New York City, changing to three different houses, and
in each the same story was repeated—
sold out at every performance. It then commenced the current season
at Wallace's Theatre, and after eight weeks was forced out by contracts
made nearly a year before, and was obliged to take to the road, and has been doing phenomenal business in every city where it has been present

The particular features of the entertainment at the present time are Harry Kelly and a ballet, the original English Polks. These are six little lassies from London, and each described as a dancing cocktail; and the unusual thing that those enjoy their dancing as much as the audience. Such a feature as this is bound to be a potential attraction in itself, and Mr. Aron's well-known penchant for presenting his musical comedies with comedians
that are comic, singers that are vocalists and choristes that are both young and beautiful, is sufficient guarantee
for the excellence of the entertainment.

Grand—"Puff, Puff, Paul!"
The story of B. C. Whittaker's big successful musical comedy, "Puff, Puff, Paul!" which is at the Grand Opera House this week, concerns one August Montague, who cannot touch $250,000 left him by his deceased wife, should he marry before his four daughters have found husbands. As the gay widower sports along the sands of Atlantic City, he meets the dazzling Widow Montague, whom he considers his affluity. Immediately they begin to plan to get the four Melon girls married off. This situation leads to a number of very amusing and laughable chansons. Chas. F. Morrison reenacts the character of August Melon and gets into the role of Mrs. Montague, the fascinating widow. If genuine novelty of plot, ingenuity of treatment and an acting and singing company of the best-known Broadway favorite count for anything in the makeup of a successful production, then the popularity and prosperity of "Puff, Puff, Paul!" is assured.

The principal members of the organization comprise many favorites on the stage and are among the most capable and efficient choruses, principally pretty girls.

The novelty will be on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The prices are, as usual, popular.
