Cricket Practice to Begin
Cardinalities for the first time the cricket team will begin practice next Monday on the days and at the places named. The baseball graduates are reminded that the cricket team will go to England this summer, and hence men are expected to report. A cricket keeper must be developed, and men who have had experience in this respect, are particularly good chances of making the team. The practice of rules bears the following:

Monday: At Germantown C. C., 6 p.m., MacFarland, R. Lee, Weidemann, L. Lee, Mori.

Tuesday: At Germantown C. C., 7 p.m., Dalrymple, of Pennsylvania.

Wednesday: At Germantown C. C., 7 p.m., G. M. Graham, Penchehle, Hart, Johnson, Crowell, G. Mann.

Thursday: At Germantown C. C., 7 p.m., Woodroofe, Fanchelle, Hart, Dalrymple, Jones, G. Graham, Baker, Evans, G. Mann.

Practice will begin every afternoon at 4 o'clock. Wiggling: Walter F. Kennan, jr. manager.

NEW EDITOR FOR TODAY'S ISSUE.
FRANK P. WILSON.

The time has arrived when athletes continue throughout the whole college year. With the ending of the football season the undergraduates are not allowed to store up their spirit for the spring season, but moreover that spirit is worn through the year. It is indeed gratifying to realize the excellent support accorded the mid-winter sports at the University. With basketball, swimming, fencing and gymnastics, the students have had a full program, and their response to appeals for these various sports have not been all that could be desired.

"Our English Cousins," styled "as one more architecture comedy by Elwin Bateman Morris, was produced last evening in the "Grub Street Theatre. The Architectural Society for a number of years has given an annual play to raise funds for needy purposes, and all their endeavors in this direction have been highly successful. Their results reflect the highest credit upon all the participants, who make these affairs enjoyable not only to architectural students, but to the undergraduates of all departments.

The Architectural School at the University has made a name for itself—it is recognized among authorities as one of the first schools of its kind in America. It has reached that high plane where its students are always in demand upon graduation. The undergraduate society has decided to cooperate and support the other students in their earnest and successful efforts to show the needs of their department and to provide for themselves as best they can. The Pennsylvanian heartily wishes them success in their undertaking.

There will be an important business meeting of the Zoological Society at 1:15 P.M. on Tuesday, to give the report of the Finance Committee.

beautiful programme, are the work of certain of the members of the society under the efficient direction of August Headham, '07, and J. H. Peters, '07. Francis P. Smith, '07, manager; B. F. Frank, '07, secretary and treasurer; J. P. Kingsley, Jr., '07, stage manager; J. R. Warner, coach, and H. M. Hoakam,' '07, director of music, deserve much credit for the success of the production. As a representative college play, staged and acted by students only, "Our English Cousins" is undoubtedly one of the best productions given before a University audience.

Lyric—"The Blue Moon."

An Americanized version of the London musical comedy success, "The Blue Moon," will be played by William J. Powers as the star, and with a cast of well-known entertainers, including the original English Pony Bait, is the attraction at the Lyric Theatre. The en-装甲ment is for two reasons, and therein will be, in addition to the regular Wednesday and Saturday matinees, a special Washington's Birthday afternoon performance to morrow.

The story concerns an English regiment, which is stationed in British India, and the interesting tale is amusing, neat and logical and replete with refined comedy. There is a total absence of vulgar low comedy methods. The musical numbers are of great variety. Among the more popular ballads are "Don't You Think It's Time to Marry," "You Be Careful of the Crown," "Dixiana," "Popular Entertainments," "That's the Way They Let the Secret Out," and "Why Don't You Take Little Boy." Two colorful stage settings have been provided and the company is lavish. The box of the play is by Harold Ellis. The lyrics are by Percy Greenbank and Paul A. V. Rhomle, and the music is by Howard Talbot and Paul Rubens. One of the features of the production is a double male and female quartet.

"His Honor The Mayor."
For three weeks commencing Februty 25th the Walnut Street Theatre will offer Alfred E. Aaron's Musical Comedy Company in the reigning suc-ear, "His Honor The Mayor," with the same cast, production, and necessarious as usual during its play's six months run in New York and on Its whirlwind tour through the country since leaving the metropolis. "His Honor The Mayor" is a vastly differ-t play from the production seen un-er the same title in Philadelphia last spring. Many new musical numbers have been introduced by the composeurs, Julian Edwards (composer of "Love's Lottery," "Dutch Vagrants," "Brian Born," and other successful operas) and Alfred E. Aaron, who stands high in the esteem of Philadelphians who pleasantly recall his annual spring productions, among which were "Manon," "Hawkins,' "My Annie Gettis," "The Knavesminger GIrl," and the "China Bell."
