A letter in another column from Wm. Hummer, chairman of the Wharton School Honor System Committee, objects to our editorial of yesterday and calls for an explanation of our attitude toward the system.

Yesterday we tried to show some of the disadvantages as well as certain advantages of the "Honor System" quite different from the methods used in the Wharton School in connection with which the term "honor system" is confusedly a misnomer. What does the Wharton system accomplish? First, it affects an agreement among students that there can be no cheating.
