Famous Actor to Play During Last Week of April Under Zoelo's Auspices

Under the auspices of the Zoological Society, Ben Greit's company of drama will again visit Philadelphia, this time to play at the new warehouse where the company several times before, and his coming has always been heralded with the usual signal, a great success in the study of Shakespeare, but in that of the Elizabethan drama, not only are the plays he presents of great intrinsic value, but his experiment is extremely valuable as an educational factor along two distinct lines. It givesumph to the stage methods of the great dramatist's time, and it also shows what effect can be produced by a good play interpreted by capable and well-trained players, even in the harshest possible stage environment.

The present engagement in the city is the result of a visit by M. Greit to the Zoological Society in the spring, when it was announced as above. Greit's company has so far proved a tremendous success, and the members of the Zoological Society have particularly gratified at having secured the players for their use in the coming season. The engagement is under the complete management of Zoel and the arrangements for the same will be made very shortly. The players will range from the five-cent play to the extravagant and will, with a half, with a scale of reductions for students and those who buy themat packages will be set up at the Zoo on April 20, but seats may be reserved for the week by application to the Committee of Zoel.

The theatre association of the Zoological Society later in the spring. Definite announcement as to this will be made later.

The special committee appointed in Zoel to look over preliminary arrangements is composed as follows: S. Rosenbaum (71 C.), J. J. Weisbein (77 L.), I. E. Bauder (99 L.) and J. A. Mason (97 C.), chairman. This committee is charged with the management of the Zoel Hall, to be opened for the benefit of the Zoological Society.

WILSON LAW CLUB BANQUET

Judges, Graduates and Professors Speak About the Modern Lawyer.

A number of prominent members of the Philadelphia bar were the guests of the Wilson Law Club, when the annual club banquet held last night at the Rittenhouse Hotel, Hamilton L. Carson, Judge Entlich and Justice Potter, of the Supreme Court, were among the distinguished speakers, while the faculty of the law school was represented by Dean Law, Professor Milick, Bowen and Hening. There were no set toasts, but the speakers confined themselves to legal subjects, for the purpose of filling the standard of the American bar. The few lawyers today I tell you, "are university-educated men." Professor Milick gave an account of the methods of teaching in use in time of James Wilson, the first professor of law at the University.

SPENDING MONEY AT COLLEGE

Yale Man's Statistics Show How Rich and Poor Students Live.

New Haven, Conn., March 6.—The results of a fair survey of students have just been published, and the findings are looked upon as favorable with the Yale smoker, and that the slender carbon of college life has not made the students the wealthiest spend $8.43. The average amount spent by students aying through college is $292. The largest group of students, those who spend more than $1,000, while nine spend over $2,500. The man in the $500 group spends six per cent. on clothes, while he is twenty-four per cent. with the man who spends more than $1,000.

The wealthy students spend more on intoxicants than on tobacco. Statistics show that Yale students spend 27 per cent. on tobacco, while the average of the wealthy students is 37 per cent.

The least wealthy students spend more on tobacco than on clothes and books. This is the result of a survey of the Benjamin Disston, manager of the College, was in charge of the 1:15 P.M. yesterday in Room 205, College Hall. It was decided to hold the preliminary elections for "honor men" next Wednesday, March 13, and the final to the following Wednesday, March 19.

The elections will be governed by the rules formulated by the Intercollegiate Legate, but the preliminaries will be chosen by closed ballot, and of these will be selected in the final. The men receiving the greatest number of votes will be declared "honor men," the candidate having the next largest vote will be second honor man, and so on. The first honor man awarded the speech, the second honor man will receive the bowl, the third the case, and the fourth the shoe used to plant the tree on Try Day.

NEWS EDITOR FOR TODAY'S ISSUE.
J. P. HARRISON

The Pennsylvania is pleased to be able to print below a signed statement from the Dean of the Medical School in regard to the movement for a complete Dormitory System.

When I recall any of our college days and the boarding house problem which faced me there I cannot but realize how vital this question now is to a College Dining Hall. The enormous growth of the student body has demanded and obtained the splendid group of buildings which make up the Hospital at present. Many dormitories have been built, which might also state that we have great number of students and a share of room. Etc. This is the hope and good of the students and the good name of the University will be lost in the minds of the public.

Young men who have not knowledge or spirit enough to participate in athletics at college are unnatural, and we, as undergraduates do not want to UNHAPPY Specification.

There are many college men who are so timid that they are afraid to even try to be athletes because their clothes bother them, and others because they are not sportsmen enough to take a chance to "make good." These who do not come under these classes can be designated as physically unbalanced, or, too sensitive to spend their time for their own or other people's pleasure.

Now this "No" class cannot be divided into a comparatively small number. Commodity Gymnastics is helping, but with the advent of Spring, we propose an inter-Dormitory schedule of athletic contests. We have the most complete Dormitory system in the country, but we do not utilize it like other colleges. Interhouse teams would furnish honest rivalry, in the dormitory residents. No one team would be composed of stars, but some might be unskilled, and some developed. The spirit of rivalry and good fellowship would be developed and a genus of developing. Variety material created.
