YALE SWIMMERS VICTORIOUS IN THE MEET ON SATURDAY.

Pennsylvania swimmers took a decided slant at the intercollegiate meet held in the Gymnasium Saturday night. Instead of the Red and Blue winning four out of the five events, as was expected, Yale won one first while Yale took the rest. The only way to account for this is that Pennsylvania was overrated. Renear, who was counted on to win the fifty and hundred yard medley relay, was forced to drop out. He only managed to take first in diving and a third in the one hundred. The time of the event was slower than that made by Renear when he was handicapped by his opponent's scratch. I. I. S. for a tew Douma, to meet in Starting off at a good clip, which he steadily maintained throughout, he picked his way through a crowded field of "handicaps," and made a strong finish, obtaining the race by a few inches. This men are making a tour through America on behalf of the Russian revolutionists. They represent the revolutionist labor groups of the extreme Radicals, who form the largest force which will act as one body in the Douma, the lower house of the Russian Parliament, organized last year by the Czar's "Freedom Decree" of 1906. The first Douma was summarily dissolved by the Czar and elections were ordered for a new Douma, to meet in 1907. The elections have not yet been completed, but, so far the radical members are in the majority, despite the Government's success in preventing the nomination of men.

in another column will be found a letter from the International Association of the National Rifle Association of America, suggesting that a rifle club be organized at the University. Such clubs already exist at several other universities and are successful.

I hope that those who are interested in this sport will take up the matter seriously, it is a matter that obviously deserves attention, and a recommendation of such a scheme should not be refused by you gentlemen.

There has been considerable criticism of the Pennsylvania Rhodes scholarship Committee on the ground that the Committee is responsible for choosing a student who is not a native of Pennsylvania. We are sure that the committee has been acting within the best interest of the University, and we are satisfied that the committee is acting properly.

"The Vanderbilt Cup." The greatest automobile comedy drama, which is the subject of this Grand Opera House this week, is a liberal education in "mirthematics." It is a play built entirely upon motor cars and the "swell snob" who at present almost live by that mode of current touring call. The plot hinges upon the great race of the Isla Indike and the cup presented by W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., and brings in many delightful resorts in and around New York. One scene takes place in the famous women's hotel, the Madge Theatre, where, save for the clerk, none but women are admitted or employed.

The stage settings are magnificent and the dancing very novel. Among the many gaiety are the "My Houseboat Boys," "My Little Chauffeur," "Somewhere in the World," and "The Light That Lies in Girlish Eyes." The greatest sensation—the cup race—is the most talked of effect in the theatrical world. Two 90 horse-power racing cars are driven at high speed across the stage, to the accompaniment of detonations, smashing explosions, and all the dust and noise and excitement which marks a real race. The same magnificence of scenic equipment which marked the New York and Chicago runs is used in the presentation here.
