J. P. HARBERSON.

With this issue The Pennsylvania suspends publication until the University reopens on Monday, April 8th.

A practice baseball game yesterday between the College of the City of New York and the University encourages a large body of undergraduates who saw it to believe that the coming season will be the most successful in many years. Although the team defeated was not a strong one, nevertheless the spirit shown by the Pennsylvania team throughout the match contained more of the real spirit and a greater determination to play the game for all it is worth than we have noticed before in early in the season.

It is not too early for the team to realize the necessity of cultivating that spirit which has made our football teams famous. The Southern trip begins tomorrow, when the team plays the Carlisle Indians at Atlantic City for two consecutive days. It is hoped that after a successful journey in the South the men will return with the intention of making baseball at Pennsylvania as important as it is anywhere else. The undergraduates must give them a hearty reception and assure them that they will do their part toward supporting a sport that deserves as much popularity as football.
