HONOR ELECTION SYSTEM FOR SENIOR PRESIDENCY

CAMPAIGNING FOR OFFICE TO BE REDUCED TO A MINIMUM.

Junior Class, College, Established, Presented for Election Similar to that of the Four Honor Men.

At the regular meeting of the junior class of the College yesterday afternoon an amendment to the Constitution was proposed providing for the election of Senior presidents after the manner of those of the four honor men; this amendment was passed, thus doing away with all contests for the office.

An amendment, drawn up by a committee appointed for the purpose, was a unanimous decision for its adoption. The amendment will be voted upon tomorrow, at which time nominations for the other offices will be made. The election will be held at the end of the month.

The new system has been in vogue in the election of the four honor men, and its success is undoubtedly attributable to the fact that it has been comprehensively proved in the recent contests for the office. It provides for no nominations. Any member of the class may be voted for on the first ballot. The names are then counter voted, and their identity will be kept secret until the second ballot is taken. Thereafter, by a working out process, the number is reduced to one, who is declared elected.

Upon motion it was unanimously declared to be the wish of the class that all electronicering for the office of Senior president should cease from this time, and that the attention of all members of the class be directed to other subjects. The resignation of M. S. McClure as treasurer was accepted.

Nestings in Architectural Design.

A practice now in vogue at the various architectural studies in this city, is the nesting of high school graduates of the Architectural School in the buildings of the city. This year, 200 boys, four of whom are juniors in the Architectural School, will be nesting in the various buildings. From this practice has been evolved a system of specific numbered designs for the various buildings, which are entered in the records of the various architects who are responsible for the buildings. These designs, while they are not necessarily of a specific type, are of a general nature, and are intended to provide a basis for the development of the various buildings as they are constructed.

The arrangements for the patrons were such that instead of being all placed at one end of the hall, they were given places on each side of the gymnasium along the promenade.

CREWS TO GO INTO SHELLS

Varsity and Freshman First Eights to Leave Working Boats Monday.

Two eights, probably the Varsity and Freshman first crews, will go into the shells Monday afternoon. Up to the present time, the weather has been weather, with the exception of the octopede, the which for which there was no working boat.

This begins the fine work in the men for the Healey, which opens May 25th. Feak has been particularly discouraging for the crews, as the combination of rain and cold weather has prevented practice for some time.

Yesterday the bowes rowed over the course, and everybody was out early and weather is predicted for today.

All Notices will take the 3:20 car from the gymnasium this afternoon.

Gifts to the Library.

The Library has received from Miss Rosella Butcher a splendid collection of over fifteen hundred photographs. These photographs include views of great cathedrals, noted buildings and famous paintings of the art periods and cycles of Europe. Most of the pictures are mounted and the rest are now being arranged. The Library is, of course, of especial value to the students in the Architectural School, and most of the photographs will be transferred to the Library in the fall.

The larger prints have been loaned to the University Library, conspicuous among which is a fine photograph of the Venetia di Molo, hanging at present on the north wall of the study reading room. Complete details of the pictures in the gift will appear shortly in THE PENNSYLVANIAN.

CAPTURING THE MOVEMENT "CAPTURING THE LABOR MOVEMENT" IS OF WORLD-WIDE IMPORTANCE - CAPTURING a very interesting address to be given at the Y. M. C. A. of St. Louis, at eleven o'clock, tomorrow morning. The speaker is a well-known author and lecturer on sociological problems. The address should be of interest to University students.

Sophomore Class Meets.

The regular monthly meeting of the Sophomore Class took place yesterday day at 1:15. Treasurer E. D. Smith read the report showing that up to April 12th there was $108.63 on hand. He also stated that the outstanding bills amounted to $115.51, which includes basketball sweaters, printing expenses and the Sophomore class debate, and damages of the poster fight. All who have not paid their class dues must do so at once.

Plan for the May Day Sports.

Talks were held yesterday afternoon to plan the athletic meet on the following day and to instruct in wrestling and boxing.

WEIGHTMAN HALL SCENE OF BRILLIANT SOCIAL FUNCTION

ANNUAL IVY BALL HELD LAST EVENING IN THE GYMNASIUM.

Many Novel Effects in Decorations. Weather Conditions Did Not Prevent a Very Large Attendance.

The Ivy Ball, the annual dance given by the Senior Class, Colle was held last night in the gymnasium. Weightman Hall was decor inated in a manner which eclipsed any dance ever held before in the gymnasium. On both sides of the hall a classic effect was produced. One side, which had been the two promenades which ran along the eastern and western sides of the room. These promenades were banked with flowers and made more than at the previous dance, which prevented them for being used as dancing space. At the front of the hall at a balustrade connected in a semicircle the two rows of columns and through this balustrade were three entrances to the main dancing floor. Each of the columns was capped with a huge mass of flowers, from which proceeded handkerchiefs of different colored tassels, which gave the hall a brilliant effect.

At the beginning of each column, and along and occupying the balustrade, were small fountains, bouquet palms and flowering vases of every color and description. Suspended between the columns was a lattice effort, which was twined and interwoven with flowers.

The dancing space was somewhat enlarged by the decorators leaving the entire space at the end of the gymnasium up to the balustrade platform.

A low ceiling effect was gotten by suspending Blue and Red balloons from the ceiling to help the room reaching from one side of the gym to the other.

One feature about the decorations which made it distinctive from that of any other dances was that there was no promenade at the end of the gymnasium. Instead of this, the decorations were arranged so that the room was circular, the main details of the hall itself being preserved.

The arrangements for the patronage was also much more satisfactory than heretofore, as instead of all being placed at one end of the hall, they were given places on each side of the gymnasium along the promenade.

The music, which was furnished by the Orchestra, was excellent. Although the weather was not the best, the attendance was large, and profited considerably on account of the ocular elements. The men connected with the Ivy Ball have expressed the hope that the next dance will be as successful as the present one.

ANNUAL DEBATE WINNER BY PHILIP

Were Awarded Unanimous Decision Over the Haverford College Team.

Before an enthusiastic audience of over four hundred persons, the Freshman Debating Society won a unanimous decision over Haverford College in the annual debate between teams at the Bowery Theatre yesterday afternoon.

The debate was held in an auditorium of the Haverford Hall last night the judging services were Professor Albert Hare, of the Central High School, and H. H. Higginson, a prominent member of the Philadelphia Bar, and the Rev. Dr. Gladstone Holme.

Philip's representatives were: W. E. Smith, '09; Frank W. Melville, '08, and Frank A. Post, 8th, captain, with Henry C. Cramer, 8th, alternate. Haverford's men were Joseph P. Ebliton, '08; F. W. Keeler; Collin D. Drinker, '09, with Sidney Lowenstein, 8th, as alternate.

The affirmative argument in the main was based on three propositions: First, that compulsory arbitration is just and right for the people to have the right to construe contracts; second, that only legislative control of the arbitration will work; third, that compulsory arbitration will give that control, and is the best method and the system most consistent with our principles and ideas.

These arguments were successfully met by the negative at every point, with the principle 'that compulsory arbitration is not the only alternative. The negative proposed many better systems than that of compulsory arbitration, laying particular stress on the fact that the system supported by the Anthracite Coal Strike Committee was an excellent and amicable and unexceptional one. It was declared by Philip a unanimous decision.

Parke W. Henderson, '09, of the Haverford College team, was elected by the Haverford team.

The subject was: "Resolved, That disputes between employers and employees in the Anthracite Industry of Pennsylvania should be settled by a board of arbitration, and with power to enforce its findings, in which board each party shall have equal representation and an additional member or umpire shall be appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania without delay."
