ADDRESS BY DR. B. COOKE HIRST

On the Importance of Furthering Interests of the Southeastern Dispensary.

Dr. Barton Cooke Hirst addressed the members of the third-year medical class yesterday afternoon on the subject of the new hospitals of the Southeastern Dispensary of the University of Pennsylvania, which was formed with the object of furthering the interests of the Dispensary and of making the course in this branch of medicine more thorough. The immediate benefit to the medical students will be that they will not, as heretofore, be obliged to supply their own outfit. Since they will be equipped with a complete sterile outfit when called to a case.

Over three thousand dollars are needed annually to combat the disservice, and hitherto Dr. Hirst has been obliged to appeal to charitable friends for this amount and supplying the deficit himself.

Application for membership should be made to Dr. John Cooke Hirst, 1513 Pine street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Chess Match To-Night.

West Philadelphia Y. M. C. A. will play the Freshman team a four-board chess match this evening, at eight o'clock, in Houston Hall.

NEWS EDITOR FOR TO-DAY'S ISSUE.
T. L. DAILY.

Candidates for positions on The Pennsylvania editorial board are requested to report to to-day, at 11:30 o'clock, for assignments. It is desired that only Sophomores answer this call. Seniors and Juniors will not be recognized as candidates.

It is hoped that undergraduates will take an active interest next year in influencing Freshmen to try for the paper. If they do this, we are confident that a much larger number of candidates from the Freshman Class will report, as it is purpose to enroll as candidates none but members of that class.

An assignment editor will be in The Pennsylvania office to-day at the specified time to register all Sophomores who wish to try for the paper this year. Only those Sophomores who report this week will be recognized candidates next year.

Yesterday we showed that undergraduates do not support The Pennsylvania, and are anxious to point out why they should do their part toward making the University daily newspaper a success, and attempted to indicate in part how we think they may fulfill this important duty.

To-day we desire to explain our ideas in so much of the University daily should be and how it can be made more like the ideal that it is now.

The erroneous impression has obtained in the past that The Pennsylvania should be a college paper alone and so it has remained for years, with only held intervals, a chronicle of athletics and the doings of the undergraduates in the College Department.

As a matter of course under such a narrow regime the paper has not been interesting and indispensable to men in the professional schools. The Medical, Dental, Law and Veterinary Departments have depended entirely upon their bulletin boards for all that essential news of examinations, lectures, etc., which they should have read in The Pennsylvania and would have read there under normal conditions.

The abnormal conditions have been an inconvenience upon the part of both The Pennsylvania and the professional faculties as to the importance of this paper as a medium for furnishing students with all the interesting facts about their departments. The latter we hope to remedy: 1. By obtaining candidates from each department. 2. By proving to the members of the faculty that it is to the good of the school and that of The Pennsylvania that they should give us all the news at the proper time.

3. By printing each day all the professional school news that we can gather in addition to the usual College Department news.

This object cannot be accomplished without the cooperation of the entire University. In our aim to make The Pennsylvania a University paper we must be supported by faculty and students. We believe that the former are and always have been willing to treat us fairly and squarely. We only ask now that they shall send us whatever news of interest in their own department they may know about, especially to notify us concerning any lecture courses and other events. Under the system to be inaugurated next year we hope that nearly every member of the faculty will see a Pennsylvania representative each day.

Upon the undergraduates, as we have said before, depends entirely the possibility of carrying out these plans. In order to gather more news we must have more reporters and to increase the quantity of news each day we must have more money, hence more subscriptions.

Gymnasium Classes.

Classes in the gymnasium will continue daily at 12:30 and at 5:30 for the next two weeks for all men who are enrolled in gymnasium work. Signed: R. Tait McKenzie.

Medical Department.

Students of the department are hereby notified that the course of practical instruction continues until May 11th and didactic lectures until May 15th.

Freshman Track Team.

Members of the Freshman track team will meet in Gymnasium at five o'clock today to elect a captain. Signed: Joseph H. Cochran, assistant manager.
