The Pennsylvania has entered three boats in regatta. Quality of crews the best ever entered—Pennsylvania chances are considered very bright.

With the arrival of the Georgetown coaches yesterday the number of crews to take part in the Fifth Annual All-America Regatta of the American Rowing Association has been completed.

The Cornell and Yale second varsity eight were each given a morning run and an afternoon spin over the course. The Harvard Freshman and the Georgetown crew were also the river yesterday afternoon.

Pennsylvania's prospects for capturing the Stewart's Cup race are strong. Yale has a strong second eight entered in this event. The future of Harvard to send a second varsity eight as separate opponents to the University for the Stewart's Cup. The Yale second varsity, Bachee's Boat Club of Philadelphia, New York Athletic Club and the Nassau Boat Club of New York.

Besides Yale the Freshmen will have to meet the Quaker City Barge Club in the second eighth at stake race. The regular University second eight will race in the Junior collegiate contest, in which they will compete with the Cornell and Georgetown second eights and the Harvard Freshmen. Pennsylvania's entry in the second four has been withdrawn. A first pair-oared shell race at 2:30 o'clock will be the first event of the regatta. The Stewards' Cup occurs at 2:55, second eights at 2:56, octos at 4:19, and Junior eights at 6:10 o'clock.

The men received their new boats yesterday. After the race the ceiling will be put in a brand new shell, which has just arrived from its builder, John Hole, of Ilhae, N. Y. At an election, held yesterday afternoon, the debate was upon the subject of the university's decision to allow of the sale of alcoholic beverages in the Union. The affirmative was supported by A. W. Smith and C. J. Cole. The society by an overwhelming vote awarded the debate to the positive side. P. S. Strauss and David F. Keely. Essays were delivered by W. R. Worth and S. Strauss, while Norman W. Barker read the review. Harold Goodwin was critic.

Philadelphia Society Meets. Sunday meeting last evening was practically the last of the year, as the meeting last Friday evening was given over to the annual "Senior Night." Moderator Paul presided, and the debate was upon the subject postponed from two weeks ago, "Resolved, That the recent action of the Pennsylvania Legislature in passing the two-cent bill was justifiable." The affirmative was supported by A. W. Smith and C. J. Cole. The society by an overwhelming vote awarded the debate to the negative side. P. S. Strauss and David F. Keely. Essays were delivered by W. R. Worth and S. Strauss, while Norman W. Barker read the review. Harold Goodwin was critic.

INTERCOLLEGIATE TRACK MEET

Pennsylvania Picked to Win by a Good Number of Points Next Saturday.

For the first time since 1890 Pennsylvania stands a very good chance of winning the Intercollegiate Track Meet at Cambridge on May 31st and June 1st. The Red and Blue has the best men without dispute at least four events. These are Carruth in the 220 yards dash, Taylor in the quarter-mile event, Haskins in the mile, and Moffitt in the high jump. Besides this Carruth should win a place in the hundred yards, Rosnock will without doubt run a very close second to Taylor in the 440 yards and Captain Whitham will be sure to pick up a couple of points in the dashes. Taylor has been practicing for the half and unless he is stilled off by the 110 yards event, he will figure in the point column for this race. In the distance run Cornell and Michigan apparently have the advantage, but the advent of Michigan to intercollegiate circles will cut down Cornell's points in these and prevent the men from either club from getting away. Keeler, of Cornell, was left to pick up quite a few points in the ten, has a sprint in the tender, and will be unable to help his Atlanta. The pole vault and long jump will hardly be won by Pennsylvania, but Swain, Fitzpatrick and Fells in the vault and Fowle and Long in the shot put will be heard from. Should any of the extra point winners weaken, these men will be ready to jump in and win a few points. Captain Jones, of the cross-country team, will run his usual game race, and will figure among the place winners, though with the Michigan and Cornell men competing against him he can hardly win first place. Others who are good for a place are Haydock, Plumley, Root, Brock, McCormick and Carrathers.

Sophos Win at Cricket.

Yesterday afternoon the Sophomores added another victory to their list by defeating the first-year men in the half mile by the close score of 34-98. The result was undecided up to the very last moment and was hard fought through. The batting of Carrothers was the feature of the game, he scored 8 runs off Pennington, and with Carrothers and Cornell men competing against him he can hardly win first place. Others who are good for a place are Haydock, Plumley, Root, Brock, McCormick and Carrathers.

Meeting with Swarthmore.

This afternoon at 2:15 o'clock Pennsylvania will oppose Swarthmore in a dual track meet. While the meet will not be as close as in many college meets, yet the Swarthmore men are undeniably good. The first-year men are a fair team to win their events. Krueger in the shot put and hammer throw will undoubtedly make Pennington, Levy and Kinsard work to win first place. Borer is also very good in the half mile, though Pennsylvania's half-mile runners will not render this race as doubtful as the shot put. Rosnock and Taylor will without doubt distance Henry of Swarthmore, in the quarter-mile race.

“THE MAN FROM DENVER.”

The term of “The Mayor of Laughland,” who, with his many followers, is holding forth at the Park so successfully, has been extended in consequence of his great success—relected as it were for another term, and he is good for it. Of all the comic opera potentiates, musical magistrates and royal fanmakers, to Tom Waters belongs the medal, and it will be very questionable indeed if, at the termination of his run of fun, whether his chief magistrate, Casper Newkow, the toy man, will not be a candidate for the Mayorality himself. Half the success of a successful administration is the ability to surround one’s self with capable lieutenants, and the Nixon and Zimmerman Company have certainly surrounded Tom Waters and Casper Newkow, in “The Mayor of Laughland” with an able bunch of comedians and singers as has ever been seen here, while the chorus is sure to prove a standard by which choonons in the future will be graded. They not only have voices and figures but are in reality a beauty chorus.
