Large Number of Candidates Report. Joint Concert with Cornell.

The exercises attendant upon the opening of the thirtieth annual session of the Department of Dentistry were held in the Proctor Hall. Fully three hundred students of that department, adhered on both the speakers of the evening. Provost Harrison delivered the introductory address, which followed the introductory address by Professor Charles A. Brackett, D. D., of Harvard University Dental School.

Dr. Hugh A. Clarke opened the exercises with a musical selection, which was followed by the invocation, delivered by Rev. Crosswell W. Arlott, rector of the Trinity Episcopal Church, Lansdowne, Pa.

Edward C. Kirk, Dean of the Dental Department, presided, and presented Provost Harrison, who was received with loud cheers. Dr. Kirk expressed the pleasure which he felt in being present to welcome the incoming class to Pennsylvania, dwelling especially upon the future life at Pennsylvania. The profound educational value derived from the cosmopolitan character of Pennsylvania and particularly in the Dental Department was also touched upon by the Provost.

Dr. Brackett extended to the University of Pennsylvania cordial greetings on behalf of the University of Harvard. He took for the theme of his address the following quotation, "Nothing develops the character better than to put the ordinary trade to the highly scientific plane which it has attained in the professional school." The exercises closed with the singing of the University hymn, "Hail, Pennsylvania!"

Additions to the Library.

The Library has made several valuable additions to its shelves and collections during the past summer by gift and by purchase, among which are the following:

T. W. H. Stach has projected a novel, "The Bride of Jesus' God," written by his cousin, Frederick E. Ormer Stach, published in Chicago, 1922. It deals with the life of Jesus of Galilee, and has been highly spoken of for its beautiful and accurate descriptions of scene-and of life.

A number of old-fashined cards of the Medical Department in the early years of its existence have been presented by Mrs. Reed and by Mrs. E. E. Rabiner. These cards have been placed in frames and are now on view in the Library; the lobby has also been decorated with a number of pictures of the University's older buildings. Another of the beautiful pictures of the library, presented to the Library by spring, has been hung in the outer room. It is a large photograph of domes of "St. George's" from Florence, and hangs just above the entrance to the reading room.

Tennis Practice Started.

"This tennis practice has already been under direction of Captain Register, the personnel of the team remains unchanged with the exception of H. Kinney, '99, C. W. which recent illness prevents from playing. Trials for the vacant position have resulted in the selection of A. Allender, '31, C. W. who completed last summer's Middle States tournament at Orange, N. J.

A tournament under the auspices of the Intercollegiate Association will be played at noonday tomorrow at Merion Cricket Club, Pennsylvania. Penn will be represented by H. B. Registrator, '99, editor; R. M. Phillips, '98; J. B. Allender, '31, and A. A. Baker, '10.

Reception to Wharton Freshmen.

The Wharton Association will give a reception to Wharton School first-year students to-morrow evening, at eight o'clock, in the smoking room, Logan Hall. The committee—Barrett, Warden, Calender, Hipple, E. J. Norman, and Moore, chairman—will meet in the smoking room of Logan Hall today at one o'clock. Signed: Paul Kilman, president.

nying come to us. We have given satisfaction for eight years and will continue to please you and cater to your wants. Wharton School.

Grace Cameron, with her open company of strolling players, is the attraction at the Grand Opera House this week. Miss Cameron has appeared in many styles of parts in her splendid career with such organizations as the "Bostonians," "Peary Quiller," "Johnnie Comes Marching Home," "The Tenderfoot," the Savoy Grand Opera Company, "Peer Pat Poulter," etc., etc., but none that are so pertinently fitted to her great versatility as the role she now plays—"Little Dolly Dimples."
