TENNIS TEAM REACHES THE SEMI-FINALS IN TOURNAMENT

REGISTER AND TILDEN WIN IN DOUBLES, TILDEN IN SINGLES.

Eight Colleges Compete for Championships—Pennsylvania Ranks Second at End of First Day's Play.

This year's Varsity tennis team made its first appearance in competition last Wednesday in the opening round of the intercollegiate championships on the grounds of the Merion Cricket Club at Haverford. In yesterday's play Tilden reached the semi-final, and Register and Tilden in doubles.

This year eight colleges are in competition for the championships, namely, Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Williams, Cornell, Haverford and Pennsylvania. The points at present stand: Yale, 4; Pennsylvania, 3; Princeton, 3; Columbia, 2, and Haverford, 1.

The Pennsylvania team consists of working members and alumni M. Tilden, R. M. Philiber and A. C. Thayer. All but Thayer played at least one tournament.

Since 1905 Pennsylvania has won three championships, twice in singles and once in doubles, and has always finished up well on the list of contestants. The chances this year are not quite so bright as they have been during the last few years, but the team should give a good account of itself with any kind of luck in the drawings.

The establishment of the rule barreling the present season, the contest depends on Pennsylvania's good chances in both events. Wallace P. Johnson, the national intercollegiate champion, has entered the Pennsylvania class and who has shown no inordinate skill to the team.

Resolutions.
The Sphinx Senior Society adopted the following resolutions of Clayton Fotteller McMichael, '91 C.

Whereas, it has pleased Almighty God to remove from our midst one of our beloved fellow-member, Clayton Fotteller McMichael; therefore, be it Resolved, That in the death of Clayton Fotteller McMichael this society has lost an honored and esteemed member and the University of Pennsylvania, in whose interests he labored, a faithful and upright son.

Undergraduate Committee Meeting.
A meeting of the Students' Undergraduate Committee was held at 8 o'clock, to-day, in Atman Hall. Signed: Richard N. Philiber, chairman.

The meeting was opened by Professor G. Mench the president, and by the treasurer, who reported the financial condition of the society. The following officers were elected: president, J. M. Irwin; vice-president, C. F. Smith; secretary, W. B. Willett; and treasurer, J. T. J. Hogestyn.

Tennis sevices.

The physical examination of the football team has been completed with the following results as to weight: Greene, 199; Pollack, 196; Hoffecker, 172; Burns, 172; Dickson, 163; Woodburn, 169; Morse, 158; Mcelhinney, 242; Regan, 169; Pennix, 106; Townsend, 180; Oatman, 175; Galagher, 181; Miller, 135; A. Smith, 167; De Bo, 130. It will be seen that every member of the team is in proper condition. The heaviest men of the 1907 Varsity. The weights and statistics of the Freshmen eleven have not yet been compiled.

The physical examination of the Freshmen has begun. Notices will be sent to each man, stating the time of his appointment for examination and failure to keep this appointment will result in being dropped from the team.

Dr. McKenney has not yet determined how, or to what extent, this examination will be so thorough as to include a finger ring. Owners may have these returned to college at any time. The finger rings will be held until the union, and it is expected that they will be returned to owners.

Team Practice to Begin.
The football practice will commence this afternoon. Freshmen, whether they have had any experience or not, are urged to report at the college boat house in Fairmount Park, near the foot of the street.

The regatta for the College championships will be held the latter part of October. This will be warmly contested this year by the Class of 1910 and the Class of 1909. The Sophomores will lose the services of their best men, Bradbeck and Crooks, who are playing football. It is in no way early to forecast this year's Varsity, but at present all indications seem to point to one of the best ever Pennsylvania has had for some years.

Captain Kinig, Emery, Ballard, Rogers, Mills and several of the crew have returned to College, and will aid materially in the result of the meet.

Meeting of Second-Year Specials.
A meeting of the second-year Specials of the Department of Architecture was held at 1:30 this afternoon in the new classroom at the College of Architecture. The meeting was opened by Professor W. C. Martin and closed by Professor H. W. Nichols. After the roll call, the following officers were elected: president, E. C. Bittner; vice-president, W. A. Miller; secretary, W. B. Willett; and treasurer, W. H. Atwood.

The meeting over, informal arrangements will be made for a meeting of the Architectural Society to Meet.

Architectural Society to Meet.
The Architectural Society will hold its first regular meeting of the year in the rooms of the society in College Hall at 7:30 this evening, at which time the following officers, who were elected last spring, will be present: President, R. D. Basset; vice-president, W. A. Miller; secretary, H. D. Coldwell; treasurer, O. M. Baxter.

It is very important that every member present, as many as possible, have his interest to all will be discussed.

Architectural Society to Meet.
The Architectural Society will hold its first regular meeting of the year in the rooms of the society in College Hall at 7:30 this evening, at which time the following officers, who were elected last spring, will be present: President, R. D. Basset; vice-president, W. A. Miller; secretary, H. D. Coldwell; treasurer, O. M. Baxter.

It is very important that every member present, as many as possible, have his interest to all will be discussed.

The meeting will be open to all members and students, and all officers will be present. Members of the faculty, the College of Fine Arts, and the department's standing body.

Phile-North America Debate.
Relations, temporarily strained, have been resumed by the Philomathie Society and the Debating Union of the University of North Carolina, and the debate will possibly be held at Chapel Hill, N. C., on Friday evening, November 15th. The misunderstanding was caused by the election of a new secretary of the Debating Union and the latter to immediately communicate this fact to Phi.

Notice to Architect and Engineers.
Mr. Peirce, 208 South 4th Street, will hold a meeting at 12 o'clock, to-day, to discuss plans for the Gateway to the Garden City of the North. The meeting will be open to all members and students, and all officers will be present. Members of the faculty, the College of Fine Arts, and the department's standing body.

While the men who played as the University locker team in Great Britain this summer were more than rewarded for their hard work by the pleasure of the trip abroad, never did the coaching of the better upon these men by the Athletic Association was no more than a proper recognition of their merit. The entire University is proud of the men who won their "T" by representing Pennsylvania with honesty and creditably in another country.

The beautifying of William E. Johnson, '01 C, as a candidate for the tenpin team because he is a Freshman is unfortunate but very properly enforced by the rule. Johnson, who holds the Philadelphia tennis championship title, will undoubtedly be able to do good work for Pennsylvanians next year. Meanwhile we must depend upon those who are not quite so strong to win laurels on the intercollegiate courts. It is time that the University secured more tenpin heroes.

Yesterday's score against Villa Nova looks much better on paper than it was last year, and the indications are that the University eleven is correspondingly better. Last year this miner team was able to score two touchdowns and goal. This team is a heavy and aggressive one and gave the 'Villes some excellent practice yesterday.

We were glad to hear the singing and cheering. There was some very good practice. The new song leader was efficient, and will undoubtedly produce huge results this year. We would advise the election or selection of two undergraduate cheer leaders as soon as possible. If this matter is left until late in the season the inexperienced men may not be able to do themselves or the undergraduates justice. Surely a leader should be forthcoming from the Senior Class.

Wharton School Reception.

The Wharton Association held its annual meeting last night in the association room in Logan Hall. A large number of the first-year men were treated to an excellent program, which was thoroughly appreciated. The exercises of the evening were opened by Paul Rittenberg, '08 C, president of the association, who extended a hearty welcome to the entering men, and followed with a few words of friendly advice and the basic lesson as to how to conduct the Wharton School. He then introduced Norman C. Moore, '08 C, as chairman of the evening.

Representatives of the upper classes welcomed the Freshmen to the Whar- ton School. Frank Rittenberg, '03 C, spoke in behalf of the Senior Class. Arthur M. Wood, '03 C, for the Juniors, and Harry Brandlach, '03 C, represented the Sophomores.

The usual pleasantries of college life were met forth by the speakers of the evening who urged the Freshmen to dig in both as regards athletics and studies. Captain Pfeiffer of the Tenpin football team, in a brief address advised the new men to get into some line of student activity and stick to it.

The crew was represented by Cap- tain Howard Eitel. He urged every Freshman who was physically able to report for the crew in tomorrow.

William H. Phillips, '08 C, president of the Senior Class, also addressed the new men. He spoke in a hurry to the Seniors, dwelling especially on the need of crew candidates.

Trumbull Murphy was to have spoken, but owing to a slight illness he was unable to be present.

Several pleasing vocal selections were rendered by Calvin E. Bonavita, '03 C, who was recently engaged. A member of the members of last year's College Club were present and their singing was a feature of the evening. J. Archibald Williams accentuated on the piano.

Red and Blue Candidates.

Owing to gradations and resigna- tions, a total organisation of the "Red and Blue" board will be neces- sary. But five members of last year's editorial staff have returned to College, while the business department numbers but two men. There will, in consequence, be plenty of room for new men on the board. Competition will begin next week. All students with any experience in newspaper or magazine writing and all who, having actual experience, have literary inclina- tions are invited to communicate with the editor-in-chief, F. A. Paul, or the managing editor, W. R. Kane, '98 C, in their earliest opportunity. Poems, essays, short stories, reviews and characteristic sketches will be re- ceived at any time at the office, 13 College Hall, and all students who so desire will be assigned subjects to work upon by the editorial department.

More candidates than have al- ready reported are needed in the busi- ness department, and all students who desire to compete for places on this end of the board are asked to see the business manager, W. G. Raper, '03 C, at once. The office will be open every day during this and next week at 11:15 o'clock for registration.

"Glittering Gloria"—Chestnut.
No failure or defeat ever came from the pen of an American author than "Glittering Gloria," which will be presented here for the first time in Philadelphia, by the Orphans' Dramatic Stock Company, at the Chestnut Street Theatre next week.
This delightful Farce comedy is by that gifted playwright, C. S. L. McElchen, author of such successes as "The Belle of New York," in which Edna May made the hit of her career, and "Los Klehna," one of the most powerful plays in which Mrs. Fiske has thus far appeared.
The name "Glittering Gloria" is that of a popular chorus girl appearing in a London musical hall.
Five men, all differing in figures from one another-as the sun differs from the stars—are eager to bestow gifts on Gloria.
One of them is a married man, the second is a wild Texan, who has a great and extravagant desire for the same diamond necklace.
The wife and fiancée of the first two of Gloria's admirers are in the jewelry shop when the purchase of the necklace is made by the husband.
The situation which ensues and the additional complications that follow can hardly be described, they're so ludicrous.
Of course "Glittering Gloria" gets the necklace, but strange to say not from any of her three wealthy admirers.
The necklace falls into the hands of a poor country lawyer, also an admirer of Gloria, who presents it to her in the presence of his rival.
After this scene the farce follows fast and furious.
Miss Josephine Stewart will be seen in the title role and Mr. Ingersoll will have an excellent rôle as Jack Jones, the husband whose purchase of the necklace for Gloria will make all the trouble.

Garrick—"The Lion and the Mouse."

The Lion and the Mouse.
John L. Loew of the American Drama has a play received with such wide advertising or merit that it has been played in London, in every big city of the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and will be seen in Australia this season, and is now being translated into French and German for production in Paris and Berlin.
The reason for this is apparent in the theme or motif of the play, which depends upon three all-important factors—love, politics, and finance.
The story is by this time known to everyone. Henry P. Harris is upholding the standard of his company, and despite the fact that this is the third season of "The Lion and the Mouse," he still maintains practically the entire cast which opened in New York and remained there for over a year.

Walden—"The Virginian."

"The Virginian," Owen Wister's fascinating romance of the West, is continuing at the Walnut.
Mr. H. H. Hart, who succeeded Deakin Farnum as "The Virginian," is a real Westerner, and strange though it may seem, he is now playing a part that brings him back to his boyhood days. Mr. Hart is one of the best stage Westerners of the present time, and his work as "The Virginian" is natural, intelligent, artless.
From the first moment, with his picturesque sketch as "Trampas," is one of the best bits of acting in the play. Anne Mowat makes a pretty and winning "Molly Wood."
The Kirk LaShelle Company is to be complimented for the excellent cast it has presented to the public. The acting of G. A. Forbes as "Blair" is worthy of especial mention.

Grand—"Little Dollie Dimples."
Grace Cameron, with her opera company of sixty people, in the alternation at the Grand Opera House this week. Miss Cameron has appeared in many styles of parts in her splendid career with such organizations as the "Bostonians," "Foxy Garter," "Johnnie Cosmopolitan Marching Home," "The Tenderfoot," the Savage Grand Opera Company, "The Puff Puff Post," etc., etc., etc., none that are so peculiarly fitted to her great versatility as the role she now plays in "Little Dollie Dimples."

There are many musical features in "Dollie Dimples," among them are one written by a Philadelphia, W. Dayton Wegfarth, it is a character song entitled, "No One Dreams About Me," and is sung by Miss Tempest. The piece does not fail to solicit encour after encore during every performance.

Mr. Wegfarth is also the writer of "Where Are You Going Sunday?" and several other popular compositions.
