Wednesday, October 7, 1903

We were fortunate yesterday in having at Pennsylvania Assembly, Justice Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court, who addressed students in Houston Hall at the University of Pennsylvania services. Those who cannot attend these morning addresses agree much that they will prove after life. The most practical and wise-sake students at Pennsylvania are those who make the most of all their advantage while they are in college and who neglect no chance to hear wise advice from the best men of the country who frequently speak here. When you have left college you will be extremely sorry that you threw away your opportunity to receive invaluable inspiration from men such as Justice Brewer, former Governor, Darby, Bishop Talbott, the Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, of Princeton, and many others who visit the University.

The University's magnificent football team gave promise on Franklin Field Saturday afternoon of great things in the game that are to come. While the work was extremely rugged and many penalties had to be imposed upon Pennsylvania for offside play and violation of the rules, yet on the whole the results as they appeared in the Bucknell contest are encouraging. The football played was better than that seen in the rain on the previous Saturday. Particular stars shone to advantage. Hagan in the quarter-back position ran his team well and did some snappy work, while Captain Pulzlew again distinguished himself as a ground-gainer. The exhibition of forward passing given in the second half showed that we considerably outclassed our opponents in this department of the game, as in every other. While it was unfortunate that Bucknell was able to score a safety, we can still be glad that our goal line has not been crossed and confidently hope that it will not be crossed again this game.

Park—"The Spoilers."
"The Spoilers" is the attraction at the Park this week for the second and last week of its engagement. The scene of the story is Alaska, that great mystic land of ice and snow. Ten years ago almost nothing was known of that great ice-bound territory, but the great gold discoveries changed all that and placed Alaska on the lip of every tongue. The story of this play is founded upon the ruthless hunting of the great fields of Nome and the disposition, through a scandalized process of law, of the miners who had stolen their claims through out the rich district. The principal character of the story is Roy Gib- ler, and the chief interest lies in the struggle between him and the arch conspirator, MacNamara, for the possession of the mine.
