THE PENNSYLVANIAN BOARD
WITHDRAWS FROM RULE

FAILING OFF OF CANDIDATES
NECESSITATES CHANGE.

Professional Department Men Urged to Compete for Positions on Board.
Need Not Take Up English Class.

THE PENNSYLVANIAN finds that it was through the writer of the rule adopted at the end of last year limiting membership to THE PENNSYLVANIAN to those who have registered in English Course No. 257, History, that the necessity has been re-quirmed.

Owing to changes now under way in the organization of the editorial board it will be impossible at this time to abide by the rule. A man who can prove that he is able to get the news without being sent after it, or who he is not after is able to obtain it accurately and write it as we require it, is obviously the best candidate in the chance of making the board.

While the number of names is preferable and will stand a better chance of election than members of other classes, it is especially requested that none of the names be submitted who have not worked before, we would also encourage them to compete for positions. The competition will be run on a class basis, that is to say no member of one class can render himself as competing with a member of any other. A man who is not a Freshman, however, will have to show a higher degree of efficiency than a Freshman.

Zelosbian Society Reception.

Over fifty men from all departments of the University were present at a snacker and informational reception tendered by the Zelosbian Society last night to candidates for admission to the society. The addresses were made by W. C. Schermerhorn, white, vice-president and S. Rosenbau, master of archives, and the guests were in the main in that of Zelo's hospitality.

At the regular meeting after the reception a following team was chosen to represent Zelo in the competition but no such team was chosen.

All classes in the College excepting that in French are due to have special gatherings at the close of the year, as the University is about to end its term.

The Undergraduate Committee has promised to hold the project, and is now doing all in its power to promote the plan. We hope the classes will not be hurried in adopting the suggestion, but will act upon it at once. There is no time like the present.

The University, however, while not neglecting the matter, is under consideration and adoption the "honors system in elections" for use in all their future elections. Such an example would, it is generally believed, lead to the adoption of the system hereafter as a Pennsylvania custom.

Swordsmanship comes to Franklin Field to-day with a determination to repeat her good fortune of last year, when the Quaker college defeated the University 4-0. This team of strong football players wants another victory and has decided to get it if it lies within the power of "Little Swordsmen" to achieve.

"The work at the University is to be encouraged. Even if the young men do not go into the services, they will never regret the knowledge gained in preparation, for it is of a kind that especially makes for good citizenship.

Steven, after the game at Ann Arbor, is a much stronger one than last year, and is looking forward to the contest with the University with a determination to hold on to the drawing for the free nip depends upon the frequency of your visits to the Shop. Drawing will be made Wednesday, November 12th.
