THE CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION ANNOUNCES SUNDAY SPEAKERS TO CONDUCT MORNING SERVICES WEEKLY IN HOUSTON HALL.

The List Includes Some of the Most Famous Clergymen and Orators To Be Found in This County.

The Christian Association, despite a number of late acceptances, is now ready to announce the schedule of speakers who will conduct the University services each Sunday morning for the remainder of the year in Houston Hall. Among the list of names already determined are the following:

- Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, LL. D., President of the University of Central Pennsylvania; November 28th.
- Rev. Dr. Charles Wood, LL. D., Dean of the Law School; December 5th.
- Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, LL. D., President of the University of Central Pennsylvania; December 12th.
- Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, LL. D.; December 19th.
- Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, LL. D.; December 26th.
- Rev. Dr. Henry Van Dyke, LL. D.; January 2nd.

This annual feature of the Christian Association's work is "no more popular." Those taken out from the University House pay almost the full expense of the entertainment.

The association announces that a large number of volunteer student workers are ready to assist the University, Twenty-sixth and Lombard streets, where the annual commencement will be held on November 25th. The annual commencement will consist of five camps. University students are urged to attend under the general direction of Martin Hayes Bracken, B. A., and Dr. S. MacCormack, and K. A. Bishop.

ADDRESS BY HON. JOHN M. GEST

Kneu Hump: Shown in "Practical Suggestions for Drawing Wills." The first of a series of lectures upon technical and vital legal questions which has been instituted by the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, and presented by John Marshall Gest, Esq., the reputation of Mr. Gest, formerly president of the Philadelphia Trust Company, render him especially fitted for the purposes of this lecture series.

The first of these lectures, delivered on Thursday, October 17, was marked by a spirit of frankness and directness which made it of much benefit to the students. The lecture was on the subject of "The Receiver of Wills." Mr. Gest said in part:

"Every man who knows how to pick up a pen he knows how to write a will, but it is no less easy to draw a proper will. Testators have such a reluctance to pay a fee to a lawyer that they will draw their wills themselves rather than pay for making them intricate and absurd and entailing a lawsuit upon their posterity.

A will should, therefore, be made deliberately by a competent lawyer, with sufficient time and care expended for composition and revision. Few testators know their own property. It is as necessary to consult a lawyer as to employ a careful and competent waiter for a special diet.

A will should be made by a lawyer who is skilled and able to draft a proper will. The law of Pennsylvania is so intricate that a will must be made by a lawyer who knows the law and can draft a proper will.

The first of a series of lectures upon technical and vital legal questions which has been instituted by the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, and presented by John Marshall Gest, Esq., the reputation of Mr. Gest, formerly president of the Philadelphia Trust Company, render him especially fitted for the purposes of this lecture series.

The first of these lectures, delivered on Thursday, October 17, was marked by a spirit of frankness and directness which made it of much benefit to the students. The lecture was on the subject of "The Receiver of Wills." Mr. Gest said in part:

"Every man who knows how to pick up a pen he knows how to write a will, but it is no less easy to draw a proper will. Testators have such a reluctance to pay a fee to a lawyer that they will draw their wills themselves rather than pay for making them intricate and absurd and entailing a lawsuit upon their posterity.

A will should, therefore, be made deliberately by a competent lawyer, with sufficient time and care expended for composition and revision. Few testators know their own property. It is as necessary to consult a lawyer as to employ a careful and competent waiter for a special diet.

A will should be made by a lawyer who is skilled and able to draft a proper will. The law of Pennsylvania is so intricate that a will must be made by a lawyer who knows the law and can draft a proper will.

The first of a series of lectures upon technical and vital legal questions which has been instituted by the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania, and presented by John Marshall Gest, Esq., the reputation of Mr. Gest, formerly president of the Philadelphia Trust Company, render him especially fitted for the purposes of this lecture series.

The first of these lectures, delivered on Thursday, October 17, was marked by a spirit of frankness and directness which made it of much benefit to the students. The lecture was on the subject of "The Receiver of Wills." Mr. Gest said in part:

"Every man who knows how to pick up a pen he knows how to write a will, but it is no less easy to draw a proper will. Testators have such a reluctance to pay a fee to a lawyer that they will draw their wills themselves rather than pay for making them intricate and absurd and entailing a lawsuit upon their posterity.

A will should, therefore, be made deliberately by a competent lawyer, with sufficient time and care expended for composition and revision. Few testators know their own property. It is as necessary to consult a lawyer as to employ a careful and competent waiter for a special diet.

A will should be made by a lawyer who is skilled and able to draft a proper will. The law of Pennsylvania is so intricate that a will must be made by a lawyer who knows the law and can draft a proper will.
THE PENNSYLVANIAN
Entered at Philadelphia Post Office as second-class matter.
Published daily (Sunday excepted) during the University year in the interest of The Students of the University of Pennsylvania.

EDIT- IN-CHIEF: ROBERT L. LÖWE, '08.
ASSISTANT MANAGING EDITOR: R. E. ROSENZWEIG, '09.
Business Manager's Office Hours: 1 to 2 P.M. M. D.
Office: 142 Woodland Avenue.

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1907.

NEWS EDITOR OF TO-DAY S ISSUE.
RITNER K. WALLING.

We would be pleased to have undergraduates discuss in those columns their views upon an eight o'clock Chapel hour. It is probable that if the undergraduates desire the change, it will be made by the Academic Council. We call for letters expressing sentiment either for or against the idea.

We are glad to publish the first football song that has been submitted to us. It is by N. W. Harker, '08 C. As promised, we will present the song today to-day's issue.

TUNE: "MARY ANN."

Are you coming out to-day—to play football?
We are here to teach the way—to play football.
Here's a team that waits for you. And each man wears Red and Blue, And its backed.
That's a fact. With a hand Rich! Rich!
It's a game that's hard to beat—old football.
If our team you want—at football—
There's a linem' wals for you. Get 'yer cheer up. Don't look so blue.
Are you coming out to-day—to play football?

There is a way in which undergraduates and graduates also can help support THE PENNSYLVANIAN, and already we have received assurances from certain quarters that this help will be extended—we mean cooperation in the matter of patronage for those who use our advertising columns. Advertising in college papers must always be a mutual arrangement between students and business houses if it is to be successful.

Certain firms at the present time who supply the necessary things for all class and University affairs claim that they need advertisements to advertise the business. They should be made to see that they have made a mistake. Others can understand them and will, and are waiting to know if they advertise, should be given the preference. This will be the case in several instances this year, and should be made the general practice by all classes and all undergraduates.

We ask men to show loyalty to Pennsylvania in many ways, and one of them is by supporting this paper, which belongs to the undergraduates, in whose interests it is published and upon whom it reflects credit or dishonor, according to their own attitude toward it. One of the best ways to support THE PENNSYLVANIAN is by patronizing those who advertise, in preference to those who do not.

News of Other Colleges.
Sixty per cent of this year's entering class at Brown University have registered for engineering courses.

The editorial column of nearly all the college papers contain appeals to their student bodies to write new football songs.

The trustees of Williams College are considering a plan to build a large new dormitory, in which a students' eating house will be situated.

The Cercle Francais of Harvard will present "Drunken" early in December, and has already selected the cast, which includes fourteen men.

Rowing practice at Columbia is progressing steadily. On Monday there were three Varsity eight, two Freshman eights, and a Freshman six on the Hudson.

Mr. John D. Rockefeller has presented the University of Chicago a gift of $200,000, which will be used in building the William R. Harper Memorial Library.

State College and Dickinson will meet at Franklin and Marshall College on November 14th, at which time the track management expects to begin its selections for the college teams.

The members of the Deutscher Verein of Columbia University are planning to take part in the parade in honor of the unveiling of the monument to the noted German Civil War veteran, General Franz Sigel, on Saturday, October 19th.

Gymnastic Practice.
All the crews except the veterinary practiced yesterday afternoon upon the river, rowing up to the Columbia Avenue Bridge. The crews are rapidly rounding into form for the fall regatta, which will be held in about two weeks. Of the crews the Seniors of the College seem to have the best chance of winning the regatta, they having an entire veteran crew, including the "Varsity" captain, Rinig. The Sophomores have about five of the men that represented Pennsylvania at Poughkeepsie last June, but Crooks, their captain, is playing football, which is of course a handicap. The Juniors have a fair chance also, Rogers, Watson and Ballard having seats in their boat. The medical, veterinary, and other department crews, as well as the College Freshmen, have comparatively unseasoned crews.

Gymnastic Instructor Appointed.
Mr. W. J. Cronle, a former physical director of the Germantown Y. M. C. A., will take Mr. Mason's place as gymnastic instructor. He has had considerable experience as a coach in wrestling and swimming. Mr. Cronle founded the Pyramid Club and has been a distinguished member of the Y. M. C. A. He has written several books on dumb-bell, rings and the medicine ball. Mr. Mason, if they undertake the same duties as director of the Municipal Gymnasium in Brooklyn, will remain for a couple of days to assist in getting the year's work started.

The physical examinations are almost completed, and on November 4th the regular gymnastic work will commence. In the meanwhile instruction is being given in both swimming and rowing.

Let Us Supply You with the Things You Need In Books, Stationery and Other Supplies

If you have a complete line of goods last year and the prices were right, this year we are again well stocked with every essential of a College Man, and we would be glad to have you call at your earliest opportunity.

The Houston Club Book Store
The Pennsylvanian

The Pennsylvanian Printing Company
3451 Woodland Avenue

This plant is owned by University Alumni and operated in the interests of Pennsylvanians.
We solicit your patronage.

Address by Hon. John M. Gesti

(Continued from First Page.)

promote effort of the will so that the student may have full opportunity to consider his act.

Be careful, however, in advising, not to incur the risk of being accused of having made the advice yourself.
In taking instructions for the will it is a good plan to have the client write a preliminary draft himself, as a basis to work on. The memoranda will, moreover, frequently prove valuable as evidence.

The mental condition of the testator himself should be carefully considered. Testamentary capacity is not always a simple matter to determine, but counsel should be satisfied with it, aside from the natural presumption in favor of the testator's sanity arising from his judicious selection of counsel, for if the will is afterward contested on the ground of incapacity, the draughtsman will be called a witness, and runs the risk of sublimifying himself if the testator's tack of capacity appears.

medical news.

Lectures in pharmacology for third-year class will be given on Tuesday, at eleven o'clock, in Room A.

Members of the third-year class will be given on Tuesday, and Thursday, at three o'clock, respectively.

Members of the first-year class who have completed their examinations will have their certificates, rendering them eligible for examination in general chemistry, may appear for examination at 2:30 P. M. on Saturday, October 11th, in the chemical lecture room.

First-Year Law Elections.
The elections of officers in the first-year law class in the Law School resulted as follows: President, Byrom A.
Miller; secretary, Norman W.
Harker; treasurer, Monroe H. Andrey; evacutive committee, Edward Hopkinson, Jr., Harry H. Hepron, Frank N.
 Flux-Gerald. The result of the election for vice-president showed no candidate with a majority vote, so the election for this office will take place at 12:15 o'clock today.

Gun Team Practice To-Day.
All candidates for the gun team will take the 24 train for Clearview from Twenty-fourth and Chestnut streets to-day or else take a Dinky car and exchange on Island road.

While most of last year's team have returning to campus, yet it is earnestly desired that a large number of new men will report to-day. On Monday another shoot will be held at the same time and place. Signed: L. B.
Wedem, captain.

Fencing Club to Meet.
The University Fencing Club will meet in the fencing room of the gym at five o'clock this evening, in stead of eight o'clock, as announced in yesterday's PENNSYLVANIAN.
Signed: R. B. Bill, manager.

Civil Engineering Society.
The Civil Engineering Society will hold its first meeting of the year 1907-98 on Friday, October 18th, at 8:15 P. M., at its room on the third floor of the Kelp Engineering Building.

Lecha Club Meeting.
A meeting of the Lecha Club will be held at 652 Baldwin House this Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, sharp,

Banjo Club Rehearsal.
There will be rehearsal of the Banjo Club to-night, in Logan Hall, at 8:30 o'clock. All men out. Signed:
N. W. Harker, leader.

Address by Hon. John M. Gesti
Moore Push-Pins

To bring things up:

Now may it be my bound line be a good material. Your comfort seems provided, but it's not always the right. Your room with plowing, I will help pin a Ens round like it. In what, do not say it. Don't buy your drawing material any longer. A roll of the right. Douglas, the man who is the ideal. Don't buy your drawing material any longer. A roll of the right. Douglas, the man who is the ideal.