BOWL FIGHT READY FOR FRIDAY

WILL BE MORE SCIENTIFIC SAYS UNDERGRADUATE COMMITTEE.

Both Classes Make Efforts to Get Out.

Larger Number of Men Than Usual.

Class of 1910 Expects to Win Again.

The annual Sophomore-Freshman Bowl Fight will be held on Friday of this week. The announced, arrangements have been made, the two classes are ready, Franklin Field will be the place, and 1:15 o'clock the time.

Full house has become such an integral part of Pennsylvania custom and tradition that a description of the overflowing scene alone seems superfluous and unnecessary.

The fight dates back over thirty years. At that time it was a crude affair. A thin wooden bowl was used. The undergraduate team had their scientists in the running on the University practical experiment course, and the rest was as it were. None but the students themselves knew the names by which they were designated in a street dialect. The object was to break the bowl on a live sheep.

Today the fight has become a more organized game, with the underclassmen composing the teams and forming a set of rules. The chief position appointing the officials for the game is that somedays ago assumed in yesterday's Pennsylvania's, which act as scorekeepers and prevent unnecessary brutality.

There are two halves in the fight. In the first half the Freshmen try to put the bowl in the bowl in the bowl. The team line up about forty yards apart and it is given general credit at each other. When the fight starts the bowl is in the possession of the Sophomores.

In the second half the sides line up again and try to pull on the string to get the bowl in the hands on the bowl. The side having the bowl has advantage.

Last year's fight was won by 1935, and this year's is an opportunity of again capturing the "spare.""\n
"Varsity Football Men Returning.

Looking at the prospects for next year's football team, it is to be seen that the University will be repre-resented on the gridiron by just as strong an eleven as during the past season. The only members of this year's team that will be making the play next fall are Folwell, Greene and Hollenbeck. These three players have been the very backbone of the eleven this year, and their loss will be greatly felt. With the scratch and Freshman team to draw from, how\nthere are not a little doubt as to the chances of developing a champion eleven a year hence.

Football Trophy.

In the Houston Club trophy room is a cup bearing the inscription, "Challenge Championship Cup for Pennsylvania University Football Team. Drop Kicking." The cup bears the imprint of the name of every player in the picture inscribed on the inside. The cup has not been competed for since 1899.

Cornell "Sun" on Football

Expresses in Editorial Confidence as to Their Ultimate Success.

In an editorial on "Football Past and Future," the Cornell "Daily Sun" pronounces a brilliant future for Cornell on the gridiron. The following sentiments are expressed:

"Though the defeat at the hands of Pennsylvania Thursday was a keen surprise, as much or more to offer for our failure to win. Pennsylvania had one of the strongest teams our particular set for this game as the Indians defeated her so decisively, not over the homes of the players, but in her own house. Certainly on Thursday she had an eleven which was the equal of any of this season's.

"Perhaps the Pennsylvanians will be one of the candidates, a team of as much 1899. John P. Gardiner.

Driving, Place Kicking and Drop Kicking. The cup bears the lone inscription, "1899. John P. Gardiner." The cup will be displayed on Thursday at four o'clock, on Franklin Field. All out. Signed: Howard W. Pulitzer, captain.

There will be a meeting of the program committee of the Camera Club today at 11:15 a.m. Signed: G. W. Richards, Jr., chairman.

SOPH-FRESH GAME POSTPONED

INTERCLASS FOOTBALL MATCHES WILL NOT START TODAY.

Freshmen Gripped by Loss of Three Men—Both Teams Being Whipped Into Shape—1910 Counts on Victory.

Annually the Sophomore and Freshman battle in a football game towards the Denn's trophy. The game this year, instead of being played today, as scheduled, will probably be played Thursday.

Over twenty men are fighting for positions on the Sophomore team, thus making it impossible at present to select the team.

The Freshmen are confident, owing to the fact that only three substitutions in the regular line up is made. The winning team's defense was much stronger than had been anticipated, and the effectiveness of the Sophomore offense was much impaired. The Penn players also showed their superiority in following the ball, for after the first down when the quarterback was bone a Red and Blue jersey was down as the ball carrier. The Freshmen had no lack of ability, but they were two aggressive, and the fact that they got the jump on the Sophomore team was also strongly in favor of Penn.

Perhaps the Pennsylvania team will be the real champions in this season, and for such it is not so much to be wondered at that they were not beat in the final.

The editorial then goes on to say:

"But this defeat is by no means the end of things. Cornell has proved that the football ability and the football brains to develop a first-class team. There can be no doubt of this. There is nothing to be estimated of in our season's record and plenty to be justly proud of."

After mentioning the unwerring loyalty which was shown by the Conneli undergraduates, and the success which the Cornell undergraduates in coaching met with, the article closes with the指望ful assertion.

Freshman Banquet Committee.

President Odell, of the Freshman Class, announces the following banquet committee: D. E. Williams, C. Favorite, Perrot, Pennington, A. Mc-

NEWS EDITOR OF TO-DAY'S ISSUE:

S. ROSENBAUM.

The importance of the interclass football games is generally underrated and interest in them is consequently less than it should be. When the Sophomores meet the Freshmen and when the Seniors meet the Juniors it is safe to say that a comparatively small proportion of the members of the class will be present to cheer their teams.

It is wrong that our interest should be monopolized by the interclass football games. Those who do attend the interclass contests show a real class spirit and interest in sport for sport's sake.

While the class games do not offer the attractions in excitement and the dust before it was too late to profi-

Sharpswood Prize Increase.

At a meeting of the board of managers of the Society of the Alumni of the Law Department, held on October 29th, the following resolutions were adopted. "Resolved, That the amount of the Sharpswood prize be fixed at one hundred dollars and that the society appropriate annually an additional sum of fifty dollars toward the expense of printing the essay of the student taking the highest place; and 'Be agreed, That this information be brought to the attention of the student body either by printing in the catalogue or in some other way that the degree of the law school may believe desirable.'"

A Matter of Common Sense.

We take it for granted that no wise and honest man believes that he is getting something for nothing when clothing is offered him—for whatever pretended reason—at less than its value.

Under its true color it is worth all its costs.

We believe that the clothing made by Browning, Elgl & Company is as fine as it is made.

We'll leave it to the judgment of any well-informed man.
