INTERNATIONAL CHESS MATCH

Contest with Oxford and Cambridge Team to Be Played in Houston Hall,

That Oxford and Cambridge will be called upon to defend the Rice international chess trophy in another match by cable was decided upon at a meeting of representatives of Columbia, Harvard, Yale and Princeton, held at the Yale Club in New York Thursday.

The cable match committee of the American university, consisting of Lewis J. Wolf, Columbia, secretary; R. R. Perry, Harvard; A. B. Jameson, Yale, and J. B. Hust, Princeton, voted to issue a formal challenge to the British university. Secretary Wolf was instructed to forward the document within a week and to suggest that the match be played this spring.

An agreement was invited by H. L. Bowdoin, president of the Metropolitan Chess Club of London, to act as umpire for the American team in London, Walter Penn Shipley, president of the Franklin Chess Club of Philadelphia, will be asked to fill the office of ref- eree for the Englishmen at the time of the challenge match and probably will do likewise on this occasion.

The American end of the match will be played in the rooms of the Houston University, Columbia College. Most of the earlier matches have been held in New York, but the change of scene is due to a successful effort on the part of this Univer- sity's players to raise a substantial sum toward the expense fund. The offer made by Pennsylvania was duly accepted by the cable match committee.

The present offer of 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. The match will be finished in this day:

Correction.

It was erroneously announced in yesterday's Pennsylvania that the Yankee debating "P" would be the University of Illinois and the alternates. It should have been, however, only to the speakers.

The Pennsylvania would like to give undergraduates a few hints in regard to how to get the news which they may send in published most expediously.

It is requested that all contributions to The Pennsylvania be written on one side of the sheet only and type-written when possible. This is a convenience for the mechanical department and a rule which, if more carefully preserved, would have prevented an omission yesterday morning. It is also necessary that all copy be received at this office as early as possible in the evening. All the copy is edited and revised by the editor assigned to each particular night, and he has entire supervision over the contents of the paper for that night and is alone responsible for errors. The only exception to this is the editorial column, which, according to the custom of The Pennsylvania, is almost invariably written by the editor-in-chief.

generally a pretty essential barrier to victory.

Another year may see a new contest at the intercollegiate Regatta, namely, Princeton. While there are as yet an insufficient number of trained oarsmen at the New Jersey institution to warrant the expense of sending a crew to Poughkeepsie, yet this obstacle will be removed, and in a year or so Princeton will undoubtedly be a competitor for rowing honors.

The Cut and the Quality.
In the choice of a suit cut the out is the first consideration, of course. It may be the jaunty, slightly rounded front of our "Columbia" or the straight and stylish "Acme," or some of our several variations of these basics.
The certain thing, however, is that not only our suits correct in cut, but in choice of patterns and elegance of finish they represent the best achievements of today in tailoring.
