The college world was greatly surprised by the news that the Naval Academy crew would be permitted to row in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie this year. The Navy had a splendid crew in last year's race. It was their first year on the Hudson, and their fine rowing was a surprise. With a strong crew and high morale, the Midshipmen picked up as probable winners of the championship race this season. The rewards have extended an invitation to them to row against the44. But these are in the academic and naval authorities. All of the 'Varsity crew candidates are practicing under the watchful eye of Coach Ward daily. With them is an ex-veteran back the prospects for a Blue victory seem bright. Coach Ward, however, does not take a very bright view of the situation, in a talk with a reporter yesterday he spoke very poetically. "These boys who think Pennsylvanians must win is at Poughkeepsie just because they have all of last year's crew in college are away off in their calculations. That crew finished fifth last year. Now why should the same crew be able to win this year?" They weren't green men who would develop, they had all novel before, either in 'Varsity or Freshman crews. They are not much better than they were last year. Now there Columbia with seven men back. They got second place last year. Their chances are better than Penn's. Ordinarily a whole 'Varsity crew back would be a splendid sign, for the weak spots could be bolstered up with Freshmen, who were not eligible last year. But that is just where this year's material is weakest. Only two of last year's Freshmen are good enough oarsmen to be considered for the 'Varsity.
