Senior Law Men to Banquet

Keinath Basketball Captain

Election Preceded at Banquet to 1907 Champions.

New Leader Prepared at Central: High School and Has Won His "P." in Football, Baseball and Basketball.

Charles Keinath, 99 Wil, the star forward on the "Varsity" basketball teams of 1906 and 1907, was installed as captain of the team for 1908-09. The election for captain immediately preceded the banquet to the 1907 champions, which was held at The Rittenhouse. Those participating in the program were Fate Filatop, Keinath, Keinath, McKelvie, McGrath, Spier, Frisbee and some guests.

At the banquet, in addition to the players, were Coach Russell W. Smith, Manager Linville Johnson, Assistant Manager John R. Lee, and Ralph Morgan, editor of the "Daily Penn." The tables were invariably decorated by Keinath and the short speeches were made by Smith, Morgan, Filatop and Keinath. The party was then transferred to the Academy Theatre and witnessed the performances of the cast.

The choice of Keinath for captain is a popular one. Keinath prepared for college at the Central High School, and has made no unusual record in athletics. He was the "C. B. S." by playing football 1903, 1905 and 1906; basketball 1906, 1904, 1902, 1903 and 1905; and baseball 1905, 1904, 1902 and 1905. He played on all three teams throughout his four years as a regular and was four times named to the "Dem." with his class.

Keinath was captain of the basketball team in 1906 and of the baseball team in 1906. He entered Pennsylvania the following year as a member of his "C. B. S." in three sports. He played on the "Varsity" Freshman basketball team of 1905-06 and later made regular positions on both the "Varsity" basketball and baseball teams. His injuries prevented him from making good in football, but he again played a star game on the basketball team.

This year Keinath won his space on the "Varsity" football team and one more distinguished himself in football, being the highest scorer in the league. And notwithstanding the fact that he placed a 100-yards race at 10.5, he was the only player unanimously selected by all critics for the All-America quintet for football.

Keinath has the unique distinction of having played on the following championship teams: 1906 and 1908, and of contributing in each case more to the result than his other player.

Interclass Contest Will Take Place in Price Hall This Evening—Three Individual Prizes Will Be Awarded.

Swimming Meet on Friday.

Third interclass Contest Will Be Held with Princeton as Opponents.

The Varsity swimming and water-polo teams will hold their third interclass colloquial dual meet Friday night, when they will come in with Princeton in the gymnasium. This contest will probably decide the league championship, as the Orange and Black has not yet suffered defeat.

The contests will be held at the Price Hall. The meet will last two hours. The winners will be decided by the points scored. There will be three prizes awarded, each one consisting of the first, second and third place in the competition.

The Orange and Black has developed into a very strong unit, and Shyrock is Chambers' equal at the one hundred yards race, and he should have little or no difficulty in winning the two hundred and twenty yards event.

The relay race undoubtedly will be very close, as Princeton will be represented by a number of its fastest men. It is probable that the Men will be able to hold their own in the intercollegiate record by several seconds.

In the waterpolo game the Pennsylvania team should also have a hard proposition, but it is not likely that the game will be as close as that with Princeton. The Pennsylvania team was defeated rather easily by Columbia by four goals to two, and the New York team was defeated with ease by the Red and Blue team by one goal to none.

One thing the Pennsylvania's task should not prove a very difficult one.

The "Varsity" team, should it defeat Princeton, will gain a material advantage in the Pennsylvania league, which is considered to be represented by the strongest team in the league.

Sophomores and Freshmen need not be reminded of the annual debate which will be held between their representatives in Price Hall this evening. The question, let it be hoped owing to munificent consideration, is a hackneyed one, viz., "Shipping Subsidies," a proposition that has been threshed out recently in recent years. But this fact should not detract from the interest of the underclassmen in the debate. In the case of the intercollegiate debate, where class rivalry is strong, the whole point is the winning or losing. The spectators do not come expecting anything very elaborate or erudite from the contestants; they come to hear oratory rather than debating.

The intercollegiate contest, on the other hand, while more assuredly worth winning, is important from the mere fact of its existence. The students who participate are generally more mature, more logical, more convincing. The judges are sometimes men of national reputation, the audience complex and disinterested, and the questions—which are usually broad and timely—are discussed from a more and more analytical point of view.

It is of course undoubtedly true that there is still room for sophistries and surface logic, notwithstanding the absence of the around-the-corner dressing and the earthiness of their preparation. It is not to be denied that nothing comes of these hot forensic debates; but for that matter nothing ever comes of the equally warm discussions that rage pro and con in college undergraduate publications. The mere fact that college men are beginning to delve into and weigh public questions, to discuss them rationally and use their evidence on one side or the other effectively—this it is that counts. The fact of the debate is fundamental. The mere outcome is incidental.

This is the time of year when a legiti- mate firm can make legitimate re- ductions. Having finished our inves- tory, we offer a reduction from regular prices on all Suits, Overcoats and Trouser Suits. A per cent. off allows our tables of fall and winter garments. Worthily priced woolen materials, of course.

There is no better clothing in the market today than that made by Browning, King & Co., so that this re- duction of twenty per cent. gives in- timate value not to be had anywhere else.

Note: We've gathered the small lots of Boys Suits, Overcoats and Hosiery and made two lots of them.

Those that were $12 and $15 reduced to $7.75, $7, $8 and $9 reduced to $5.50, and $6.50 reduced to $3.75.
