WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIPS

INTERCOLLEGIATE MEETING TO BE HELD IN GYMNASIUM.

Preliminary Brackets to Take Place This Afternoon, Followed by Semi-Finals and Finals in the Evening.

The University Gymnasium will be the scene of the Intercollegiate Wrestling Championships, this afternoon and evening. Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania will have their representatives present to compete for the championship crown and individual prizes.

The followers of this line of sport pitch either of these events, as particular events will be scheduled on the probable sunshine. Captains followed when seen last night said: "I think that Penn will win this. I believe Pennsylvania is coming on well. Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania will be in the main stream and Cornell will be in the middle stream. Cornell, who has never been thrown in a college must, in my opinion, be held with the 150 pounds championship. The other men have all done credit to themselves against the men of the first rank, so it is certain that the main events will be open to the public and twenty-five cent admission will be charged. These will begin at three o'clock.

The semi-final and final rounds will be held in the evening commencing at eight o'clock. First place in the semi-finals three points toward the team, will be awarded and will be used to award. One team will be used in the semi-finals. Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, has the best record of any of the colleges in the field. With the first place, the 150 pounds class, D. J. of Yale, the present champion, is again the favorite, the 150 pounds class has been nearly untouchable. Likewise, in Princeton, J. D., of Princeton, will take the honors and in Columbia, W. of Columbia, will outshine his Pennsylvanian, look like a probable winner in the 150 pounds class.

The 150 pounds championship will be between Patterson of Yale and Frey of Pennsylvania. King of Princeton, Fenton of Princeton, Foner, of Yale, and Weight, of Cornell, will fight it out for second place with Patterson in the tight weight class.

Father, of Cornell, holder of the world's champion title, also of Yale, the present intercollegiate champion, and holder of Pennsylvanian, will be the prominent heavyweights. The 115 pounds class—Ward, Princeton; Cebular, Yale; Wall, Cornell; Winne, Princeton;

125 pounds class—Dole, Dole, Jeff; Smith, Cornell; Crowe, Penn;
135 pounds class—Lattin, Princeton; J. Dole, Yale; Leake, Cornell, Shilling, Columbia; Prettyman, Pennsylvania.
145 pounds class—Celino, Princeton; Yale, Yale; Wright, Cornell; Cebular, Columbia; W. of Pennsylvania;
150 pounds class—Ormond, Princeton.

The unlooked for attitude of the Freshman Class in voting down the honor system in elections reflects both upon the members of the Class and the upper classes, who have presented the question to them for consideration. In the first place, it is wrong to leave such a matter optional with freshmen. According to proper traditions this class should hesitate for a moment to employ a system that has received the sanction of the upper classes.

For the Freshmen to be left to do their own volition has obviously resulted in a failure. Hereafter freshmen should be informed by the undergraduate committee, which exists, to do such things, that a freshman's consideration is to do as he is told.

Since the Freshmen were allowed a chance to decide for themselves in this case, it is unfortunate that they turned down the plan by merely ten votes. It is to be hoped that they were not properly informed, and will at a subsequent date after more responsible consideration adopt a less objectionable attitude.

The freshmen showed ill manners yesterday in their reception of the upper class visitors. In all decency at least an apology is due to those who stand in a position of authority and respect in the University. Nothing can excuse freshmen from exhibiting such unmanly behavior in the presence of upper classmen. We hope that the less impulsive of the freshman class will see this question in its proper light, and not as gentlemen make reparations for their conduct, but influence the careless members of the class to show a deeper responsibility in handling questions that affect the entire University.

Philosophical Society. At the meeting of the Philosophical Society this evening the first address will be given by L. C. Daniels. An address on "France Under Napoleon and De Gaulle," will be given by J. H. Bisset. Then will follow a debate on the question, "Resolved, That the execution of King Louis and Queen Marie Antoniette at the time of the French Revolution was justifiable."

Ison, Parker, Yale; Whitehead, Cornell; Hayley, Columbia; Freeman, Pennsylvania. 175 pounds class—King, Princeton; Footer, Yale; Wright, Cornell; Holyoke, Franklin, Columbia; Posdew, Pennsylvania. Heavyweight—Peters, Princeton; Gable, Yale; Taitt, Cornell; Ryan, Columbia; Pike, Pennsylvania.

Results of Bi-Monthly Events.

There are to be only two more bi-monthly swimming contests this year, and as the scores of several of the men are very close, these last meets promises to be closely contested. Several handicap cups are to be given to the men having the greatest number of points. Coach Kysler's idea in having these meets was to enable him to pick out the best swimmers and also to get the men used to swimming in public. This has proved to be a very good scheme, and both the University and Freshman teams have proved to be very strong. The men having the least scores at present are: Sylva, 60 points; Strecker, 64; Han, 62; Anthony, 61; Graham, 17; Hord, 33; Hopkins, 21; Yecke, 201; Valson, 19.

Intercollegiate Bowling Match. The Pennsylvania bowling team will roll the team from Haverford at three o'clock this afternoon. Two weeks ago Pennsylvania took two out of three games from Haverford on their own alleys. The game is one of a series in the Intercollegiate Bowling League, of which Pennsylvania has been a member for the last three years, taking second place in each of the past seasons. The other members are Columbia—last year's winner—Haverford and Lafayette.

The members of the teams rolling today are as follows: Pennsylvania, Hoxion, captain, Canning, Wood, Zastovich, Scherck, Kiefer and Hess; substitutes, Haverford: Comfort, captain; Lindsay, Crowell, Scherck, Hinpen.

Zealosophical Society. At the meeting of the Zealosophical Society this evening the first address will be "Robespierre," delivered by L. C. Daniels. An address on "France Under Napoleon and Du Barry" will be given by J. H. Bisset. Then will follow a debate on the question, "Resolved, That the execution of King Louis and Queen Marie Antionette at the time of the French Revolution was justifiable."
