Mask and Wig Club University Night, April 27

FIRST CIRCUS A GREAT SUCCESS

AUDIENCE DECLARES IT GREAT-EST SHOW IN THE WORLD.

Gibson Girls, Clowns and Tramps Contribute Large Audience for Two Hours.
High Kickers Strike the "Studs."

Fully seven hundred people were pre-present at the first annual University Circus, given by the Mask and Wig Club of the University under the auspices of the Department of Physical Education in Washington Hall Thursday night.

The circus was a tremendous suc-sess from beginning to end, which was most gratifying to the committee in scenario William A. Scott, who commanded the performance.

A guest parade of all the parties present at the Ceres Band rendered "Hall Penn," and the last act of the program started with an exhibition on the horizontal bars by the gymnastic team, consisting of Budoff, Panch, Dreyfus, Sinder and Licktei. The team performed excellently, faultlessly and with spirit. Exhibitions were also given on the flying rings and parallel bars, the horizontal and vertical bars, and the pyramid building were also represented. The pyramid building was a very fine feature of the circus since it has not been put in for some time in Pennsylvania before.

Other amusing numbers of the program were "Krombro's Karussel Kom-mand," which was composed of clowns, monkeys, animals, etc., a penny bal-et-the-streets orchestra, the group which bustled the Gibson girls by several football men.

As the procession of the gymnastics was cleared and dancing completed the evening's performance.

University Services.
The closing exercises of the spring
Hall auditions to tonight morning were conducted by the Recital Committee, consisting of Edward H. Church of St. Luke and Ephrasm, Dr. Wells in one of the best known spea-cers among the University preachers. At the annual commencement in June, 1916, he delivered the address, "Heirs Apparent," and in 1896 he pronounced the graduation sermon upon the subject, "The Vanishing of a Man," as exemplified in the life of Paul. His training in the Universityforemost should be welcomed by all members of the University who can attend the service.

Friends of the students are invited.

Address by Dr. Montgomery.
Dr. Richard Montgomery, '79 C.D., delivered the address in the chapel yesterday morning. The necessity of doing many things more emphasized by Dr. Montgomery. He said in part:

"Past time never returns. How many of us in holding back over our lives recall the many, many opportunities which have vanished and will never come. We shall never return, but what we must strive at is to prevent such a thing from happening in the future past but to act in the present. Past time was once present time, and possibly this very moment the opportunity in it, which, unless we use, we will regret."

Undergraduates will be pleased, we believe, to learn that Mask and Wig University Night will be an accomplished fact this year. The Mask and Wig Club having definitely decided upon carrying out the plan and appointed a committee of undergraduates to manage the ticket sale, has taken an attitude toward students of the University which we should fully appreciate as born of the spirit which is sure to bring success. It is new up to the undergraduates as a body to back up this magnificent section of the Club by doing all in their power to show that they wanted a University Night and making it a great success.

The chief objects of the committee will be to see that under-graduates get as many tickets for "Uncle Sam's Dixie" as he will need, that members of the Faculty and their wives have an opportunity to attend if they wish, and that there shall be absolutely no speculation on the part of students who may obtain tickets without desiring to use them. While the number of those who might resort to such despicable conduct is very small, no pains will be spared to de- tect and punish any such.

Just what system will be employed to distribute the tickets is not yet known, but one that will give the least possible trouble will be selected. The primary object of this University Night performance is to arouse the keen interest of undergraduates who have not for some reason or other, whether they were able to get seats or not, witnessed other performances. The Mask and Wig Club is doing that for Pennsylvania which should receive our appreciative notice and cooperation, and hereafter if any undergraduate does not help support Mask and Wig, it will not be because the Club has not considered it desirable to give him opportunity and incentive to do so.

University Night will be, we predict, the most successful performance that Mask and Wig has ever given. We hope that all undergraduates who want to see the show—and very few do not—will go to the University Night performance instead of the others. So much can be made of it that as the years go on this night will undoubtedly be the most interesting both to the past and present and to the undergraduates. We have complained in the past. Now that cause for complaint seems to be removed, let us show that we are really interested and produce our best to do our part to support our famous dramatic organization.
