A question which may not at the present time be of great importance to the University may at least be of interest to those undergraduates who have at heart the future athletic life of their Alma Mater. That of developing athletes from the student body and not relying solely on the output of some famous preparatory school "stars." A question like this must be taken seriously, if taken at all, and lies entirely with the student body whether such a measure shall be adopted.

The system of interfraternity and interclass athletic contests as now in force at a number of our leading colleges seems to be the solution. Why not start such a league here at Penn-sylvania? There certainly are hundreds of men enrolled here who will not come out for a team simply because they are either too lazy or lack the spirit, believing that they would be overlooked, whereas if a few men would take the initiative and arouse some interest and get the ball rolling, numbers of the men would be only too glad to try for our teams, and as a result many "stars" or even first-class men would be discovered.

Take baseball for instance. Frank-lin Field might be secured for a game nearly every weekday, Wednesdays and Saturdays excepted, and a great deal more class rivalry might be aroused and the championship of the University could be settled as it is in football and rowing.

In conclusion we know that it would benefit ourselves and our Alma Mater besides proving interesting. Let us hope that someone will start the movement and the rest help to push it along.

Philp Play Casts Selected.

Part of the first cast and three men on the second cast were selected at the trials for the Second Shephard's Play of the TowneCy play to be given in Philp Hall last night. The judges were Professor Cornelius Weygandt, Mr. W. A. Harshbarger and Mr. F. A. Child. The characters of "Angel" and "Mary" for the first cast, and the remaining char-ac-ters for the second cast will be se-leceted in Philp Hall to-morrow night by the same judges. It is impossible for any member on the second cast to replace the corresponding member of the first cast at the time. There is a good chance yet for places.

THE PENNSYLVANIAN

The 1886 Record committee has de-cided to raise the price of the Record the full fifty cents at this time, but to sell the book at $2.25 from now until April 15th, at which time the price will be raised to $2.50.

This year's Record will be the most elaborate University record ever pub-lished—a volume of over four hundred pages handsomely bound in leather with gold trimmings, containing a large number of beautiful color plates and engravings, pictures of the teams, clubs, classes, fraternities and socie-ties with athletic records and chrono-cles, sketches of life in each depart-ment, views of the campus, athletic field and the buildings, interior and exterior, and many other attractive features too numerous to mention; all together a mass of carefully prepared and arranged material about Pennsylvania should be worth much more than the price to any one interested in the University.

Get your subscriptions in now while you can save twenty-five cents on each copy.

TO PENNSYLVANIA MEN.

A Personal Word from the President.

The college men who obtain the best remunerative or permanent positions in life are usually the ones who start looking for them early in the year. Before you get entangled with any expensive or inefficient employment agency or before you start on a more or less aimless individual search for the position you desire, it will be well worth your while to learn about our Cooperative Membership Plan. We are an association of college men. We can save you time, travel, trouble and money by furnishing you with accurate information while in college and in locating a desirable position or business opportunity when out of college. There are no contracted or costly commissions, no red tape on strings attached to our service. We think we solve all problems in the most proper way. Before you get tangled with any agency, check with our records attached to our service.

Geo. M. Cohan's "Yankee Prince." In all the history of military conquest and triumph by forces of the British nation, which that no race of modern times is more subject in its devotion to the Jep and power of valiant men, it is known that of His Majesty's fighters has earned greater fame or more enduring honor than the First Division Regiment, the "King's Own Guards," the traditions of which historic group George M. Cohan has discovered to be a virgin field for the exploitation of an entirely new sort of stage soldier in his latest play, "The Yankee Prince." On the pages that tell of the triumphs of British forces and the spread of British domination throughout the world, the exploits of none shine forth more conspicuously than the "King's Own Guards," who in every campaign since the formation of the regiment over a century ago—through Blenheim and the Crimean campaign, through Waterloo, Waterloos and Sebastopol, down to the ill-fated Boer War in South Africa—have by their deeds of daring and courage made themselves the pit regiment of each succeeding generation of patriotic Englishmen and women. Mr. Cohan's new play is the front pretentious to yet come from his pen.
