PENNSYLVANIA'S RELAY CARNIVAL

PENN-LAFAYETTE GAME TO-DAY

Present Business Situation and Anti-Trust Legislation Discussed.

The first session of the twentieth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science was held on the afternoon of Tuesday, March 5th, in Franklin Field. The meeting was opened with the discussion of "The Present Business Situation and Anti-Trust Legislation." The subject was especially interesting because of the fact that Hon. James M. Beek and Elmer Gampson, the leading figures in the present anti-trust court, were present when the court handed down decisions against the labor unions, are the chief spokesmen.

This session also furnished an exceptional opportunity to compare the general trade union standpoint as presented by Mr. Gampson, president of the American Federation of Labor, with the manufacturers' attitude, as presented by Mr. Beek, the counsel of the manufacturing interests in the "black smoke and range cane" and the "Blackshirts of the cottage industry.

The presiding officer was Marcus M. Barkoe, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, and the Public to Corporate Development.

The Hon. Peter S. Greenough, Judge of the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, Chicago, by whose court the receivers for the Chicago Traction Company have been appointed, delivered the annual address on "The Scope, the Limit, and the Duty of Government in Relation to Corporate Construction and Management."

The discussion of Judge Greenough's paper was given by Herbert Knox Smith, Commissioner of Corporations, Washington, D.C., and the Hon. James D. Hill, of the New Jersey Court of Revisions.

The session this afternoon will be devoted to the consideration of "The Nation and the Horseless." Professor Lathrop, no other subject is of such general interest as this one at the present time. The increased importance of governmental control brought about by the increasing complexity of the industrial problem renders it especially important to determine how far under the Constitution the business of transportation may be subjected to governmental control.

The final session to-night will consider the Federal and State control of the railway companies. "The trouble with our industrial development has brought a new alignment of the rights of the State and the central governments."

Zoological Society Meetings.

The members of the Zoological Society are conducting the social season tonight. Dr. Quin, of the English Department, a former member of the society's executive committee, presided over the meeting of the society, and the President of the society spoke of the present prospects of the society, after which the meeting was adjourned.

PENN-LAFAYETTE GAME TO-DAY

EASTONIANS REPRESENTED BY A STRONG BASEBALL TEAM.

Red and Blue Will Endeavor to Re-

Present the Defeat of Last Year. Twitmire or Collier in the Box.

Weather permitting, the varsity will cross with Lafayette on Franklin Field this afternoon at three o'clock. Pennsylvania has been play- ing good ball this season, but the game played as far.

Today's game will be the first round of the "Varsity's" strength, as the freshmen are represented by a strong team.

Lafayette defeated Pennsylvania decisively last year, and as the present team is composed chiefly of veterans, the Red and Blue will be compelled to play good ball to come out victor- ial.

Twitmire or Collier will be in the box for the Red and Blue. The line-up is:

To Entertain Relay Visitors.

A good entertainment is being planned for the benefit of the visiting contestants, particularly the schoolboys, who are to participate in Penn- sylvania's Relay Races, held on Franklin Field April 25th. The entertainment will be held in the gymnasium and the program will include selections by the Combined Athletic Clubs, exhibitions by the Lafayette wrestling team, and a best or two by the wrestling and boxing teams. Some of these features will be preceded.

After this the visitors will be taken to the Houston Club, where refreshments will be served and a general reception held.

On next Thursday night, April 19th, there will be a mass meeting, held in Houston Hall, for the purpose of ob- taining suggestions and help for the proper care of the visitors. The committee in charge will be appointed in a few days.

Phi Beta Kappa Honorary Society.

The Phi Beta Kappa Honorary Society will hold its initiation and ban- quet at the University Club tonight at seven o'clock. Harvard and Yale have sent undergraduate representa- tives to the initiation. The following well-known men will be present: W. A. Averel, president, H. C. Rich- ardson, secretary; Dr. Quin, of the President P-Pson spoke of the present prospects of the society, after which the meeting was adjourned.

CLASS DAY.

Special significance will attach to Class Day this year on account of the fact that the exercises will be held on the Campus instead of at a city theatre, in all probability the event will be exceptional, and a new series of ideas in connection with the purposes and meaning of Class Day inaugurated.

The Senior Class should spare no pains not only to give the ceremonies at the Dormitory Triangle the proper dignity and atmosphere, but to accord all the arrangements for 1908 Class Day the utmost care and attention, with a view to making them a decided improvement over the past. Besides the regular exercises in the Quadrangle, the 1st Plating and the Senior Promenade in the evening, itself an old custom revived, let us see what else we can prepare for our program. It may be possible and desirable to have some such event as an alumni-undergraduate baseball game on Franklin Field. Everything possible should be done to make the day as interesting and important as it should be to the Class of 1908 and their vis-

History of Central High School.

The University Library has received a book from Franklin Spencer Edmonson, which he has just written, called "The History of the Central High School." This book should be of much interest to the students who have come from that school. It gives in a clear and concise manner the history of this great institution of learning from the times of its founding to the present date. It contains a list of its faculty and officers, past and present.

Portraits Donated to Law School.

The James T. Mitchell collection of engraved portraits, composed of a large number of legal prints, pictures of Judges of the Supreme Court of the United States, leading State Judges and leading American lawyers, are to be hung on one or two of the class rooms in the Law School. These prints were donated to the Law Dean by the donor at the request that Mitchell Collection.
