Lecture on English Drama

Foremost Authority on the English Drama

Interdepartment and Middle States
Events Will Be Held Today.

On Franklln Field at eleven o'clock this morning the men from the various departments of the University will compete in the interdepartmental games. All of the departments will be represented. Cups and medals will be awarded the winners.

The events will be run off in the following order: One hundred-yard dash, one mile run, four hundred-yard track relay, English, twenty yards dash, two miles run, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot put.

Last year the College was a day in the life of the Franklin Field meet is scheduled to start at one o'clock.

It is expected that a number of records will be broken. Mercer will be expected to lead the by ten to fifteen in the first quarter of the day, as he will probably score first in the quarter mile, pole vault and track. After this, however, he will have to exert himself as much as will enable him to set a record for the University College. He has a record of 22 feet 15 inches.

The outstanding team is looked upon as a probable winner of the most on account of the fact that their representatives can score many seconds, thirds and fourths.

Tracks have been entered from Hill School, Mercersburg, Lawrenceville, Centaur High, George School and Radnor City College.

Library Receives Valuable Gift

Joseph Y. Jessup, of Philadelphia, who on a former occasion donated valued books to the Library of the University, has just sent to the library a series of books on the English Councils of England, Wales, Scotland and Ireland.

The work is beautifully bound and has an additional value because of the extra illustrations, original data and quotations, that have extended the original fourteen volumes to seventeen volumes. It is one of the standard works on antiquities, and will be of very great value to the Department of History and the General Library of the University. It covers a descriptive and historical account of all the important abbeys, churches, ancient houses, castles and other antiquities of Great Britain. An idea of the scope of the work may be gathered from the contents of the volume originally bound to the Rev. William Barrett, which is liberally illustrated, and which is in a handsome monograph. Of the seventeen volumes eleven are devoted to England and to Scotland, and two to Ireland, and two to military antiquities. The books date from 1773 and in the set is an autograph letter of the poet, dated November 24, 1774, which are parts of the work. This copy belonged at one time to Dawson Turner, to whom are the extraneous, gathered from various sources. In the front of each volume is an index of the illustrations, written in a beautiful hand.

A Personal Word from the President.

The college men who obtain the best temporary or permanent positions in July are usually the same who start looking for them early in the year. To those who are unemployed or facing an expensive or inefficient employment agency or before you start on a more or less aimless individual search for Arthur Everett Small, President.

The position you desire, it will be worth your while to learn about our Cooperative Membership. We are an organization of college men. We can save you time, trouble and money by furnishing you with accurate information while in college and by securing you a desirable position or business opportunity when out of college. There are no involved contracts, no costly commissions, no red tape, no strings attached to our service. We think and solve and problem in cooperation.
