CHARITY FETE A GREAT SUCCESS

FUNCTION UNDER AUSPICES OF THE UNIVERSITY HOUSE.

Features of Performances Were Selections by Glee Club of the University and "Daisy Song" by Ladies' Chorus.

Despite the drizzling showers which temporarily put an end to the festivities of the afternoon, the charity fete given under the auspices of the University House in the Botanical Gardens yesterday afternoon and evening was a brilliant success from every viewpoint.

The Botanical Gardens and Hamilton Walk were transformed into a véritable théâtre galant, and the background of trees and natural scenery furnished the ideal setting for the delightful entertainments which had been provided by the committee.

Among the prominent features of the entertainment which was in the nature of a valse-style performance, was the music, both instrumental and vocal, rendered by members of the Glee Club of the University and a chorus of selected students from Professor Pickett's vocal circles. The program included "Daisy Song" as rendered by this chorus, which was an unusual feature of the entertainment and was confessed repeatedly by members of the audience. The winding of the May pole with Red and Blue, which was done to the music of a "steady gait" by a number of young ladies, also added its full quota of applause.

Refreshments were served in secluded places in the garden, variously designated by the names of "Japanese Tea Garden," "German Restaurant," and other similar titles. The music and German costume attended these places of refreshment, and the whole affair, which was distinctly popular, played the airs of the various countries which were represented.

In the evening the garden was illuminated with thousands of lights hung along Hamilton Walk near the Medical Laboratory, from which place a "Beating the University" automobile left at intervals of a few minutes for the trip through the campus.

The University Band made its first public appearance, and their music spoke well for the musical training of the members since their recent organization.

The success of the affair was largely due to the efforts of the partisans, consisting of Members Mendelsohn Alonzo, Charles L. McClellan, Charles L. Smith, Misses Smith Brown, Childs, Frantz, Monahan, Smith, Florence and Virginia Carlyle, Mrs. Mary Belcher, Elizabeth Johnson, Mrs. Lathrometer, Marie Noll, Lena Richmond and Mary Tyler.

Socialist Meeting This Afternoon. The University Chapter of the Intercollegiate Socialist Society will hold its meeting to-morrow afternoon in the Library Hall at 3:00 o'clock. All members are expected to attend.

ADDRESS BY DR. OBERHOLTZER

Urges Undergraduates to Take Active Part in Founders' Day Program.

Dr. Ellis P. Oberholtzer, 89 C, Phil., delivered an entertaining address this morning. He took as his subject the life of Robert Morris and Founders' Day in general. He congratulated the hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of Philadelphia. He said in part:

"It has been suggested to me to speak on Robert Morris this morning, but this would not take too much time, for I do want to speak in this country. Day and support we need of the University.

Robert Morris, the Banker of the Revolution, and Jay Cooke, the Father of the New Civil War, is too all probability known mere. It is a pleasure to learn from the form his name is handed down from this country and to think of all that one knows he did for this country in revolution.

"Robert Morris was a self-made man, but he came to this country, and first heard in Meadville with his father to the muslin. He did not remain long on the tobacco far, but came to Philadelphia where he entered the counting house of Thomas and Charles Willing. He married his daughter, and the firm soon became William, Catholic, and in 1741, the Virginia a.

"The services rendered his country by him entitled him to a place in Washington and the prominent Americans. It was Robert Morris that the French allies were enabled to come from New York to the station of the Yorktown, which ended the American Revolution.

In speaking of Founders' Day, Dr. Oberholtzer said:

"A few weeks ago the Mayor and other prominent men of Philadelphia determined to celebrate the two hundred and twentieth anniversary of the founding of this city. So he appointed a committee of which Dr. Morris Jackson is chairman. Professor Moore of the University has accepted a scheme to illustrate the history of the city. It is what we call a pictorial pageant, and which will be one of the kind of this evening. Founders' Day will be celebrated from October 6th to October 15th. On October 15th we will have the great historical pageant. In the morning and afternoon, as the case may be, we will have on the first floor the landing of the Pennsylvania among the famous people of the second the capture of New Sweden, on the third the battle of William Penn, and the successive steps will follow, ending with the Battle of Lexington and Concord, which is the Pennsylvania.

"The history of this community is bound up with the community of the United States that I am sure the citizens of Philadelphia (Continued on Second Page.)

PENN PICKED TO WIN MEET

SECON0 PLACE TO MICHIGAN IN INTERCOLLEGIATE RACES.

Coach Mouseky, of Cornell, So Expresses Himself in Letter—Vale and Cornell to Compete for Third Place.

In a letter to the management of the intercollegiate championship, to be held on Franklin Field Friday and Saturday of next week, Coach Mouseky of Cornell, thinks that Penn-Frolic will take first place, with Michigan, second while Yale and Cornell will fill out second and third.

His reasons are that Pennsylvania and Michigan have a number of winners from last year to start with and thus having an advantage over their rivals.

This statement was taken with a grain of salt, as Cornell is past place has always boomed up as a dark horse.

"The Brooklyn Daily Eagle" divides the points as follows:--Pennsylvania, 25; Michigan, 22; Yale, 28; Cornell, 19; and Harvard, 10.

Penn Meets Cornell Today.

Inez Carson Confident, Having Defeated Wolverines in Sixteen Innings.

Pennsylvania will meet Cornell this afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, on Franklin Field, and will need a victory to keep the Red and Blue in the race for the title. The defeat of last Wednesday at Pittsburgh, which was in reality a matter of "good luck," on the part of the New Jersey nine, has not given the Penn-Frolic the slightest advantage in facing the players with the right spirit.

Pennsylvania is still the Penn-Frolic and the one that has the credit of being a dark horse. They will do fine showing this afternoon.

The Penn-Frolics have played their third spring game with Cornell won by the score of 5-3, which is actually worse than the one, two, three, field. Waterloo, second base; Caldwell; pitcher; Gable, left field; Williams, catcher; Huber, second base; Linehan, third base; Philadelphian, shortstop; Blacker, center field; Schmitt, right field; Wedemer, center field; Proctor, shortstop; Simpson and Twinfield, pitcher; Study and Brumbaugh, catcher.

American Henley To-Day.

The intercollegiate running of the Schuylkill River will take place on the Franklin Field this afternoon, and the large entries received to date the American Henley should surpass all those of previous years. Twenty universities have entered crews, and it is probable that some new records will be made where the water is not too rough.

The Schuylkill River club will be started at 2:30 o'clock, which will be for preparatory school. Pennsylvania's Freshman crew will have their first race of the season at 1:30 o'clock, rowing against another Philadelphia eight.

The Junior Varsity will be pitted against the Yale Freshman eight, the Harvard Sophomore crew and the New York University.

The most interesting event will be the race between the Varsity, "Bucks," and "Bergen," representing the Georgevon University. Last year the "Bergeniers" defeated the Red and Blue on the Schuylkill River.

The race between the Pennsylvania eight and the "Bucks," should be a close contest, since the latter are made up of the best swimmers in Philadelphia.
