PRELIMINARIES THIS AFTERNOON

TENTH ANNUAL INTERCOLLEGIATE TRACK AND FIELD CHAMPIONSHIPS

Who will win the Thirty-fifth Annual Intercollegiate Track and Field Championships, which are to be held on Franklin Field to-day and to-morrow? The great majority of us can look to the college men and the followers of track sports just at present. All forecasts and predictions have a close finish for first honors among Pennsylvania, Cornell, Yale and Princeton. Those four universities will all be close together everywhere, and any of them may conceivably win the championship. That conclusion is a matter of much guessing and not a little worry. The old college bee that is on the way indicates that this is about their turn to bound first, and all forecasts place them within a few places of the leaders.

Pennsylvania is the present favorite, having won the championship last year. Michigan and Yale are not to be denied, and all are certain to give the Red and Blue a fight in the final. The Pennsylvania championship team has four out of seven will compete again this year, and Pennsylvania is counting on these men to score over twenty points, thus giving them the foundation for another victory.

Last spring Carmell repeated his first place in the mile, in the first place in both dashes, and last spring, and will again make a hard fight for first. In the thirty-two point Pennsylvanias, Penn is expected to score sixteen points between them, and Taylor to knock them down. Michigan is in the same class, but Taylor has two intercollegiate victories to his credit and Michigan pressed the score, and each time setting a new record for the year. At least the year will he probably have closer competition than ever before with Urban and the track. The Forty-point far of the champion will be expected, and that in the present form, will be expected to score against the winner.

The following is the schedule of the Michigan track meet. The official meet is scheduled for May 12 and 14, and each meets a different meet on May 11.

FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1908

The track in both sides of Swan pond is a good one and at the time is made and is of about sixty-four acres. The land is level and level of the river, and fills all the requirements that ten years of experience has taught. There is a good stone front house and a small barn. The woods are all clear and with the chestnut and elm, and is a race of lands to beat, for home.

The management plans the taking out of a running track, tennis courts, baseball field, and many other outside events. Now, taking the swimming, boating and boating that heartily approved of the exercise.

At present a number of University students have secured their tickets for the big contest, and at the glass of their time is a memorable one, they will want to have a large number of students volunteer to come out to the campus for the possible. The association will pay the expenses of all who that volunteers their services. In past years the students going to camp have been in the last few years, the association has been national to the Declaration that they had the future.

The campus has been so popular that the boys and girls have saved up their pennies from early spring to pay the nominal charges made by the usual. At present a number of University students have secured their tickets for the big contest, and at the big contest, and at the big contest is the world.

The campus will be managed by Messrs. Edward C. Wood and Thomas A. H. Kellogg. Anyone who wishes to plan a good cause and at the same time enjoy an enjoyable outing should band their friends and live the duties of the faculty, the students, and the dormitory. The faculty, the students, and the dormitory are to be held on the Thirty-sixth street, and will connect with the campus of the big contest.

CHARLES C. ORANGERS,

Pennsylvania Daily, June 19, 1908.

It is absolutely necessary that all associate editors and all candidates report at The Pennsylvania daily at 11:30 o'clock, sharp, this afternoon.

With today's issue The Pennsylvania suspends publication for the college year just closing. Without wishing to appear ungrateful, we cannot restrain a remark in passing as to the quality of the student support we have received during the past year. The number of subscriptions from undergraduates has not been by any means as large as we think it should be, and the number of candidates for positions on the board has been, in competition with past years, discouragingly small. Despite this handicap, however, we have endeavored consistently to accomplish the ends for which The Pennsylvania was founded—an honest expression of undergraduate sentiment and the daily recording of news of the University in general. However, for we have succeeded in this purpose, it is our intention to bring The Pennsylvania next year even closer to the student body, and with this in mind we desire to remind all who will be returning to the University in fall that one of their first duties should be the placing of their names on the newspaper subscription list. How important it is for college men to lend their aid to all college publications has been pubished out before in these columns, and The Pennsylvania, representing as it does a form of activity seen in no other department, should be given every possible support.

With these parting words we retire, at least in a Pickwickian sense, for our annual state of the society. It is essential that every member of the committee be present to act in his free tickets.

Leaders' Photograph—All who are in the leaders' photograph or those who walked to New York City are asked to call at Mr. Coleman's office in the gymnasmium and see proof of these two photographs.

Mathematics 461—Students in Dr. P. F. Safford's section of solid geometry are requested to meet in room 15 this afternoon, at 1:15 o'clock, in the halls of the society. It is possible that every member of the committee be present to act in his free tickets.

For the second year the Printing Company is offering to The Pennsylvania a special price for business suits. We are enclosing a sample which we wish to show you today, and we respectfully ask for a chance to show you a complete line of business suits of different colors and styles. The price is $30.00, and we are able to sell these suits at this price because we are able to purchase the suits direct from manufacturers in Philadelphia.

We solicit your patronage.

TO PENNSYLVANIA MEN.

A Personal Word from the President.

The college men who obtain the best temporary or permanent positions in July are usually the ones who start looking for them early in the year. Before you get arranged with any expensive or insufficient employment agency or before you start on a more or less aimless search for a position you desire, it will be worth your while to learn about our Cooperative Membership. We are an organization of college men. We can save you time, travel, trouble and money by furnishing you with accurate information while in college and by securing you a desirable position or business opportunity when out of college. There are no involved contracts, nor costly commissions, nor red tape, no services attached to our service. We think we solve and provide in a new and better way.
