JUDGE BREWER TO SPEAK HERE

JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT TO

JUSTICE BREWER TO SPEAK HERE

President of the Senior Class. The Senior Class met yesterday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the Freshman question and for the nomination of officers. The Seniors were in a most good-tempered mood, and that a mass meeting might assist in finding them together.

The following were nominated: Vice-President, Hipp, Weintraub, Bliven, Merrick; Secretary, Ballard, Broughton; Treasurer, Mason, Lumen, Williams; Auditor, Wescoat, Bratton; Executive Committee, Caldwell, Twombly, Garrison, Geddes, Howie, Hitter, Broadbelt, Myers, Khoury, Van Tuyl.

Freshman Class Meets.

The second meeting of the Freshman Class was held yesterday afternoon. The first business of the President of the Senior Class, the meeting was opened by President Ferguson, of the Junior Class. The meeting was called for the purpose of reviewing some decided action in the direction of athletics and for the election of permanent class officers. The following were elected as temporary officers: President, H. H. Morris; Vice-President, Samuel; Secretary, Croaker, D. Miller; Executive Committee, Eliot, Hitchcock, Brouer, Brown.

Dress Rehearsal To-Night.

The final dress rehearsal for the historical sketches which are to be presented next week, during the Freshman Field day, Founders' Week will be held to night at 8:30 o'clock. All the scenes which were to be enacted in the attic next week will be given, together with the musical scores just as arranged for the regular program. The field will be illuminated by a large number of powerful electric lights and also calcium spot lights. The regular program will be presented.

University Closed on Friday.

The University was closed this afternoon by Vice-President E. F. Smith, who announced that Friday afternoon of the week the entire University would be closed to enable the student body to witness the Freshman Field day without missing classes. Many of the undergraduates are in the exercises of that day, and it was thought best to grant a holiday, that some might miss the climax of Pennsylvania's extensive coloration.

Civil Engineers Meet.

The Civil Engineering Society held its first meeting for the college year last night in the Engineering Building. Dr. Morberg made an address in which he dwelt upon the encouraging growth of the society and of the department. He stated that the new 65,000-pound testing machine had just been erected, and the department was in better condition than ever before for experimental work. Professor Eady spoke also.

Ushers for Founders' Week.

All men expecting to act as ushers in Founders' Week, during Founders' Week, will meet the Head usher between 2 and 3 o'clock to-day in the common room of the Harrision Laboratory, where nominations of class officers for the coming year will take place.

Senior Class Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the Sophomore Class that afternoon in the Harrison Laboratory, when nominations of class officers for the coming year will take place.

PHILADELPHIA, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1908

LITERARY ORGANIZATIONS MEET

Zelo Opens College Year with Smoker. Portrait Presented to Philo.

At its first meeting of the college year, held last night, the following nominees for office in the Philomathean Society were proposed: President, Charles J. Cole, Jr.; First Censor, A. H. Miller, M. Homer; Second Censor, J. Green, P. Straus; Secretary, W. E. Perrott, Jr., A. Hughes; Treasurer, J. Kruix, F. C. Berta, Recorder, C. H. Hoover.

The evening was a better one than from Provoost, Harrision, an ex-moderator of the society, stating that he had been a framed portrait of himself, for which the society had made a request. The debate was on the resolution that "the elimination of entrance examinations is detrimental to University scholarships.

The first smoker of the college year of the Zoological Society was held last night in the cross-country squad, led by I. Van Pelt. The roll showed thirty-three present. The evening was given over to social activities. Addresses were made by Rev. Dr. A. J. Leach, Dean J. Milton Hens, Jr., and other members of the society. Business was transacted, and the meeting adjourned, which will be held on Friday evening, October 10th.

Final "Varsity Tenora Trials. The final trials of candidates for the "Varsity tenon team was held yesterday afternoon. Three courses were completed. Kawasaki winning from L. F., two 4.6, and Schumacher, 1.6, 4.2, and Schmidt from McCann, 63 6.2. Although this is regarded as practically settling the make up of the team, Captain Tilden declined to state definitely who will represent the University, as he will not be in time to see the meeting.

Play to the intercollegiates will commence Monday at the Merion Cricket Club grounds.

Track Work Progressing. The track work is progressing rapidly, under the superintendence of Griffiths and Rowe, a mile and a half of track, the top of which has been completed. Owing to trouble with the heart Quigley, the captain, will be unable to participate in any of the runs this season. On next Monday the entire squad, including the freshmen, will leave the Gymnasium at 3:30 o'clock and take a short run in Fairmount Park. Among the tent men on the field yesterday were Harriman, Newberry and Whitman, who after making large number of men were out.

Assistant Head Usher Candidates. The position of Assistant Head Usher has not yet been filled. Candidates for the position will be named and announced at the Athletic Association office. Sophomores only are eligible.

CALL FOR CANDIDATES.

All candidates who desire to try for Second Assistant Business Manager of The Pennsylvaniaian call at Business Manager's office at 12 o'clock this afternoon. Signed: Wayne H. Folger, Business Manager.
WELCOME, JUSTICE BREWER.

It is with more than perfunctoriy deference that we welcome to our University the eminent jurist whom the events of to-day and to-morrow bring here as an honored visitor.

Justice Brewer’s career must stand as an inspiration not only to the students of law, to whom he will speak this evening, but as well to every man at Pennsylvania, and we are deeply conscious of the value such a man’s words must have to any youth.

We thank the Christian Association for the opportunity of hearing its distinguished guest in the Houston Club to-morrow morning.

DEBATING.

With last night’s meetings of the Zelosophic and Philomathian Societies the debating season at the University may be said to have been officially opened, and a year of unusual activity on the rostrum is promised; before the new year there will have been five intercollegiate debates held, and most of them, we hope, won by Pennsylvania.

Interest in debating is not very general among students at the eastern universities. The average college man professes to have a good-humored appreciation for the eccentric character who goes in for it, and beyond a passing curiosity as to who wins the contest, he is seldom more than a disinterested spectator. This is unfortunate in many respects, for a debate team needs as much encouragement from the body of men it represents as any other kind of team does, and without the whole-hearted support of the student body it has many obstacles to overcome that should not be in its path. One of these, for instance, is the difficulty of paying expenses. Every year the ‘Variety Debate Committee is obliged to tax the generosity of already over-taxed alumni, and the greatest efforts are required to scrape together sufficient money to meet the bills.

And this is but one of the executive details. When coupled with this we remember what difficulty has been experienced in having men come out for teams, and then in coaching them for the debates, we are astonished that the branch of the English Department that has debating in charge has been able to achieve such wonderful success in the past.

Some day we hope to see debating independent of financial assistance from graduates, and winning the recognition from students that is its due as the only activity in which college meets college in a non-athletic contest.
