UNDERGRADUATES IN PACEANT

UNIVERSITY GIVES HOLIDAY TO CELEBRATE CITY'S GROWTH.

Many Pennsylvania Men Take Parts in the Historical Parade on Broad Street as Heralds and Soldiers.

Yesterday's pageant of the history of Philadelphia was a complete success. This was due partly to the able management of Dr. W. P. O'Borodin, partly to the artistic quality of the floats and costumes, made under the direction of Mr. W. H. S. Weylman, and partly to the fact that the characters bore their parts, many of them being University students. The heralds were all from the College and were under the direction of W. H. Weylman.

The city's history, from the earliest settlement, through the Revolutionary period, and down to the present, was shown in floats and costumed characters. The display included models of the first college buildings and a large float representing the university. In this, well-known students took the characters of the founders of the University dressed in the costume of the colonial period. Then came large reproductions of the University's seal and anchors.

In many of the other floats the parts were taken by students, and nearly all of the peasants, citizens, soldiers, etc., were also from the University, which connected the city in commemorating so many of the events that they have been taking part in.

Dr. Meade to Lecture at Harvard.

Professor C. F. Meade, of the Wharton School, will deliver three lectures on "The Initial Stages of Corporate Organization," to the faculty and students of the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. Harvard has arranged for this to be given this evening, his subject being "The Initial Stages of Corporate Organization." The second and third lectures will be given on October 14th and 15th, respectively. The lectures will be held in the following order: "The Initial Stages of Corporate Organization," on October 11th; "The Initial Stages of Corporate Organization," on October 12th; and "The Initial Stages of Corporate Organization," on October 13th.

The Undergraduate Association has arranged for these lectures to be given in the University's auditorium at 11 o'clock on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, respectively.

The Botanical Society Excursion.

An excursion to Atco, N. J., will be taken by the Botanical Society of the University this afternoon. That section of the society, under the leadership of Dr. Kratzer, will leave this morning at 9 o'clock, and, under the auspices of the Morris Committee, will leave at 10 o'clock this afternoon. The locality is rich in autumn asters and species of mosses, which it is proposed to be studied at the class meetings of the society during the coming winter.

The President and his staff are invited to attend.

Assistant Managers Appointed.

Robert Bruce Burns, '19 C, on Thursday was appointed Assistant Manager of the "Varsity" football team, and J. H. Haney, '18 C, was appointed Assistant Manager of the gymnastic team.

PRAISE FOR PENN'S PRESS STAND.

The New York World, a football expert, recently published the following note in the above paper:

"The Press stand at College Hall, in the gymnasium, is the best of its kind in the country lo see that plays are correctly reported to the press stand, and a similar arrangement for connecting the field with the press stand by wire may be adopted at Princeton. New Haven and Cambridge, please copy."
Library Receives New Books.

The University Library is the recipient of two very valuable gifts. One is an extremely rare book, Dr. Willetts's "Portraits, Prints and Writings of John Milton." The volume is a personal gift of the author, and is one of only three hundred copies of the work printed. It is a reprint of the catalogue of the exhibition held at Cambridge University in connection with the Milton tercentenary. It contains essays on the early editions of Milton's poems, together with a catalogue of miniature portraits, drawings and engravings of him.

The other gift was received from Mr. Joseph G. Rosenberg. It is one of the earliest matriculation cards to the University of Pennsylvania in existence, and was secured in a second-hand book store. It is inscribed: "This card entitles the bearer to attend the course of lectures in the College of Philadelphia, commencing March 4, 1771." It is signed by William Smith, the first Provost of the University, and is made out for Elsie Hall. A study of the records shows that Elsie John Hall, Maryland, took his degree of Bachelor of Medicine in 1854.

The moving of two large collections of books from the University Library to the newly opened library of the Veterinary Department reveals two collections of books with very interesting histories. One is the Rush & Hindekoper library on veterinary medicine, presented by Dr. Thomas R. Hindekoper, in memory of his son, Maurice R. Rayner, consisting of about two thousand volumes. It embraces sets of important periodicals, standard works, and numerous monographs on veterinary medicine and surgery. It is probably the most valuable collection of its kind in the world.

The other collection is the library of the Philadelphia Society for Promoting Agriculture, the oldest organization of its kind in the United States. It consists of about seven hundred volumes, many of them now rare, pertaining to agriculture. It was presented to the society by the University in 1858, when the society went out of existence.

This year at Michigan the Sophomores must climb a greased pole thirty feet before they can reach the penman of the Freshman. The Freshman men stand around and defend their flag while the Sophomores must break through the Freshman, climb the pole, and tear down the flag before victory is theirs.

"Zip" Postpones Meeting.
The regular weekly meeting of the Zoological Society was not held last evening, on account of the University holiday. On next Friday night the regular meeting will be held. It is important that all members attend, as trials for the Zoological Society debating team against Swarthmore will be held. The question is: "Resolved, That all co-operations engaged in inter-college work should be required to take out a federal charter on such terms as Congress may by law prescribe, granting that such legislation would be constitutional." Speakers will be given a choice of sides, first speech of five minutes duration and three minutes rebuttal.

Republicans to Meet.
A meeting of those interested in Republican success in November, to recognize the Republican Club at the University, will be held Monday afternoon, at 1:15, in Price Hall, Law School.
