MONSTER MASS MEETING TO-MORROW EVENING

CANDIDATES FOR CLUB BOATS CALLED FOR FALL ROWING.

Seniors Should Have Good Crew of River While Other Classes Are Doubtful—Car Leaves at Three

The call for candidates for the fall crew has been less loud this week than for any other time. Dr. Bates, and to report to the College Boat House to-day, Coach Ward and the managers are both in charge of the candidates. Many improvements from which to make up the boats as it is the opinion of the Fall rowing that a line can be obtained as to the material for the "Varsity crew in a few days.

It would seem that the more experienced Seniors have the chances of winning the interclass races, as they have had all of the best, and were in good shape. There were twenty-two Seniors, composed largely of men who have rowed on the Varsity crew. But the Sophomores, the juniors, the freshmen, and a few of the men of the last year's crew of the present, are probably Woodhouse, Fogg, and Snover will be the only ones to report. All the others are playing football or have dropped out of college. As Gannett is not back a large crew will have to be organized. Hoffmnn, who has had much experience, has promised to take hold and make the oars ascend.

The Sophomores have several men of more or less experience, while it is yet to be seen that the Freshman Club will turn out.

This is not a call for the Varsity, but all the men will report for their respective class crews. The management will endeavor to assign to each class as many boats as may be necessary, and Coach Ward will follow the crew up the line of men as the new men in the elements of rowing and the oars will be put to proper training.

All candidates for class crews report at the Boat House this afternoon, Take three o'clock car from Franklin Field. Signed: C. H. Scott, Jr., Manager.

DElIVERs ADDRESS

speaks at services on values of life and its many opportunities.

Rev. H. Roswell Bates, of New York City, delivered the Sunday morning address in the tordon Club Auditorium, choosing as his theme the question, "Do you know the joy of life, the man who rowed his own boat."

He said, "I came that they may have life, and have it more abundantly, and upon this text he based his optimistic and powerful message on the value of life and its opportunities. He said in conclusion:

"Do you know the joy of life, the man who rowed his own boat?"

"But it is Christ who has brought to himself the best shot. Plenty of chances for new team candidates in Room 104, College Hall. All members are especially requested to be present at that time. Signed: H. S. Brown. President.

MASS MEETING.
It is hardly necessary to again call the attention of the undergraduates that one of the largest mass meetings in years will be held in the Training House tomorrow night and that the student body will be addressed by severa prominent alumni, the coaches and the team.

In contemplation of this mass meeting we would like to ask each and very freshman in the University to postpone their regular meeting to some other night than Tuesday night this week, so as to allow the members attend the celebration. We also ask the President of every class, whether in The College, Medical, Dental or Law Department, to call a special meeting of his particular class and urge the members to be there.

It is very seldom that the coaches call on us for these celebrations, and it is the duty of every student to lend a helping hand toward making them successes.

AWARD "P." TO TOWNSEND.
The accident which befell one of our "Varsity" football men last Thursday is a matter of great remorse to everyone.
We not only sympathize with him because of his physical pain, but we also sincerely regret that his last chance of playing in a big game has been spoiled.

Townsend has been a candidate for the "Varsity" football team for four years. The first three years in college he played on the "Scrub" and helped to develop the "Varsity" team. During this time he had little chance of making his letter, as he was competing against such "Varsity" stars as Denis, Feinstein, Holwell and Greene; but he was never discouraged, and has always played a plucky game. This year his outlook was much brighter, and, barring accidents, he undoubtedly would have been a "Varsity" man.

Besides being out for the football team he went out for the crew last year, but sickness just before the races seriously interfered with his chances of making a good.

It seems unfortunate that a man who has shown the courage and perseverance that Townsend has in staying out for the team when the odds were against him and whose only chance of playing in a big game is spoiled by an accident, which occurred to him while working for his Alma-Mater, should be denied from wearing his "Varsity" letter when men of far less ability and with but one year's experience on the squad have been given that "P." for five minutes' play against Cornell.

We believe we express the wish and desire of the undergraduate body at large when we say we would like to see Rockwood Townsend awarded his letter for his self-sacrifice and courage in staying out for the team. We understand of course that this is some-ting which is seldom, if ever, done, but we consider this an exceptional and unusual case, and we would like to see it treated as such.

We believe a man should be given what he deserves. Townsend has demonstrated that he has the proper spirit and is made of the right "stuff," and in our opinion he deserves his "P."

We trust the Athletic Committee at their next meeting will see the merit of this appeal and honor our wounded player by awarding him his letter.

Gymnastic Team Notice.
There will be an important meeting of the gymnastic team tomorrow afternoon, at 1.15, on the third floor of Houston Club, for the purpose of discussing the coming season. It is imperative that every member of the team should be on hand. Signed, J. F.
Bradford, Captain.
