VARSIY PLAYS VILLA NOVA TEAM

SECRET SCRIMMAGE PRACTICE WITH THE MAIN LINE ELEVEN.

Kenneth Was Not in the Game but Captain Hollenaack Was Again at Full-Back—Scarlett Back at End.

Pennsylvania lined up against Villa Nova for scrimmage practice yesterday afternoon and later played the Freshman team for a short while. Despite the loss, the "Villa" gave the "Varsity" some very effective work. They were especially successful with the forward pass and the onside kick, making repeated gains of fifteen to twenty yards on the "Varsity" in this manner. Pennsylvania however was on the defensive during the game and held Villa Nova for down repetitions. There was danger of the game being a rehearsal for the coaches instructed the members of the squad on each play and frequently interrupted a play when not well executed, making them try it over. The All "Varsity" were in year’s scrimmage exact at Hallock and Muenter. Hollenaack was again at full-back, after being eliminated against the game, and Reagon and Pat- ortire were also cited at this position. There were no substitutions for every position in the course of the afternoon with the exception of Scarlett, Conant, and Summers, who played through the entire practice.

Scarlett has recovered from his in- jury and is putting up a good game at end. Young was replaced by Meats last half, and made several attempts on end runs.

The Varsity lined up against the Freshmen for a short scrimmage and Murphy allowed the regulars to retire except three, and the three year-ear success scored two touchdowns.

The coachea are putting the team through the hardest kind of work in preparation for the Lafayette game, and they the players are all at the Aaron and White will be a hard contest on Saturday, November second. He has already tied Princeton this season and have proved themselves a danger- ous foe.

Kenneth has been out and has run the team through signals, but has not yet participated in scrimmage work. His foot is still swelling, and the coaches have not yet decided whether to allow him to enter the game on the thirty-first. Manter’s leg has improved wonderfully under Traiers Murphy’s care, and he will be ready to play against Lafayette. Secret practice will continue for today and to-mor- row.

Mandileo and Banjo Clubs.

There was a rehearsal for the Mandi- leo and Banjo Clubs last night in Houston Club. The Banjo Club joined the other rehearsal forces, and the two groups played together for a short while. There was a rehearal for the Banjo Club last night in Houston Club.

THE PENNSYLVANIANS

As a student at the University of Pennsylvania, we believe a distinct service is done to Pennsylvania by those who by their presence impress upon the speaker their appreciation of his visit and help make him feel more keenly the deep obligation of the welcome they give him.

At last Friday morning’s service, while the sections of the three lower classes were filled to overflowing, the Senior section was scarcely half filled. This we felt was unfortunate. Seniors have great influence over undergraduate action and the classes under them are always ready to follow their lead. This places responsibility on their shoulders which few of them realize as fully as they should. The matter of Seniors being at Chapel at these special exercises on Friday morning may be considered by some to be not worth the subject of an editorial. However, when we realize that the visiting speakers at these exercises will be impressed favorably or unfavorably in regard to the student body by what they see that morning, we feel at least it is a matter of great importance to get Seniors thinking, as well as all other undergraduates.

Citizenship

On the eve of the Presidential election, we urge all students to assert their prerogatives of citizenship by voting. We know of many who did, and we believe that few who live within striking distance of their homes and who have attained their majority failed to exercise this right. Pennsylvanians have the highest examples of true citizenship handed down to them as a heritage. The greatest day of his day was the founder of our University. Men who were factors in forming our government, signers of the Declaration of Independence, and many who have given their lives for our country and others high in the direction of its affairs since have been numbered as students of the University. We are all justly proud of these men. They have by their high examples of citizenship added lustre to Pennsylvania’s name, and they should forever be an inspiration to us as Pennsylvanians men for the sake of that which is highest and best in civil life and politics as well.

FRIDAY MORNING CHAPEL

The Pennsylvania deems it its duty to strongly urge upon all students the attendance of the special Chapel services on Friday mornings. These services have been arranged solely in the interests of the undergraduates. It is for the purpose of making Chapel more attractive and of bringing before the students prominent alumni and other men of note who are in sympathy with College men and their work that Dean Penman and those connected with him have inaugurated these special Chapel services. Aside from any benefit which the undergraduates may receive from these services, we believe a distinct service is done to Pennsylvania by those who by their presence impress upon the speaker their appreciation of his visit and help make him feel more keenly the deep obligation of the welcome they give him.

Undergraduate Medical Association.
The first meeting of the House of Delegates for the year 1908-09 was held this evening at 7.30 o'clock. Plans for the work of the coming year were discussed and committee appointments. All indications point to a most successful year.
The association was formed last year at the suggestion of Dr. John C. Clark, and at once received the support of the Faculty and of the Medical Council. It is modeled after the American Medical Association, and is intended to encourage original research and to give practical experience in the conducting of such societies, so as to fill its members for the work that they may be called upon to do after graduation. The membership of the association, which is open to all students of the Medical Department, is at present about three hundred.
