Activities on Franklin Field.

Freeman Ewell Will Meet Williamsport High School-Rugby Team Will Oppose the Brooklyn Nomads.

The Athletic Association has secured a score board on Franklin Field, where the progress of the Michigan-Pennsylvania teams will be observed. The score will also be placed in public, and each play as it is made will be announced. Last year's score sheet was made and was used with great success.

At two o'clock this afternoon the Varsity Football team will meet the Williamsport High School on Franklin Field. This game, which is the first one-year event has been accompanied to a great majority of the team's condition, and in the absence of Hinschman, Tayler will play quarter-back directly after the game the Varsity football team will meet the Brooklyn Nomads. This match promises to be an exciting one, as it will try the systems for revenge for last year's defeat.

Cross Country Race with Indians.

The first annual cross-country team will meet the Carlisle Indians in Parkland this afternoon over a distance of six miles. This will be the first test for the Red and Blue men, and Coach Orten believes the team will defeat the Indians, as they have all shown great improvement during the past two weeks. The strength of the Indian team is little known except the Cavaliers, who ran in the Olympic Marathon in London last summer and was the fourth American to finish.

Trains for Yale-Princeton Game.

In addition to the regular trains this afternoon for the Yale-Princeton football game, two special trains will leave Broad Street Station, 3:15, 11:00, 11:30 and 11:45. Buses will be made at the West Philadelphi and North Philadelphia Stations. Return trains immediately after the game they will leave Princeton Middle Station to rapidly as the coaches are back up.

Provet Harrison's Reception.

Last evening the Museum of Arts and Science Provost and Mrs. Harriet son received the Freshmen Class of the College and the men from all other departments who are in attendance at the University for the first time. Over five hundred were present, including those who are taking courses at the right school.

Philadelphia Club Meets.

The Philadelphia Club held its second meeting of the year last night. It was decided to hold a special event on November 11th. Vice- Provost Smith spoke about the efforts of the Carnegie Techni- cal Institute-Pennsylvania to build up Pen- nsylvania. Smith also referred to the second meeting of the year last night. Keinath May Be Unable to Play—Marx Will Star in Game—Guard Position Is Still Uncertain.

(Special to the Pennsylvanian.)

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 11.—Michigan and Pennsylvania have put the finishing touches on their teams and are now taking their rest in preparation for the great game which they will play. There are confidence in both camps, but in neither can this be said to approach assurance. Michigan on paper has far better the team. They out weigh the Red and Blue team fully twelve pounds to the man. They have the heaviest line in the country, with stars like Schut, Waumond and Aller- dice. Pennsylvania must depend on place kicks and place punts for their support. Both elevens have star place kickers, and several of this variety may be counted. Aller- dice, of Pennsylvania is rated by many as the best place kicker in the country. C. E. Monza, Pennsylvania's half- back, has played in both the seasons. Michigan depends largely on the individuals, with Schut, Waumond and Allerdice, while Pennsylvania has a well-balanced team.

On the eve of the game Pennsylvania's line is still uncertain. Keinath's foot has slightly gone back on him under the strain of the work here and Miller may be sent in at quarter-back at the start. Miller will likely start at centre against Schut, but the Red and Blue man is in such poor shape that his nose may not last more than one half, and Cores will then take the place. Two freshmen are still jockeying for the right guard position on the front line of the game, between Pinto and Lambert, 0 and it is still doubtful which will con- tinue.

1. —Pennsylvania's players were given a drill this evening as against the afternoon. A drill for the players was held along the university, running along the golf club line, followed by a special signal drill for both teams. This evening they were given their final blackboard talk, followed by a heart-beat talk from Dr. Williams, Sol Metzger, Dr. Wharton, George Beets, John Hodges and Robert Pol- well. The Pennsylvania men are a determined lot, and how for victory, but it will be the first big foot- ball game for seven of the eleven men, and how they newcomer will stand is more or less problematical. The attitude of the coaches is that they have for victory, but dare not pro- claim it.

1. —Pennsylvania's team will leave the Country Club tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. Weather will be fine on the trails and arrive at Ann Arbor shortly after noon. This will be a contingent of old Pennsylvania men around the Country Club this evening, and tomorrow a large delegation is expected on a special train. From these parties all weather will be clear but very cold.

TODAY'S GAME

When Pennsylvania lines up against Michigan at Ann Arbor this afternoon there will be played the greatest game of modern football ever seen in the college world, and the winner of the intersectional game will have a good claim on the football championship this year. Today's game will make the third successive years that the two teams have met, but the outcome of the approaching struggle is more important than it has been in former years, as the noted football critics concede that the Pennsylvania-Michigan game to-day will be a struggle between the football champions of the East and West, and they not only expect the contest to afford an opportunity of comparing the two styles of coaching, but also that the play will be a revelation to the public at large.

Michigan so far has had a clean record, and its overwhelming defeat of Florida under Captain Yost's elaborate system of trick plays gives Michigan a team that is composed of stars, one that has been drilled by the best system of coaching in the country, a team that has never been defeated, and a team that woutl be defeated. While there is no doubt in our minds as to the outcome of the contest, we believe the game will be hard fought, and we all join in wishing the team the greatest success possible.

JUNIOR WEEK

A few years ago several students introduced the happy innovation at Pennsylvania of having a celebration that should be an attractive and distinctive feature of each Thanksgiving week. It was designated to fill up this, the first of the University holidays, with a diversified program of athletic, social and musical events, which could be joined in impartially by all classes and all departments, and which would make the week thoroughly pleasant for the out-of-town students. The plan met with instant approval, and today has demonstrated the far sightedness of its innovation.

Little by little the Junior Week idea has been evolved, until now a delightful Pennsylvania institution.

Plans are already on foot for this year's celebration. A committee is at work on details, and a more elaborate program will be entered upon than ever before. The Cornell-Pennsylvania and the West Point-Agapall football games, the interscholastic championship games, the Pennsylvania-Cornell concert at the Bellevue-Stratford, the Junior Tea at the Museum, the Junior Ball at the Gymnasium, and the theatre party at the Monday night performance of "The Mide World," are the main attractions that have been scheduled. The fact that the Junior Class is managing these events ought not to dampen the ardor of any undergraduate, as the members of all the classes are asked to join in all the festivities except the tea, which is distinctively a Junior function, and make the week the greatest week of the college year.

Hirs Colombian Society.

A meeting of the Hirs Colombian Society was held last night on the third floor of the Houston Club. Papers were read by J. Armstrong, '99; H. B. Davis, '99 M., and a case by McCown, '11 M. Refreshments were served at the end of the business meeting.

Architectural Society Meeting.

On Thursday evening the Architectural Society held a meeting in the Houston Club. New members were elected and plans for the play discussed. The play will be given at an early date in the same place as last year, the "Urban Street Theatre."

Soccer Practice Yesterday.

The "soccer" team under Captain Webster held its first practice yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock on Facstlin Field. The large number of candidates showed up well, and the prospects for a winning team are very favorable.
