ho that every man who can go to Princeton this afternoon will do so. The only event of importance on Franklin Field to-day is the Cornell-Pennsylvania Freshman game. This will give many of the students a chance to go to this intercollegiate event in New Jersey. The train for Princeton leaves West Philadelphia at 12:28 and the fare for the round trip is only $1.89. We hope many of the students will take advantage of this arrangement and give the cross-country team the support they deserve.

The Pennsylvania wishes Captain Paull and his men success.

Dr. Pepper's Address.

Dr. George Wharton Pepper addressed the assembled Wharton School in Logan Hall yesterday morning, talking for his subject "The Law as a Career." His powerful speech was received with great enthusiasm by the students. Dr. Wharton said in part: "The work of a lawyer can be summarized as first, to counsel his client in order to prevent litigation, and, second, to conduct such litigation when once begun. In preparing for law a well-rounded education is necessary, one consisting not only of courses leading directly to law, but also of such subjects as will develop the character in other directions. It is not so much the subject of study that is important, but to cultivate the ability to grasp the difficulties of other people and study out a constructive solution is the essential thing. Preparation for law requires not merely knowledge but the ability to grasp a problem and originate a solution."

 Montgomery's Chapel Address.

Rev. Richard Montgomery, 79 C, delivered a very helpful sermon yesterday morning in Chapel. His text was: "For he that hath, to him shall be given; and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath." After explaining that Christ spoke in parables that men might think in order to learn and understand, the speaker said in part: "The meaning of the parable is in your grasp of it. To him who considers it outside of himself it means nothing; but he who makes it a part of himself, so realizes his wonderful truths. There are three kinds of truths which affect our lives. These are ethical, moral and spiritual. Others, such as scientific, truths, while immensely valuable, do not affect our daily life as do those three."

Sunday Service Speaker.

Sunday Services tomorrow will be conducted by Rev. Edward Hoyt Dol.

D.D. Dr. Delk will have a message of moment to every University man, and an especially large attendance of the undergraduates is hoped for.

Archaeological Museum Trustees.

The Board of Trustees of the Archaeological Museum held their monthly meeting yesterday afternoon in the office of the President, Mr. S. P. Hazon, Real Estate Trust Building.
