ANNUAL BOWL FIGHT ON FRIDAY

FRANKLIN FIELD SCENE OF HISTORIC UNDERCLASS STRUGGLE.

Contest Will Consist of Two Twenty-Minute Halves—Object of Each Half—Last Year Struggle Was a Tie.

The annual bowl fight between the Sophomore and Freshman Classes will take place this Friday afternoon, at one o'clock, on Franklin Field. It will be held under the general supervision of the Undergraduate Committee and fought according to the rules laid down by that body.

The light is divided into two halves of ten minutes each. In the first half the Sophomores have possession of the bowl and endeavor to touch the Freshman bowl man with it. The aim of the second half is to prevent the opposite hands as possible upon the bowl, which, when the starting whistle blows, is in the Sophomores’ possession.

The Bowl Fight is an historic event in Pennsylvania. Some years ago it was fought in a manner entirely different from that now in vogue. There were no rules or time limits, but the classes fought until fatigue compelled them to stop. The battle was not even entered upon in one locality, generally moved about over the city. Several times the Medical School entered the fray and seized the bowl from the College men. One year this sort of interference by the professional students raised a civil suit, and the intruders were forced to return the bowl to the College men.

Last year the fight was a tie, the Sophomores having won the first half and the Freshmen the second.

A. A. ELECTIONS

Today's communication sets forth the duty of the student body of the University in the coming elections to the Board of Directors of the Athletic Association. The nomination is due to the point and we like its spirit. Too much talking is done around the University in regard to matters which cannot be changed by talking, and too little interest is shown when the time for action comes, which alone can remedy the evils. The Athletic Association is a vital factor in University life. Every action taken by the Association as a whole or by its committees affects the entire student body. Since its actions concern and mean so much to the undergraduates, the same standards should apply in the selection of the men who are to compose its directorate as are applied in selecting the men for the responsible positions in the other University activities, and that standard is that only the best and most representative men be chosen.

This election of Directors occurs on December 8th. Fourteen men out of the twenty-five nominated are to be elected. Each holder of an Athletic book is a member of the Association and is entitled to vote. There are over two thousand men in the University who are members of the Association and therefore entitled to vote.

The election is not a walk-off, and it is up to these two thousand men to put their thinking cap on, take up the list of nominations, study the men who are on the list, and vote conscientiously for the best and most representative men—the men whom you know will stand up and fight for what they think is right and for what they believe is for the best for Pennsylvania and her interests.
