VARSITY LOSES TO SWARTHMORE

VISITORS WIN HARDEST FIGHT WITH SENSATIONAL FINISH

Glickstein Star of Game—Griffin, Hough, and Kiefaber Also Play Well—The Freshmen Defeat Central High Five

Playing like a whirlwind and rain- ing goals from every angle of the field, the Swarthmore College basketball team defeated the Red and Blue quintette in a magnificent final to score 21 to 2. It was a game replete with accurate passing, phenomenal shooting and hard playing, and until the last second before the final whistle, the score was nearly even. With the ball tied at eighteen points the Garnet and White five started a sensational rally and ran up thirteen points against their bewildered opponents. It was an incredibly short space of time.

List up and summary:

FRESHMEN DEFEAT SOPHOMORES
First-Year Men Victorious in Annual Debate With Their Rivals.

The annual Sophomore-Freshman debate was won last night by the Freshmen over the Sophomores. Mr. W. H. Trumbauer and F. H. Kosewitz, Cap- tain of the Freshmen team, announced, fell below their opponents in meritorious ability. Dr. E. F. Smith was presiding officer and Dr. E. P. Cushing was the speaker for the Sophomore party. Mr. Watson and Mr. Dale Parker acted as judges. A prize of twenty-five dollars was divided equally among the three best speakers.

More Crew Men Needed.
Coach Ward would like to see the number of men who have thus far turned out for the "Varsity boat don- ing more than a fair share of the work. If the number is not increased with the speed with which the "Varsity eight, a smaller number than ever, has made a start this year, the crew must be reduced.

The candidates for coxswain of the Freshman crew include T. W. Mc- Grath, the lightest man in the class, weighing seventy-three pounds, and A. W. Winfield, the Freshman crew and for two years steered the Penn Central High School boat, who tips the scales at one hun- dred and twenty pounds. DR. QUINN'S ADDRESS.
The honor we have of printing this morning the address of Edgar Allan Poe, delivered by Dr. Quinn, of the English Department, in Chapel yesterday morning. As we are unable to publish the entire address this morning on account of lack of space, we will condense the address in tomorrow's issue.

ROARING.
Any undergraduate now keeps in touch with University affairs knows there is a dearth of material for the crew. It is also very evident that unless the support is given to roaring that it deserves history will not be made. Something must be done. On Monday about forty men reported for practice at the Gymnasium and yesterday only a few more came out. The great majority of these men have rowed before and always will row while at college. Those that class from which, as we have said before, "few die and none resign." In other words, the great mass of students at the University take no interest in this major sport. It is obvious that one out of some forty-five hundred enrolled are more than one hundred and ten men, including the Freshmen candidates, who possess the necessary physique and have the time to row.

The absurd are taking more interest in rowing this year than they have in previous years. The smoker last Friday night at the University Club and the one to be held this Friday at the Mask and Wig Club demonstrate conclusively that they are in earnest and intend to put forth every effort to aid their Alma Mater in putting a winning crew on the water this year. They are trying to awaken some enthusiasm in a dormant student body. They are doing what they can, and it is certainly "up to us" to show our appreciation of their interest.

The great majority of these men have not the opportunity to do this and only one, Come out for the crew and get some husky fellow you know to come out with you. At a conservative estimate one hundred more candidates for positions on the various "Varsity" crews are needed. This will make the competition keen, put more spirit in the candidates, and make every man work harder. It will also go a long way toward giving Pennsylvania one of the best crews, if not the best crew, on the Hudson next June. The graduates are doing their part, the Rowing Committee is doing its part, and the coach is doing his part. Will the underclassmen live up to Pennsylvania traditions and do their part?

POECENTNARY COMMEMORATED

times pleading in a broken voice that he was ill, and begging for him—mentioning nothing but that he was ill, whatever might be the reason for his writing nothing; and never, amid all her tears and recitals of distress, suffering one syllable to escape her lips that could convey a dose of him, or a complaint, or a lessening of pride in his genius and good intentions. Her daughter died, a year and a half since, leaving an only son to desert him, caring for him, guarding him against exposure, and when he was carried away by tempests, amid grief and the loneliness of feelings unspoken to, and awake from his self-abandonment generated in destitution and suffering, begging for him still. If woman's devotion born with a first love, and fed with human passion, hollow its object, as it is allowed to do, what does not a devotion like this—pure, disinter- ested, and holy as the watch of an invisible spirit—say for him who inspired it?

(Concluded To-Morrow.)

Last Reading by Dr. Furness.

What will probably be the last public reading of Dr. Horace Howard Furness, Ph. D., Litt. D., Ll. D., will be given tonight in Witherspoon Hall, Juniper and Walnut streets. The reading will consist of Shakspeare's "Henry V." and the proceeds will be for the benefit of the Harrison Day Nursery. Dr. Furness, who was at one time a Trustee of the University, has a wide reputation as a Shakespearian scholar.
