HARRY, for instance, was full-back on the 'Varsity football team, played three seasons on the 'Varsity track, and also played both basketball and baseball. His judgment and his ability to manage a team are known to all those who have associated with him for the past three years, and his position in the squad is considered impregnable.

The Indian Association has actually been formed, and the burdens of the work are carried by a very few men. A few more members could have been made, but the proposition is a good one and it is to be hoped that the membership will increase as the work progresses and as the influence of the association is felt in the college.

As for the Mask and Wig Chorus Competition, it is to be regretted that the contest was not held last year. The contest is a necessity for the college and for the Mask and Wig Society. It is the most scientific way of selecting the best men for the Mask and Wig Society, and it is to be hoped that the next contest will be held.

The following men will report at four o'clock to-day:

To the Editor of The Pennsylvanian,

Dear Sir:—You published in The Pennsylvanian of Friday last, the following items: (Continued on Fourth Page.)

SMITH CHOSEN HEAD COACH.

All-American Full-back in 1909—Car- sille Indians Accept October 30th on Pennsylvania Schedule.

At a meeting of the Football Com- mittee of the Athletic Association held yesterday afternoon, Andrew Latham Smith, '05 C, was selected as Field Coach for the 1909 Varsity football.

"Andy" is one of the most promis- ing gridiron stars Pennsylvania has ever known, and the choice of the committee will undoubtedly meet with universal approval.

Smith entered the University in 1900 from Pennsylvania State College, where he first distinguished himself as a football player. In 1901 and 1902 he was full-back on the Varsity eleven as well as member of his class. He had basketball, baseball, and track teams. As a shot putter, hammer, javelin, and high jumper he never failed to live up to his reputation. Besides athletics he is prominent in the class affairs, having served on numer- ous committees and five out of his three years and having been a mem- ber of the Phi Kappa Beta Junior So- ciet. Since his graduation "Andy" has become well known as a coach. For the last two years he has directed the Pennsylvania Academy eleven and each year has turned out a championship team from comparatively poor mater- ial. The Indians have finally agreed to give us the University for publication, or to any member of the Chief of The Pennsylvanian.

The committee feels very strongly that every undergradate should take a personal interest in these proposed changes in our athletic insignia. We would like to express our views in writing. Let- ters, telegrams, and telephones for publication, or to any member of the Chief of The Pennsylvanian.

LINCOLN DONATIONS.

We beg to remind all undergraduates that to-day is the day for turning in all donations to the Lincoln Memorial. All donations will be purchased with that portion of the Lincoln Memorial Fund. It is unnecessary for us to dwell further on the importance of helping this movement. Every American should feel it a privilege to contribute towards preserving to posterity the memory of Abraham Lin-coln.

TODAY’S COMMUNICATION.

We print this morning a communication from the committee which was appointed recently to consider and recommend for adoption to the Athletic Association changes in the rules awarding “Varsity athletic insignia. The committee has acted in a broad-minded manner in laying the matter before the entire student body, and we heartily commend their action. Any recommendation by the men appointed to do this work we are sure would meet with the approval of the undergraduates, as their ability and fitness for the work cannot be questioned. The very fact that they ask for expressions from the students as to what these changes should be show conclusively that they desire to put the matter in the hands of the undergraduates and will recommend what changes are most desired. There are certain men in the University who never let pass a chance to criticise the Athletic Association. They are sump- tuous of every action it takes, whether such action is taken by its Board of Directors or by its Sub-Committees. These men, if they have any constructive ideas, have now a chance to air them. The committee appointed for recommending changes in “Varsity athletic insignia has thrown itself open to suggestions and will set in accordance with what the undergraduates wish. The opinions of the committee of the PENNSYLVANIAN are open for communica-tions on the subject, and we will be glad to enter the discussion editorial-lly later.

The matter of awarding the “Varsity "P" is most important, as is the awarding of other athletic insignia. We desire to see the “Varsity letter guarded more carefully and awarded with greater discretion. One of the greatest honors which can come to a man during his college career is to represent his alma mater on one of her athletic teams and win his “Varsity letter. The winning of the letter is the goal of athletic achievement, but this goal is cheapened and the halo of its glory becomes dimmed if it is not sufficiently safeguarded.

We further would like to see a sys-tem of awarding the athletic insignia to second teams made uniform. There are many other details in re-gard to the awarding of these insignia which we would like to see decided upon and definitely fixed once for all, but we together with the committee will bow to the will of the majority. Write to the committee or send us communications on the subject.

Tickets for University Day.

So great has been the demand for tickets for the University Day exercises at the Academy of Music on Monday afternoon, February 22, 1909, when President-Elect Taft will deliver the annual address for the University of Pennsylvania, that the committee has been greatly embarrassed in referring to the applications for admission.

After making a careful search of almost eight hundred seniors and Graduate School students, who will march from Horticultural Hall into the Academy in a body, and continue across the park, and after making most prudent provisions for the members of the teaching force and the students in the lower classes, the committee has had its disposal less than eight hundred seats. It is evident, therefore, that the whole question will have to be taken good-humoredly by all concerned; that it will be impossible to admit a great number of persons who wish to be present and whom the University would greatly desire to have as guests, and that, in assigning seats, the most that can be done is to exercise every courtesy in its power.

Gymnastic Exhibition.

The annual gymnastic exhibition will be given in University Hall on Wednesday, February 21st. Dr. McKeon will direct and will be assisted by W. J. Cronie, J. Howard, J. E. Krell, O. E. Gerner and the class leaders.

smaller institutions? Is it entirely a student affair. The man responsible is the one who proceeds to be a Christian and fails to do his part. We have five secretaries, Illinois has one, Cornell one, but they seem to have some unfinish, earnest, local undergraduates who take off their coats and get busy.

Only one thing can change the present unsatisfactory status—men who believe in Christ must get off the fence and stand on their feet. If the present work is unsatisfactory—and I know it is—join the Association and air things up from the inside. Put a little Pennsylvania spirit into the Christianity that you wear. Make a little sacrifice if it will help the other fellow to live better.

The editorial staff that the students do not take an interest in the Association and do not support it, "but this is not because the students are not religious." What do you mean by "religious?" There is a command, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God, and thy neighbor." Can a man be religious and not show at least a willingness to serve in such a cause as you discuss? I have written at such length because it was through the Christian Association at Pennsylvania that I learned what it means to be a Christian, and if there is one thing that Pennsylvania gave me, with which I would not part, it is that view of practical Christianity which suffices to change my whole life plane.

SWIMMING DATES CHANGED.

Championships in New York instead of New Haven—One of A. U. A. Events Will Be Held Here.

At a meeting of the Intercollegiate Swimming Association held in New York it was decided to change the date of the major swimming meet from April 5th to April 12th. It was originally planned to hold this meet in the latter date, but the change was made at the last minute. The dates of the event were then changed.

The change was announced by the Championship Committee of the American Athletic Union that at least one event, and in all likelihood more than one, of the national swimming teams in to be held in the Pennsylvania secret. Coach Kistler is the one the former is a swimming event. This type of water has polygon a great deal of good. The only swimming club within the city of New York is now being held. The committee is very active. The committee will be held at the swimming sports in New York on March 14th and April 5th. In the New York Athletic Club the first novice meet, for men and women, has been held. Two games have been scheduled with the final meet set for April 12th. So many men are neither true to themselves nor to their acquaintances. But any influence of the kind would cause great indignation, as these men do not realize it. They first blind themselves to their lack of ability and then gradually feel their friends. Then, when alone, which grows on them until it is a part of their very selves, yet unknown to themselves they are sacrificing their naturalness. Naturalness and sincerity lead a man which is refreshing and which any man can ill afford to lose. Looking around we see our "man of the world" type. He imagines he is dark, handsome, fascinating; he has seen "things" and knows a "life." In fact Lord Byron was a fourth-rate in comparison. There is our pseudo-social leader, whose mingling with first families has spoiled him. Already he has regretted four invitations for this evening that he "may drop into the college dance late, but they are such vulgar affairs, you know!"

Thus we could cite the entire list, but it would be useless; we all know how he acts, how he talks, when we alone, later we despise, and finally we utterly disregard. How treacherous they are. What a relief it is to find a really natural man. Not a man who pretends too much, who is too willing to tell you all his business; not a man who "places all his goods in the show window." But a man who meets you upon your own ground, who makes you feel that he says and does is sincere. Above all it is not necessary to break through a crust of reserve—call it what you like—to find the true man. He natural, men, be natural!

Glee Club Assists in Chapel. "Are Pennsylvania the new hymn composed by Dr. A. Weir Mitchell, will be sung by the class and transcribe morning by members of the Glee Club. Little progress in the singing of the hymn has been made by the club. As it is on the program of the University Day services it is extremely important that the under graduates learn both words and music. The Penn is most anxious, therefore, to have the Club well filled the remainder of the week.

 Mention The Pennsylvania
Medical News.

The Easter recess will begin on Monday, April 16th, at 3 A. M., and end Thursday, April 19th, at 3 A. M., instead of April 18th, as was announced in the calendar of the Catalogue.

At a recent meeting of the Alpha Omega Alpha Honorary Fraternity the following members of the four-year class were initiated: T. R. Coulter, P. A. Davis, W. N. Ferguson, R. N. Hambien, A. W. Hopper, J. W. Lyons, E. S. Hodge.

The impression that cancer is a contagious disease is emphatically refuted in an article in this week's "Umschau," a German review, by the celebrated Berlin specialist, Professor von Hanssman.

The writer says that the apparent increase in cancer as indicated by comparing the latest medical statistics with those of twenty or thirty years ago is really misleading. As a matter of fact these statistics do not bear comparison, for symptoms formerly mistaken for other diseases are now diagnosed with unfailing accuracy as internal cancer. External cancer, visible and easily recognizable, has only increased in proportion to the growth of the population.

The recurrence of cancer in a family, a town or a country is, according to the writer, no proof of its contagiousness, and he adds:

"There are no cases on record in which a hereditary cause has been absolutely proved to have come from one person to another by contagion. In the case of other contagious diseases such as tuberculosis it has been observed that hospital surgeons or nurses have occasionally become infected by patients. This has been noted more by practical than by members of the central committee for cancer research."

The London "Lancet," it may be added, recently published a paper by Dr. E. F. Battford, who concludes that cancer is not a transmissible disease. Of sixty and sixty-nine patients of whose families trustworthy records could be obtained, he found that only fifteen of the fathers had died of the disease and thirteen hundred and fourteen of the mothers—"New York Sun."

There interesting "cases in Law" were held recently by Professor, "Value of Testimony in the Trial of Causes," by Walter Blackeck and "Testimony," by William Lloyd, Jr., Esq., and "Correspondence," by Horace Stern, Esq.

Novelty in various forms is the supreme inducement at Keith's for the week of February 15th. There is a lit- tle of everything for everybody, with amusing and good music, as well as acts especially pleasing to the managers. Draycott and Phyllis Rankin remain for a second week, duplicating their success in Pasdel's delightfully original play, "The Naked Truth." This com-edy, which contains excellent music and some unique spectacular effects, is a sure winner with all parts of the house. The greatest novelty in the trained animal line is the equine para- dox, "Princess Trillie," undoubtedly the most remarkable educated horse in the world. "Princess Trillie" has recently come from the other side, where, she appeared before King Ed- ward VII and the royal family of Buck- ingham Palace, giving a series of rare demonstrations such as have astounded the students of Europe. Her Majesty has decorated "Princess Trillie" with a gold collarette in honor of her amaz- ing feats of memory and intelligence, for she is not only a mathematician, but also a musician, and has a most amazing color sense and accurate knowledge of form. She is also a humorist, a way, and her act as a whole is profoundly interesting to the elders as well as the children, who are sure to receive a great lesson in "Princess Trillie." The phenomenal demon- stration of almost human intelligence is sure to be a sensation before the week is out. Claude and Fancé's "Fete" present a very pleas- ing and in some respects thrilling act, called "Pagan's Decision." It may be called a classic in slang and theme with human interest, with just enough pathos to relieve the comedy. It has been a brilliant success everywhere presented.

Valuable Gifts to Library.
Dr. Leo Stanton Rowe, L. L. D., Pro- fessor of Political Science, has do- nated to the University Library a magni- ficent volume which he brought home with him from his recent trip through South America. It consists of twelve beautifully colored plates, portraying the result of experiments in the effectiveness of nitrate for fer-tilizers of the soil, which have lately been made in South America. The volume is edited by Dr. Paul Wagner and published in Buenos Ayres.

Another interesting gift was received by the Library yesterday, namely, "Epidemiological Observations in Medi- cine," in which are reprinted several communications which first appeared in the scientific world. Important discoveries. Among these are articles on "Symposium of Cerebrospinal Meningitis," by Lord Lister, to whom the book is dedicated; "Circulatory Disorders of the Blood," by Wil- liam Harvey," and "Puerperal Fever," by Oliver Wendell Holmes. The work is in the gift of the publishers, W. B. Saunders Company, of this city.

Dr. Morris Jastrow, Jr., the Univer- sity's Librarian, has once more found cause to comment on the vexations of students in handling valuable books. The offense in this case was commit- ted by a dental student, who removed one hundred or more pages from vari- ous parts of a dental text-book of great value, "Operative Dentistry," the work of Dr. J. W. Putnam, of the Dental School, and his personal gift to the Library.

Important Record Notice.
All Seniors who have not returned to Gilbert & Bacon the proof they de- sire finished for Bonnet must do so at once.

On February 17th the committee will order photographer to finish up a picture of each man, whether proofs have been approved or not. Signed: The Committee. Wayne H. Folger, Business Manager.
