Prominent Second-Year Men Will Speak at the Annual Class Banquet. The Banquet Will Be Held To-Night.

Tonight the class of 1911 will make merry at the annual class banquet to be held in the chateau de jure of the Hotel Bristol, 630 Fifth Ave. This has been the custom of years past for the class of '11. It is true, however, that on the top floor of the Manufacturers' Club Building a banquet will be held in the street just above Broad. But this year, owing to removal of that organization to the old Belvedere Hotel, such a plan was out of the question.

This year, however, it is doubtful whether the old custom would not have been broken in any event, for the recent ruling of the Undergraduate Committee precludes any possibility of a class banquet, as the date set for such celebrations was previously announced. Such a plan was undoubtedly foreseen when the decision was made.

H. M. Tinker's sweater has been chosen Tossmaster, and his well-known speakings abilities prove him eminently fitted for the position.农田 have been made to the order of A. A. Vermilye, and Sepulchre, and the guests of honor at the banquet. The banquet will be held at 8 p.m. This year, however, it is doubtful whether the old custom would not have been broken in any event, for the recent ruling of the Undergraduate Committee precludes any possibility of a class banquet, as the date set for such celebrations was previously announced. Such a plan was undoubtedly foreseen when the decision was made.

Sears, Roebuck & Co.

The teams lined up as follows: B—Thacher, center field; Moore, right field; White, left field; Brokaw, second base; Alden, shortstop; Smith, third base; Dante, catcher. The line-ups were as follows: A—Humphrey, center field; Wood, left field; Collier, first base; Smith, second base; Brokaw, third base; Merritt, pitcher. The work will be published in about a month. The class has decided that the banquet should be informal. Full dress suits and dinner coats are not to be worn.

Notice.

The committee will not know until the publication of an Architectural year-book how much the sale of tickets will contribute to the balance of the Architectural Play Realized $400. The class has decided that the banquet should be informal. Full dress suits and dinner coats are not to be worn.

The seventy annual convention of the Association of History Teachers of the Middle States and Maryland will be held at this University today and tomorrow. Today's meeting will be called at 9.30 o'clock in Houston Hall.

Evans, of the Gir's High School of Philadelphia; and Professor John L. Steward, ofleigh University.

This evening at eight o'clock the program will be continued in the auditorium of the Central High School, Fifteenth and Green streets.

The final meeting of the Association will take place on Saturday morning at ten o'clock in Houston Hall. This will be addressed by Professor W. L. E. At 12.30 a luncheon will be tendered the delegates attending the meeting by the University.

Tennis Association Makes Plans.

The Tennis Association of the University met yesterday in the Law School Building to lay plans for the coming year. The Association was found to be in a prospering financial condition. It was decided to make some big improvements on the courts and to lay board flooring in the dressing rooms. The courts will be opened as soon as this work is completed, which will be about April 1st.

The most gratifying feature is the prosperous condition of the treasury, which renders these improvements possible. The Association contained a larger membership last year, and with the increased advantages which it will vouch for this year, should be much larger.

Two committees were appointed by James T. Young, one to look after the renovating work and the other to take charge of the financial and the membership. The courts will be surfaced, the drainage will be improved, and new nets will be furnished. The dressing room is a long needed improvement, and will add greatly to the comfort of the members.

Wrestlers Meet Annapolis.

The Pennsylvania Wrestling Team manages in their last dual meet of the season tomorrow afternoon when the squad meets the Naval Academy team at Annapolis. While the wrestlers have only won two meets this year, they are in good shape, and hope to capture a majority of tonight's bouts.

COLLEGE LIFE.

The so-called college life of our great universities in this country is everywhere characterized by customs, fads and traditions that are peculiar to it. Nowhere is this more true than at Pennsylvania. Out large numbers, our central campus and our compact system of dormitories, the student life is almost isolated and complete within itself. The provinciality created by this state of affairs is of untold benefit to Pennsylvania. A tendency toward narrowness in our life is bound to bring with it an earnestness in all things Pennsylvania.

College customs and fads breed an unshakeable loyalty that is seldom created by other things. The more provincial we are in our life here the more we make our interests Pennsyl-
