Yale Crew men here to-day.

Many Club men will entertain Ellis during Stay in Philadelphia—hold first varsity training.

Twenty members of the Yale crew squad arrived here last evening, and are expected in Philadelphia with their shells at or about four to-morrow. They have had a good baseball season, which is making an easier test Lucifer and Yale, the same train. The crew will make its quarters at the Hall, Boston, at the 225,40 street.

Quite extensive plans have been made for entertaining the Yale squad, but since both crews will be in strict training, it is expected they will be unable to take part. The Mask and Wig Club has invited the men to dinner on the evening of April 3d, after which a short entertainment will be in order. In addition the University of Pennsylvania and Columbia Clubs have been offered for training purposes. Training quarters are being reserved by the Mask and the Philadelphia Rowing Association.

On the evening after the race the University of Pennsylvania Rowing Association has invited the Yale squad to dinner and then to the theatre. According to plan the close of the season by the Brown and the Philadelphia Clubs is to be held by the Mask and the Philadelphia Rowing Association.

The following men will be present at the dinner: Yale, M. Neff and H. McEachron, Pennsylvania, W. A. Barrett, C. J. Cole, A. H. Miller, and S. I. Smith. The line up of the teams followed:

Ursinus—centre field: Pavesi; all or west, centre field; Freson, catcher; Hurt, pitcher; Abbe, first base; Howard, second base; Kitchline, shortstop; Flemington, second base; Romeo of New York, New York City.

The following men will report at 2:00 p.m. for the game with Township:

It is expected that Township will give a good account of itself, and that neither will have too many chances for a longer row. New York, New York City.

The minor details as regards the course and time of starting for the race on Saturday, April 16th, will be decided upon later.

Hoagland was destroyed at No. 1 in the Pennsylvania "Varsity eight in the regular standings. This new man has put up the work well and the shells will be housed and the crews will report (vice daily). In addition the University of Pennsylvania and Columbia Clubs have been offered for training purposes. Training quarters are being reserved by the Mask and the Philadelphia Rowing Association.

"Compare now the situation of the inarticulate undergraduate. He is ill-read, it is true, and to that extent badly handicapped. If he does not know books well, he is sufficiently interested in other things to work up the emotional glow which is, after all, the great success of adequate expression. Is he allowed to work out his individual style? Ostensibly, "be simple, don't be literary," say his professors; "grammar is not a divine code; short words are as long words, and better." But when the trustful victim ventured to bring up his sentences with "and," decides to omit a verb now and then, rings a purple adjective—down comes the blue pencil and cuts his poor copy up into pitiful resemblance to what Ruskin had made of it. The classic as an inspiration and a discipline has left him. The go-ahead undergraduate inarticulates is due to the modern who asks the student to write like himself, but mark him for not writing like Tacitus."

Swimming Team at Princeton. Pennsylvania's swimming representatives meet Princeton tonight in the Tigers' tank, and from the past performances of both teams the contest should prove exciting.

Princeton has lost Dennison, one of her best men, who has left college, but may be depended upon nevertheless to give Dr. Red and Blue a hard battle.

In the Intercollegiate Swimming Meet, held last Saturday, Captain Chambers, of Princeton, won both the fifty and the one hundred yard swims, defeating Shryock, Pennsylvania's fastest man, by a few feet in each event. The work of both men throughout the season has been on the highest order. On March 24th Shryock will be in his best shape and anticipated some of the best swimmers in the country in a one hundred yarders race, held in the Pennsylvania tank. A battle royal may be expected when he and Chambers meet this evening.

Pennsylvania's team this year is composed of new men, and after their victory in the Intercollegiate Swimming Meet last Saturday, a victory should be assured tomorrow. Following are the events and entries:

Two Hundred and Twenty Yards—Princeton: Hazen, Pennsylvania: Yerkes, Anthony or Shryock.

New French Text-Book.

Professor Philippe Le Boichaud of the French Department, has just published a book, entitled, "A Guide to French Pronunciation and Phonetic Sound." It is a practical survey of French sounds treated in about eighty pages, and intended as a preliminary work in the regular French grammar. Professor Le Boichaud has written it in concert with the idea of eliminating the student's dependence on the teacher for the pronunciation of French sounds, and has received universal commendation from French scholars for the excellence of both material and arrangement.
