RELAY OFFICIALS APPOINTED.

James E. Sullivan Will Again Be the Referee, and Will Be Featured in the Four-Mile Relay Race.

As the time for the Pennsylvania games is now rapidly approaching, full preparations are being made for the important event. Pennsylvania's recent return from New York and the services of very competent officials, which includes E. Sullivan, were among the best last year to the followers of track and field sports. Back near the immense program is run off with minute exactness and the time schedule is B. J. O'Connell. This is due in the first place to the excellent operations by the management and in a large degree to the manner in which the work is handled.

Many of the men officiating are veterans, and therefore know exactly how to operate, everything run smoothly. The following is the list of officials:

The following are the times registered at the relay races this year than ever before, as Chicago, Wisconsin, Michigan State Agricultural University, Ohio Wesleyan, Ohio State, Pennsy, and Illinois are among the relay teams who have entered.

Edgeworth, of the Western University, has scored one of the Eastern champion in the shot put. The victor will be entered in the college championship.

Both of them have to do close to forty-four feet.

The four-mile relay race between Pennsylvania and Michigan will be the last day, as both have teams.

Michigan is generally considered invincible in this event, as having been victorious for six consecutive years, with the material at hand this year, Trainer Murphy hopes to send the Red and Blue winners.

Younger Crews Practice.

A final day has been decided that the big new men could not be taught how to row in a shell in four days, for he took Stone, Myers and Wharton out of the boat at practice yesterday afternoon and put in Heiser, Reeves and Marx.

The morning appearance to date has been so far what one could expect, and will probably go in the race with few or no changes. All the crews have been arranged as follows: Second—Brown; H. B. Smith, B. A. Macy, E. H. Bowers; Third—Wright, Thompson, Bennett, Stiles, stroker; Fourth—Jackson, Hall, Fowler, Third—Woodhouse, Harris, Wilcox, Fox, Stone, Myers, G. G. Howard, and Bliss, Howard.

All the Yale and Pennsylvania crews were taken over the course in shells yesterday. The Yale boats made use of "The Prince" in the morning, but were stationed at the afternoon.

HOLY CROSS GAME TO-DAY.

Holy Cross and Pennsylvania is the baseball attraction scheduled for this afternoon. The "Varisty" will be given its first opportunity to show what her colors really mean in the Colonial college baseball ranks.

The visitors are sure of putting up the caliber of ball which has made the Westminster institution famous. It is well known that Holy Cross furnishes more players for the major leagues than any other college. In past years, an average of three men have found berths in the big league organizations. This year's team is no exception.

Edward Luckin, who will catch for Holy Cross, is one of the best backstops in the college or amateur ranks. At the close of the season Luckin will join the Athletics. On first base will be Mccarthy, Carney for the past three years has made the marks for the Eastern College football eleven. He is an equally good baseball player and a blip of the home-run variety. Jones at short can depend to upon giving a good account of himself both at the base and in the outfield. He is probably the finest athlete at Holy Cross. While at Westminster he was heaver the one thousand yards interscholastic record. His work at Holy Cross will give the feature of Holy Cross' offensive effort, to two men and a half. His probability Dowd will pitch for the "Varsity." Last year he won from most of the Eastern colleges, but in the large Eastern Conference, he should prove the hardest proposition the Pennsylvanians must face this afternoon.

Howard Thomas will make no change in the "Varsity" line up. Culler and Williamson are shuffled into the batting averages of the men on the Pennsylvanian team who are batting for 200 or better. Culler at left, .400; Williamson, 1.401, 464: Wood, Cormack, .314; Lorey, .314; B. C., .314.

As Easter vacation draws near and the end of college nears in the not too far off distance there are a few words which might be added to the Students. The college days of these student gentlemen are numbered and many of them are beginning to realize this fact. Within the next few months they will scatter to the far corners of the earth and the days of intimate association except in the case of a few will be ended forever. We venture to see that in the College Department not one man in the class is acquainted with half of the more than three hundred men who compose his class. This is of course due to the separation which naturally results from the division of the College into departments. The members of the class do not meet in rooms together and have little except their outside work in common. Class meetings and class banquets are the only times when they can possibly get together, and these gatherings are so far too few to inspire much fellowship. They give little advantage to become better acquainted, which is the great pitfall. Could the Students live over their college days again we are sure they would take steps to know each other better, and we would advise the underclassmen and Juniors to profit by their experience. I learn to know every man in your class. You will discover some who in after years you will be glad to have known. The Seniors have a couple of months left in which they can get better acquainted, and we would advise that they take steps toward doing so at once. Senior singing is one way in which to get together and get better acquainted, and should be inaugurated at once after the Easter holidays.

French Play Rehearsals. At 7:30 o'clock last evening the first continuance rehearsal of this year's French play was held in Room 217, College Hall. Dr. Vurpilis, head of the French Department, who is well known as a trainer of amateur performers, is always among the players, and rehearsals are to be held every Tuesday and Thursday evening from now on, including Easter week, until the play is given at the New Century Drawing Rooms, on Twelfth street below Chestnut, on Wednesday evening, April 28th.

For this year the Cercle Francais has chosen to again produce its ninth annual play, Moliere's comedy in three acts entitled "Les Fourberies de Scapin," which was so successfully given six years ago.

The cast seems to be especially promising this year. E. White, who as Scapin in the principal character, carries practically half the play on his shoulders, but is nevertheless well fitted for the part, as he had resided in Paris for the last three years. Scaramouche, another member of the cast, but also lived in France for some years past, and Desprezette, who has a prominent part in the play, is a Frenchman by birth.

Following the play there will be a dance, for which a long list of patronesses has been prepared. Music will be furnished by the University Orches-

Keith's Theatre

It is indeed a tangible bill that is the Keith vaudeville offering for the first week in April. It contains a little of everything, and all of it the very best. Charming and versatile Clarice Marre, the English comedienne and mimic, makes a favorable appearance before sailing for old Athens. Miss Marre will be re-covered pleasantly for her other work in character impersonation and vocalism, staging the fetching songs of her acquaintance. Mr. Tate, who is also a humorist, and keeps the house in mirth of laughter. Although Miss gallantry gives Miss Marre the major portion of the praise and honors, nevertheless he is a hit in himself, and has, in fact, not a little to make his co-star one of the really great names of modern vaudeville. This clausery is a sure winner with all parts of the house. Mr. Hymark, "The Chameleon Comedian," who has made such a sensation with his lightening character changes, and has kept all Philadelphia guessing how he does it, remains a second week to mystify his admirers. The thousands who saw Mr. Hymark this last week and who marvelled at his skill, will be glad to see him again, to discover, if possible, how he accomplishes his quick changes right before the audience, and thousands more who have heard of him will want to enjoy his remarkable performance. Edmund Dor is always a clever writer and Mr. Davis is always a brilliant actor. The combination of talents in the production of that splendid one-act play, called "Pals," has won every audience wherever Mr. Davis and his admirable support have offered it. It is really a classic in comedy and tense heart interest.
