QUALIFYING EXAMINATIONS

FOR Rhodes Scholarship Will Be Held Next Month. EXAMINATION NOT YET DETERMINED.

Provoe C. H. Harrison, Chairman of the Committee on the Rhodes Scholarships, has announced that the examination for qualification will be held in October. The date to date has not yet been set, but it is expected that some day late in the month will be decided upon by the committee or the Provost. The results of the examination will be announced on or before January, when the successful candidate will decide on the country he wishes to represent this country abroad. He will be sent overseas.

The subject of examination will be the great religions of the world. Religion, as the science of the highest and most divine of human faculties, will consist of Arithmetic, either the elements of the Algebra, or the elements of Geometry; Greek Grammar; Latin Grammar; Improved translation from Greek or a Latin book; translation from English into Latin.

Fifteen students are candidates for the scholarships, seven of them belonging to the class of 1909. No date has as yet been set.

This afternoon Franklin Field will be the scene of the great relay races which will give the best opportunity of athletes from all parts of the country, and the leading colleges and universities in every section of the great country. Nearly two hundred star athletes are entered in the various events. It is anticipated that Yale or Princeton will lead the pack, though no school will be entitled to win the entire event.

While the relays are of course the main events of the day, numerous other contests have been arranged, including the pole vault, running, hurdles and track, broad jump, discus throw, one hundred yards dash, and one hundred and twenty yards hurdle. The championship will close with a match of a two-mile and a four-mile race, and these constitute the star attraction. Pennsylvania will be represented by Talcott, of Yale; Harvard, by Churchill, Princeton and Carlisle; and Swarthmore are represented by Wilson, of Harvard, and one from the East, while Chicago, Iowa State, Cornell and Northwestern will nominal composition of the material from the state University.

Pennsylvania's hopes are all centered on winning the four-mile relay race, in which it is thought that they have the most worthy opponents in the east Michigan agricultural, Notre Dame and Mike Kate. In a sense, Mike Kate feels confident that the Red and Blue's centre is vanquished. In all the event are good, as the team is composed of whole of whom are equal or better. This team is one of the fastest turned out by the university, and it will certainly give a good account of itself. Opposed to this team will be represented by men who have all been students in the university, and who will run the Red and Blue to the limit. Buckingham, Walt, Butler and Scranton are the Blue team, while Ohio State will also place a very skillful team on the track, though they are not perished by Pennsylvania in the matter of speed.

In the two-mile college relay race, for which the Hopkins ship had to withdraw, owing to a lack of material, a most exciting contest is anticipated. For instance, Columbus and Dartmouth are entered, and each team has about three or four runners of the first order, all of whom will be keenly contested.

Interest among the leading colleges and universities in every section of the country is steadily growing. It has been decided that candidates must be between the ages of nineteen and twenty, and that no candidates could be accepted.

The talk will be given by Mr. James and Mr. Krautter. The talk will be given by Mr. James and Mr. Krautter.

The high jump should prove a most interesting feature of the day. Numerous star high jumpers who have all done great things will be present. Nelson, of Yale; Horr, of Cornell, and Nelson, of Harvard, are the most worthy opponents in this event. Wilson, Towne and Archibald are the other men who will wear the Red and Blue in this event. Cook, of Cornell, is the favorite as he has a record close to twenty-five feet, and the man who beats him will have to go with Cook.

One of the special events which has been arranged for the season is the one hundred and twenty yards hurdle throw, which will be warmed by a large opposition. For instance, there are Syracuse, Tallot, of Cornell, and Alderman, of Iowa State, who are the most likely to win in this event. There is no hitch will occur in passing from Lake to State. The opening cricket game with the Yale Faculty, which was to be played this afternoon at St. Mark's, was cancelled because of rain. The two teams are to meet up as soon as the weather permits.

Gun Club Notice.

This afternoon Franklin Field will be the scene of the great track event, thus showing that some day late in the month will be decided upon by the committee or the Provost. The results of the examination will be announced on or before January, when the successful candidate will decide on the country he wishes to represent this country abroad. He will be sent overseas.

William Jennings Bryan will deliver a lecture at the University of Minnesota on May 15th.

The task undertaken by the University of Minnesota swimming pool recently saved a Freshman from drowning.

Green caps with 1912 displayed on them in coloring red letters have caused a class war between the Freshmen and Sophomores of the University of Minnesota.

The Phillips Andover Academy easily defeated the Freshman baseball team by the score of 8 to 1. The Freshmen were represented by four of the old Academy stars.

The Princeton Athletic Executive Committee has asked the Editor-in-Chief of "The Princetonian" to attend its meetings as a representative and to act as student body. He will not have votes.

The editors of the University of Chicago's annual publication, "The Cup and Gown," have decided to dedicate this year's volume to the "Chicago Girl," instead of to some prominent man, as hereafter.

The coed crew of the University of Washington has demanded cold cream and talcum powder to be sold in their lockers. The coach has levied a tax of twenty-five cents to buy the articles and has filled the girls' dressing room with a fine mirror.

Mere Alderman, the Freshman "penman" at the University of Iowa, will represent that university here this afternoon in the discuss throw. He has already hurled the missle within one foot of the world's record, and it is fully expected that he will capture that event.

Fewer Errors in Baseball To-Day.

Is the baseball player of today a more fatuously gullible than the famous old stars of yesterday? Anon, Your, Frew, Snow, White, Broad-ers, Thompson and Sunday were once the idols of the fans, yet the players on the big teams of to-day can show even cleaner fielding averages. Why? you ask. Just compare the U.N. scores with those of all ten years ago—games are won on closer margins, fewer hits and less errors. Better baseball, the story.

It isn't that the players themselves are as much better than the old timers. The real reason for the better baseball of to-day can be traced directly to better fielding mitts and gloves.

The men on the sacks and the men in the outer garden used to wear a hit of any old kind of glove, with very little if any padding. The mitts or gloves were not moulded, consequently more than a hot liner that today would be absolutely nabbed by a fielder was in the old days limited and the bases safely reached. Give us a call.

Interest in the matter led us to look further into the question of mitts and gloves as used by the big teams of the present. Almost, without exception, we find the World's Champions, the National and American League teams, the more famous, semi-professional, college and academy alums all using mitts and gloves made by the A. J. Reach Company of Philadelphia. The same selection for Mr. Reach himself was one of the famous second basemen of his day, and so knows what is required in the shape of mitts and gloves.

The demand for such a variety of mitts and gloves, in all styles and shapes in different materials and at different prices to meet varied requirements, has resulted in making the Reach Lines the standard of the world. Care in making is a watchword in the Reach Factory. Every mitt and glove must be just right, right the moulds to hold the ball fast, for every Reach Mitt and Glove is fully guaranteed in gratification. It's safe to say that Reach goods can be found in almost any sporting goods outfitter's stock. Commencement Week Program.

The official Commencement Week program is now in preparation, and will be issued about June 1st. It will contain as usual details of University exercises, announcements of class and departmental reunions, club and society meetings, etc. Full information is described to the date, time and place of these meetings, and also the names and addresses of the directors of committees in charge of the various events. Applications for data in writing to Edward Robins, Assistant Sec-

tary of the University, not later than

May 15th, in order that correct announcement may be made in the compiled program. The University Senate will be preached on Sunday, June 13th, Monday, June 14th, will be Class Day; Tueday, June 15th, Alumni Day, and Wednesday, June 16th, Commencement Day.
