LES FOURBERES DE SCAPIN.

Moliere's Comedy Given by the Cercle Francais as its Twelfth Annual Play—Folowed by Dance.

"Les Fourberes de Scapin," was presented last evening by the Cercle Francais and the play proved to be one of the most amusing performances witnessed by this club.

The play was given in the New Century Drawing Rooms on South Twelfth street and was assisted by the prominent society people and enthusiastic University students.

"Les Fourberes de Scapin," by Moliere, is a clever and ridiculous little farce of wits and passages and intricate situations. The humor, in fact, is one of the best. It has many flights of fancy, in which he always manages to get the best of his opponents and turns the joke on them by his ready wit. R. White, '22, had the part of Maleine, and his performance was well attended to.

T. Slapak, '22, as Gercote, an old miser, was especially good, showing the necessary performances. Sasburner as Octave also carried his part well. The whole cast was good, and we hope to see this play again.

We recognized as undergraduates that we were, while it in turn clings to her base gray walls—and treasures it as a mother cherishes the tiny vestments of a child, gone to a larger and greater world.

But the Ivy fulfills a greater duty. It is a habit developed by the pressures of college life. This gentle reminder, recall Incident! Class, stone and ivy, and Spurred by wander, unconsciouslv perhaps, to blend with dim, faded memories of uncles, holding it close to her heart, as it were, while it in turn clings to her.

COLLEGE MEMORIALS

Commencement is drawing near. To those of us who are seniors, it means at once the happiest and saddest days of our college careers. We have formed our lifetime's friendships, and have consolidated the preparations for our life's work. In a few short weeks we shall join the host of "old grads." We shall never all that for four long years has been near and dear to us. We shall take away from Pennsylvania youth sweetened by manhood under the ever watchful eye of our Alma Mater. What can we leave in return?

In the greater events of graduation, Commencement, Class Day and Senior week we are apt to underestimate another event, a custom old in the annals of Pennsylvania, but one which will endear the old college halls to us in the Department of Medicine will be held here at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon on the Wednesday, May 5th. The examination will be both written and oral.

Applications for appointment as Resident Physician are desired at the Pennsylvania Hospital at Philadelphia. The hospital has lately set up an addition and there is a good chance for a young physician.

The Michigan tennis team will take a trip East this spring and will play matches with many of the eastern colleges. This shows the ever-increasing popularity of the sport.

The Junior Class of the Iowa College of Law held a mock trial a short time ago to judge whether or not Markham was guilty of the murder of Hamilton. After two and a half hours the jury brought in a verdict of guilty and fixed the penalty at life imprisonment.
