Mormonism" is Title of Lecture to Be Delivered Tuesday Afternoon in Houston Hall by Dale H. Parke, '09 L.

When Dale H. Parke, '09 L., delivers his talk on "The Book of Mormon" this afternoon in the Houston Auditorium, a new custom will be instituted at Pennsylvania, for this is the first time the series of addresses by undergraduates, which span over the remainder of the present college term and will in all likelihood be continued next year, though in another form. The present series includes also addresses by Samuel Rosewell, '09 L., who will speak on "Maurice Masterman," the France-Belgium War, and the German unemployed, which will be instituted at Pennsylvania, for this academic year. The Bellean dramatist, and T. C. Francis, '09 L., will also take part.

The Book of Mormon will be read in light of a background for To celebrate the third annual banquet of the combined publications.

The presentation of the combined publications, which are conducted under the auspices of The Pennsylvania, and carried on by members of the Freshman class, has been extended to the students cultural benefits not provided for in the regular course of study.

Edward Burton Robbinette, Editor-In-Chief of The Pennsylvanian, will address the audience at the meeting and introduce Mr. Parke. Mr. Parke, who is a made-up student, has been a member of the Varsity Debate Team at Pennsylvania for three years, and has won honors in his class, and is well known as a speaker. Last year he won the Francis Prize of Fifty Dollars for his contribution to his class year and for his remarks to a historical review of The Pennsylvanian. Mr. Parke has expressed his appreciation of the efforts of the committee that arranged the current banquet.

Edward Burton Robbinette followed his commentary with a remarkable plea for the rejuvenation of the "Book of Mormon." He drew attention to the fact that college men should read the book before they strike out in the world. He attributed the lack of literature in this line of work to the fact that the college graduate is not equipped with the necessary literary attainments as he would one of the "Varsity Debate." The speakers of the "Book of Mormon" greatly regretted this and showed the great importance of keeping the art of writing intact, both for the sake of the art and the sake of the writer.

Professor Quirk spoke of the book in a lighter vein, but approached serious subjects at times. However, the speakers were Edward Burton Robbinette, Editor-In-Chief of the "Book of Mormon," and W. A. Barrett, Editor-In-Chief of "The Red, Blue, and Yellow," and "The Punch Bowl."

Prescott Harrison surprised the dietes by appearing about ten o'clock, and conducted the business of the committee that arranged the banquet.

The attendance at the meeting was poor, but the excellent speeches, the modern literature, and the interesting information that was given, offereed much entertainment.

No change in the Crew.

Daily crew practice has been held with no changes in the series of boats. Wilcox has taken Towne's place at the bow of the second boat, and Butler has taken the third seat. The Freshman Central High School race will be arranged in speed by Professor Hermann at his gymnasium. Professor Hermann has been working for some weeks past and are in very good condition.

The Varsity men will go to the training table for the rest of the week and the Freshman crew men for dinners only.

Cricket Game This Afternoon. A meeting between a Pennsy and an eleven of Haverford College and Pennsylvania will take place at Haverford on the 8th. The following will leave on the 5.12 train for Haverford: O'Conner, Wieder- helm, F. H. Gehman, E. Wood, Dean, C. Van Nest, Charles, Behrman, Bocking, Brogden, Strasser, and Dickson.

First Freshman Crew Notice. The members of the first Freshman crew have been elected for the only dinner meeting, May 3d.

EDITORS DINE AT MAJESTIC.

Professors Weygandt, Schelling, Quinn and Weygandt dine at the Majestic.

Many entries for the Annual Games on Franklin Field. Many prizes offered for Every Event.

With the baseball team in New Haven and the cricket eleven at Elmira, and student interest in the University, the league will revert to the annual baseball Handicap, which will be held on May 13th.

This will be the first outdoor appearance of all the candidates for "The Varsity team, and the undergraduates will be enabled to express opinions as to just how much chance Pennsylvania has to figure in the intercollegiate.

Not only is this meet for men who have been out for track during the year, but for everyone who has ability of any line of track or field sport. First-class athletes have previously found nothing more to consider themselves seriously as candidates for "track," and Travers Murphy is very anxious that a large number of men shall enter the meet. He will arrange the events so as to give those who have not been out for the track some chance to have a fair chance against the old men.

In addition to the events one or two new events will receive their first trial in the major events of each of the classes. The first place in each event will be awarded on a oak shield, while the second and third places will be awarded on oak plaques.

New men from every class and department of the University are eligible and accustomed to take part in the events which have been made before P. M. today in the track room dressing room. A prompt notice is given to all to come and see what he can do.

The events follow: One hundred yards dash, two hundred and twenty yards dash, three hundred and fifty yards run, half-mile run, one-mile run, two-mile run, high jump, broad jump and pole vault.

Gymnastic Exhibition.

With about six thousand spectators in the stands, the annual varsity meet will be held on the Field of the Gymnastic Exhibition Slide. The events were as follows: The weather was unseasonably cold, and the shivering forms were a fantastic effect. The words, "Combined Publications," were outlined in a lighted form in the auditorium of Toomanster F. L. Ballard. An attractive menu and a neatly bound volume of the combined publications were given speeches.

Professor Schelling was the first to make his presentation of the evening, and continued his remarks to a historical review of the publications. Mr. Parke, the editor-in-chief of The Pennsylvanian, published by the Philomathian Society, which is conducted under the auspices of the University Pennsylvania was established.

On Tuesday, May 10th, the annual track meet between the Sophomores and Freshmen will take place on Franklin Field. This meet counts as the third point in the fight for the Dean's Trophy, for which only a very keen contest is expected. The Sophomores are very eager to win against the Freshmen, and if they win any one of the next three contests to be held, they will land the coveted trophy.

Both Sophomores and Freshmen will be handicapped, as men from the Law, Medical, Dental and Engineering Departments are ineligible. At the same time there are so many good horses in the other departments that it is certain to be an exciting event.

-interesting Addresses in Philo-

COMMUNICATION.

Editor of The Pennsylvania.

Dear Sir,—We as Pennsylvania men should feel proud of such a well equipped Library as we possess. However, we do not manifest our appreciation of it. The reference room, which is intended as a quiet and orderly place for study, is usually just the opposite. It is unreasonable to hope that we can make this room a quiet place for study when we realize that the library and reference rooms of neighboring women's colleges are never filled with more than a whisper.

I would suggest that the students who use this room should consider more the comforts of others and if, upon seeing a friend in the room, think that he cannot remain quiet be sure that he should increase the distance between them.

ELECTION.

THE PENNSYLVANIA takes pleasure in announcing the election to the honor as Associate Editor of Dr. D. How, '12, and H. M. Kleswetter, '12.

UNDERGRADUATE LECTURES.

This afternoon will see a new branch of student activity introduced into Pennsylvania. No other college in the country has yet essayed undergraduate addresses, and it remains to be seen whether the innovation will be successful here.

Capable men have been chosen from among the student body to deliver these talks, and if the interest of the University at large can only be aroused, they are certain to be successful.

Do not think that because a man has not as yet received his degree he cannot have the ability to speak and write intelligently. Some splendid effusions have been made by college undergraduates; and, indeed, one of the leading plays of the day was written by a Harvard man in his Junior year.

If a man at Harvard can write so successfully, what reason can there be for advanced that would prevent a man at Pennsylvania from speaking successfully? The three speakers who will attempt this experiment are well versed in their respective subjects and are experienced debaters. With proper student support they cannot help meeting with unsolicited approval.

Let the undergraduates turn out to force this afternoon, and we feel cert-tain that they will have a pleasant surprise in store for them.

Intercollegiate Swimming Meet.

The Middle States Intercollegiate Swimming Championships will be held in the Weightman Hall swimming pool Saturday, May 15th, at 3 P. M.

Delaware State Club.

There will be a meeting of the Delaware State Club this evening, at eight o'clock, in Houston Hall, L. L. Layton, Secretary.

Botanical News.

Tomorrow the Botanical Society of Pennsylvania will make an excursion to Tifereth and Lawrence. The leader will be Dr. Kront, and those who go on the trip will take the Darby car which leaves Broad and Walnut streets at 11:30 and transfer at Darby Road for Tifereth. The return fare is Twenty-five cents. The series of excursions and meetings has been planned as far ahead as next October.
