REAL MUSIC STUDENT NIGHT

Combined Clubs to Play in Gymnasium—To Be Followed by a Dance. Will Be a Great Success.

Student Night! Night will be observed for the first time by the Combined Musical Clubs, who will give a concert to-night in the Gymnasium. The Combined Clubs have had a most successful year, and have traveled all over the state on their several trips. Their musical ability was never greater, and with the help of the well selected program, tonight’s concert will doubtless be a banner affair. The program: Instrumental Clubs: "Panthakite," Koli Club; "Jalala," Mandolin Club; "Stradella;" Phlegm, with the following well selected music.

THE PENNSYLVANIAN

OUR MUSIC STUDENT NIGHT

The combined musical clubs will give a concert tonight at eight o’clock in the Gymnasium. The program will include a variety of music, ranging from the classic to the modern. The Philadelphia Colemen will be performing their latest composition, "Philadelphia Spirit," which is sure to be a hit.

CONCERT COMMITTEE MEETING

The concert committee for the Philadelphia College will be held tonight at 8:00 o’clock in the auditorium of the Phi Kappa Kappa Beta. The committee will consist of Edward Burns, President; H. I. B. Aber, Secretary; and F. W. Diller, Treasurer.

Southern Debaters to-night

For eleven years George Washington University was undefeated in debate. When the southern debating society sent a team to Washington last year that could not be drowned. This year the seasoners agreed in Philadelphia for the first time, and will try to secure revenge for their defeat. "We solved. That woman be the right of the suffrage," is the wording of the question, with the chivalrous Washingtonianness defending the affirmative. Their team will be Kenneth Taylor, "11 L," Norris Graves, "12 S.," and David A. Bower, "10 C.," while Zeta’s arguments against suffrage for women will be advanced by Robert E. Mart, "11 C.," Theodore S. Carey, "10 C.," and Maurice B. Geddes, "10 C."

The debate will be held in Price Hall at eight o’clock tonight.

The debate will be a brilliant affair. Zeta has now won seven debates in two years and may well be up against an unqualified enemy in debating at the University. In every one of these contests she has represented at least one man, who has never debated before. That much new material has been developed.

ARCHITECTURAL SOCIETY TRIP

The Architectural Society will take a trip to the church in Westminster on Thursday, May 20th. Train leaves Baltimore at 9:00 A.M., and returning leaves Westminster at 9:15 P.M. The trip is to be an important one. The afternoo will be a baseball game between the members of the architectural society and the first-year special juniors and sophomores. A planned ship will launch this year.

FRESHMAN CLUB DUES

All Freshman Clubs does for the second term are now payable. All clubs for which the men to vote next fall may be obtained by the following dues: Sophomore, $1.00; Junior, $1.50; Senior, $2.00; and President, $3.00. Civil Engineer, Tischman, Matthews, Harrison, and the first-year special juniors and sophomores. A planned ship will launch this year.

a losing pace, and I trust that no one will accept nomination for the presidency or run for any other office unless he is absolutely sincere and is willing to give up the greater part of his time in straightening things out and in transforming a dead office into an active one.

1899 COLLEGE.

Track Meets To-Morrow.

To-morrow is the date for three big meets in track and field sports in which Pennsylvania will figure. The Varsity will meet the Navy at Annapolis. This is the first dual meet of the year for the Red and Blue squad, and only a study of the candidates will be better known after this contest. The Navy has a very strong team this season, and experienced little difficulty in defeating Columbia last Saturday. The Navy has a top man in Carey, the sprinter, who is looked upon by many track critics as one of the best men in collegiate circles in the one hundred and two hundred and twenty yards dashes, as well as the quarter mile. The Navy team has had considerable experience in dual meets this year, having met and defeated both Columbia and Johns Hopkins. The strongholds of the Red and Blue team are in the hurdlers and W. C. Paull in the distance runs.

The Freshman team will also hold their first dual meet in the collegiate world tomorrow afternoon on Franklin Field, when they will meet the first-year men of Cornell. For this year the Red and Blue youngsters have been very successful, having defeated teams representing the combined high and preparatory schools of this vicinity. In both of these meets the Freshmen showed up very well, and every indication points to a very exciting contest with the strong Cornell team. With Burkett and Farrier in the high jump, Church and Smith in the four hundred and forty yards run, Haydock in the hurdles and Masters in the half mile, it seems that the first-year men will have a very strong team on the field.

Immediately after the Pennsylvania-Cornell Freshman meet there will be a contest between the Red and Blue teams from the preparatory schools of Philadelphia and the Immediate vicinity. This meet is managed by George Orton, '98, and is given up by the department of the Athletic Association as one of the most desired by men.

Quo's Address on China.

Y. C. Francis Q. Quo, '97, delivered the last of the series of undergraduate addresses before the freshmen in Houston Hall before a large audience of students, professors and visitors. His clever threats of American ideas as seen from the Chinese viewpoint completely won his hearers. He said in part:

American scholars differ materially from the learned men of the Chinese. Outside of the official sphere they have little or no knowledge. Wu Ting Fang at a recent dinner in Washington was recently sympathized with because his people had no literature. It may be interesting to his sympathetic hearers to know that the Chinese had a widespread literature while America's ancestors were dwelling in caves.

Confucius is the great religion of China, and while it is partly ethical, Christianity will have a hard time in taking its place. American missionaries have done much for China, far more than those of other countries, who in the main have been government agents and who have obtained concessions for their countries in an unfair manner.

Final Bi-Monthly Events.

The scholastic meet and the final bi-monthly swimming meet are the attractions of the present week. The swimming meet will be held at the swimming pool tomorrow night. The events will begin at eight o'clock. After the meet the captains for next year's swimming and water polo teams will be elected, and all members of this year's teams should be on hand to vote.

Medical News.

A few students desiring work during the summer in the Neurospy Department of the Philadelphia Hospital can be accommodated by writing to Dr. Spiller.

The date of the annual competitive examination for four positions on the house staff of the Fordham Hospital has been changed from Wednesday, May 6th, to Saturday, June 6th, at 1 P.M. The examination will be written and oral.

A competitive examination for two interns will be held at St. Barnabas Hospital, corner of High and Montgomery streets, Newark, N. J., on Monday, May 24th, at three o'clock. The service is for one year, six months of surgical and six months of medical.

Dr. Samuel McC. Hamli desires two students from the third-year class to work in his pediagstic dispensary in the Polyclinic Hospital during the months of July, August, and September. Those desiring such work will please apply at 1522 Spruce street between nine and ten o'clock any morning, bringing with them letters from the office of the Dean.

There are two vacancies on the house staff of St. John's Riverside Hospital, Yonkers, N. Y. One is for the full course of eighteen months from December 1st, and the other a six-months' course, terminating on December 1st. The man appointed to the short term will be housed on our own, and must have had some hospital work as substitute or otherwise.

Botanical News.

All persons having books out of the botanical library are requested to return them not later than Monday, May 31st.

The Botanical Society excursion tomorrow will be to Swainson and the valley of the Wissahickon Creek. The trip will be made in conjunction with the Philadelphia Natural History Society, and will be led by Mr. Kaiser and Mrs. Stevens. The party will leave Broad Street Station for Allen's Lane about 11 A.M. and return in time for the 1.14 P.M. train.
