Hundred Men Are Wanted for the Princeton Trip

MONSTER MASS MEETING IN TRIANGLE TO-NIGHT AT ONE O’CLOCK

OFF FOR PRINCETON TO-MORROW

Train to Tiger Town Leaves at 10:55.
Mass Meeting Tonight at Seven.
All Out to Cheer the Team.

Reservations for the special train which will carry the Pennsylvania delegation to Princeton to-morrow were made early yesterday, but there are still a few left, and those who desire to witness the game at Princeton should secure seats to-day from 12:15 to 3 o’clock at The Pennsylvania office.

The cost of the entire trip is but little, including refreshment and a reserved seat in the Pennsylvania section at the game.

It is anticipated that as many men as possible will accompany the team and help cheer the Red and Blue on to victory.

A large delegation went up in the Jersey town last year, but the management is very anxious that a still larger number shall attend the game this year. Good cheerers have won many a game and it will be a big factor in case of the line to-morrow.

In order that the team may be given a proper send-off there will be held in the Benches Triangle at one o’clock this evening, what promises to be the biggest send-off ever made in the year. Players and coaches will be on hand and will be called upon for speeches. The University Band will furnish the music for the occasion.

Every undergraduate who hopes to see Pennsylvania land the intercollegiate championship this spring is urged to turn out and lend his encouragement to the members of the Varsity nine.

Following the mass meeting the committee having arrangements of the Princeton trip will sit out from ten to eleven o’clock at The Pennsylvania office, so that any new student or other college who can possibly be accommodated may secure the advantages of the special rate.

Much hangs on the result of the game. If Pennsylvania wins she will be entitled to claim championship in determining the intercollegiate champion-ship, and if the team keeps up its record of the ten games, it is hard to see how any other college can lay a prettier claim to the championship.

Baseball championships have been won by Pennsylvania, and Coach Thompson will be entitled to works of credit if he turns out a successful nine. A present Harvard is the only team that has a record that compares with the Red and Blue, but Crimson have not lost an important game this season. South Carolina, Princeton, and Yale have yet to meet Yale and Princeton have another game with Princeton that may result differently. Yale has won ten and lost eight games and has shown championship form so far. This is also the case with Princeton, whose team has been worry-ingly erratic.

Brown, Holy Cross, Georgetown and Virginia have played excellent ball at times, but all have suffered two or more defeats at the hands of the big colleges.

Cornell and Columbia are not up to the standard of former years, and can have no consideration in the running for the championship.

THE PRINCETON GAME.

The train for Princeton leaves Broad Street at 10:00 and West Philadelphia at 10:30 tomorrow. Tickets to be secured at The Pennsylvania office for $2.25. Include railroad fare, admission to the game and a seat in Pennsylvania's cheering section.

NINE STRAIGHT VICTORIES.

Pennsylvania's team has taken nine straight victories. One hundred and ninety victories, one hundred and fifty-two second prizes, one hundred and forty-three third prizes, and one hundred and fifty-two fourth prizes have been won by the Men's College cheerers this year.

Senior Singing.

Only a few members of the graduating class gathered last night at the senior force for the first staging of this year. Each night the Senior Class bands to congratulate about the gift of the Mask and Wig Club and pass a half hour in song. Although last night's gathering was small, the presence of good voices gave spirit and life to the singing.

The Zelmochic Society will hold an extraordinary examination for Junior Class members to form about this gift of the mask and Wig Club and pass a half hour in song. Although last night's gathering was small, the presence of good voices gave spirit and life to the singing.

THE PRINCETON GAME.

Today is the last opportunity for the undergraduates to signify their intention to attend tomorrow's game. Everything has been arranged whereby anyone with the mere assistance of means may plan the trip to Princeton. It is now up to the students to realize the importance of this contest and turn out in numbers.

Pennsylvania has at last placed itself foremost on the intercollegiate baseball field, and victory tomorrow will give her a position second in none. Nine straight victories over the leading universities of the East is a record that no other nine has achieved, and we justly feel proud of our baseball team. Its work is deserving of the highest recognition from every student, and the way in which we appreciate the efforts is by leading it our unified support.

We know that examinations are but a week off and the men are occupied with study and work, yet we feel that everyone who has that Pennsylvania spirit will sacrifice a little of his own interests in behalf of those who have sacrificed so much for Pennsylvania's honor.

It is needless for us to repeat what Princeton's reputation is on her own diamond. They have been compared before but only when a victory did not mean a championship, so that today's contest is of vital importance, for the outcome will practically decide Pennsylvania's position in the baseball world.

Let every man realize the importance of this contest, attend the mass meeting this evening, when the members of the team and coaches will speak, and turn out for tomorrow's game and help bring a championship to Pennsylvania.

Death of Mrs. Edward Welsh.

Early Friday morning, May 16th, occurred the death of Mrs. Edward Welsh, daughter of Henry Nixen and Martha Morris, of Linneweed fame. Both Robert Morris and John Nixon, father of Henry, were Trustees of the University. While the latter was chosen to read the Declaration of Independence to the people of Philadelphia in 1776, Mrs. Welsh was a woman of unusual force of character and administrativeness, a devoted mother, and in her death, Philadelphia has lost one of her most beloved daughters.
