MASS MEETING FIRES TEAM TO WIN DESPITE HANDICAPS

various is in marked contrast to this. Starting in with material which was not up to the usual standard, they were required to fill the vacancies of seven veterans, among whom were some of the best football players in America.

Football Generals Smith and Malford have had an exceptionally hard proposition before them, and, after successfully rounding a team into shape, have been forced to constantly shift the line up because of injuries which upset all their calculations.

Nearly every player is bruised and battered. Cozens has a very lame shoulder, but is plucking sticking to his task; Burns' knee is still troubling him, and should Young enter the game to-day, it will be with a broken hand.

The absence of Crooks, who is crippled with rheumatism, caused the placing of Captain Miller at end and Thayer at quarter. Pike's absence of form has caused further setbacks. Ramsey will have a chance today to show whether he can keep up Hutchinson's standard at full-back. With the speed of Miller and Bradock at the ends and Ramsey in Dan's position the team should be able to pull off many plays around the ends, as Rommer and Heisman have always themselves capable of holding their own at the half-back positions. "Ask" Thayer may be depended on for drop kicking and will doubtless make the most of his opportunities. The teams will line up as follows:

Today the Freshman eleven will play the fourth game of its schedule, when it meets the Hotchkiss team on the latter's ground, at Lakeville, Conn. Hotchkiss is reported unusually strong, and the struggle this afternoon should prove a severe test for the 1912 team. Last year Pennsylvania's 1912 team defeated the Lakeville boys by a score of 180. The Freshmen have evidenced good play in several of the games, nevertheless winning from Hotchkiss was a very hard game.
